

QUOTATIONS

"Character is the capacity to conduct one's self with restraint in time of prosperity and with courage and tenacity when things do not go well."—James V. Forrestal.

"This nation, under God, will have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."—Abraham Lincoln.

"There is more power in the open hand than in the clenched fist."—Herbert N. Casson.

"Education today, more than ever before, must see clearly the dual objectives: Educating for living and educating for making a living."—James Mason Wood.

"The supreme happiness of life is the conviction that we are loved."—Victor Hugo.

"It looks like the war is over. Cease firing, but if you see any planes in the air, shoot them down in friendly fashion."
—Admiral William F. Halsey.

"Young people don't know what age is, and old people forget what youth was."
—Irish Proverb.

"It is not enough to do the right thing, it must be done at the right time and place. Talent knows what to do; tact knows when and how to do it."
—W. Matthews.

"No one is useless in the world who lightens the burdens of it for anyone else."
—Charles Dickens.

"The nation and the world are on the threshold of prosperity and a standard of living that never before was considered possible."
—Henry Ford.

"I have had more trouble with myself than with any other person I know."

—Roger Babson.

Wildlife Club Will Meet On Nov. 2nd.

The next meeting of the new Transylvania Wildlife club will be held in Galloway's cafe in Brevard at 7:30 p. m. November 2, with President Frank Patton presiding.

This club was organized for the purpose of restoring and conserving the wildlife and other natural resources of this county. In a recent meeting of the club held on October 6, the articles and by-laws were read and adopted.

Many of the company employees have indicated their interest in participating in such a club and they are urged to attend this next meeting. Annual dues are $2.00 per year.

O, BLISS

Mrs. Gray: "You're looking very happy this morning. Have you had good news?"

Mrs. Jay: "Wonderful. My husband has broken down and we're going to Palm Beach for the winter."

There's Nothing Better Than A Chicken At Camp Sapphire

Here is a group of Ecustans who attended the Maintenance Department picnic which was held at Camp Sapphire several weeks ago. You can see by the expressions on their faces that they are really enjoying the swell barbecued chicken that was prepared by "Uncle" Sammy Allison and his assistants.

FOR VARIETY'S SAKE

A party motoring through Idaho came upon a lonely shepherd high up in the mountains and asked what he did to amuse himself.

"Oh, I hold up motorists and rob 'em," replied the shepherd.

"But aren't you likely to be arrested and sent to jail?"

"Nope, I do it this way. Ye see this hairpin bend in the road? Well, I hold up the people right here, and then when they go on, I duck over the hill, take up my mask, put on my badge, an' meet 'em down at the bend. 'I just caught the fella that robbed ye,' I sez. 'Here's yer valuables.' There's no danger in it, and it's kinda excitin'."

BRAINS

A gentleman came into a barbershop with a small boy one day and explained that since he had an appointment in the neighborhood he would like to have his own hair cut first. This accomplished, he handed the small boy up into a chair, urged patience upon him, and departed. When the boy's haircut was finished, the gentleman had not returned.

"Don't worry," said the barber reassuringly. "I'm sure your father will be back soon."

The boy looked startled. "He isn't my father," he said. "He just came up to me on the street and said, 'Come along, let's both get a haircut.'"

PRIVILEGED

Patron: "May I have some stationery?"

Hotel Clerk (haughtily): "Are you a guest of the house?"

Patron: "Heck, no! I'm paying $20 a day!"

CONVENIENT

A gallant young husband was trying to teach his new and nervous young wife to drive a car.

They were on a narrow country road and the wife had been driving for only a short time when she exclaimed:

"Take the wheel quickly, darling—here comes a tree!"

WHAT A SURPRISE

The city girl was spending her vacation in the country and became friendly with a farmer boy. One evening they were strolling across a field and saw a cow and calf rubbing noses in the regular bovine fashion.

"Oh," said the boy, "that sight makes me want to do the same."

"Well, go right ahead," said the girl. "It's your cow."

CAREFUL

The cook anxiously asked the maid when she came back to the kitchen what the family thought of her dinner, for it was the first meal she had served in the house.

"Well, I didn't hear a word about the food," said the girl who was also new in the house, "but they prayed before they began to eat."

AMBIGUOUS

At a dinner party one gentleman, arriving late, found a seat reserved for him near the head of the table, where the goose was being carved. "Ah," he exclaimed, with a pleasant smile, "I am to sit by the goose." Then observing the lady on the next chair, he made haste to add, "I mean the roasted one, of course."

INITIATIVE

Little Mary was left to prepare lunch, and when the mother returned with a friend she noticed Mary had the tea strained. "Did you find the lost strainer?" Mother asked.

"No, Mother, I couldn't; so I used the fly swatter," Mary replied. Mother nearly swooned; so Mary hastily added: "Don't get excited, Mother, I used the old one."

BY GOSH

Once upon a time an honest man found himself answering the medical examiner as the latter went through a long list of questions on family history furnished by the insurance company.

He gave his mother's death at 43, of tuberculosis, and his father's at 39, of cancer.

"Bad family record," said the doctor. "No use going further," and he tore up the application blank.

Impressed by the lesson, and knowing that one shouldn't make the same mistake twice, the honest man applied for a policy in another company.

"What was your father's age at death?" he was asked.

"He was 96."

"And what did he die from?"

"Father was thrown from a pony at a polo game."

"How old was your mother at death?"

"She was 94."

"Cause of death?"

"Childbirth."
