

Five Year Service Club Tournament Results Announced

The first bowling event of the Five Year Service Club which is also the first of athletic events of the Club, got under way Tuesday evening, March 12th. It was carried over to two additional nights, March 14th and 15th.

The attendance was about 13 per cent of the membership, there being 6 members of the fair sex and 60 men.

Due to the small attendance of the ladies, it was necessary to let them roll singles and the men doubles.

There were prizes awarded to the winners for the ladies' event, and the winners were as follows:

First—Ann Misenheimer, 363.

Second—Marie Nelson, 315.

Third—Mary Sue Thorne, 280.

Fourth—Inez M. Summey, 275.

Fifth—Gladys Teague, 253.

The sixth contestant, Donna Wright, "also ran," but we do want to say to Miss Wright that we appreciate your presence and wish you "better luck" next time out.

The high individual games for the ladies were as follows:

First—Ann Misenheimer.

Second—Marie Nelson.

Third—Mary Sue Thorne.

As there were so many more of the men who competed, the committee decided to award prizes to the 8 leading teams, and the winners of the prizes were as follows:

First—Everette Whitmire and James F. Williams, 929.

Second—Bruce Reynolds and Raymond Bullock, 927.

Third—William G. Ball and Ray J. Beddingfield, 923.

Fourth—M. M. (Sam) Matthews and Robert L. Thompson, 856.

Fifth—Spud Carpenter and Ernie Kaltenbach, 855.

Sixth—Spencer Macfie and Pete Eberle, 841.

Seventh—Arthur Sentell and Wales R. Lankford, 837.

Eighth—Clyde G. Galloway and Charles Russell, 831.

The individuals having the highest sets were as follows:

First—Wales R. Lankford, 555.

Second—Wade M. Scroggs, 517.

Third—Conrad McClure, 515.

The individuals having the highest games were as follows:

First—Wales R. Lankford, 223.

Second—James F. Williams, 202.

Third—Frank Israel, 187.

and

Wade Scroggs, 187.

The teams having the highest games were as follows:

First—Reynolds and Bullock 345.

Second—Kaltenbach and Carpenter, 337.

Third—Whitmire and Williams, 334.

All the folks who attended this bowling tournament seemed to enjoy it, and many comments were made by the participants that they liked the idea very much. The committee is pleased to know this, as we can plan for a similar tournament during the summer months, however, the next time, we will use the "DUCKS" instead. So, ladies, get set for that next event, and if we can get enough of you ladies to attend, we will be able to make it a mixed doubles event, which should certainly provide plenty of competition and lots of fun.

Should you members have any ideas as to what you would like in the way of athletic activities for the Five Year Service Club, please make it known at our next REGULAR meeting.

Beguiling Date Dress Is Recommended

To capture that "little girl" look, combine a high, rounded neckline with organdy ruffling, soft shoulders that continue gracefully into cap sleeves, and a skirt of soft folds. Easy to make at home, this beguiling dress would be lovely in beige, icy blue, misty green or pale yellow. The simple seams and easy fitting of this style make it a "natural" for beginner-sewers. $25 BOND OFFERED FOR BEST EMBLEM FOR CLUB

By RICHARD LANDECK

In order to get this bond you do not have to save any soap wrappers or box tops. In fact, there is no work to this at all. The idea is simple. Get a piece of Ecusta Fine Flax writing paper, or any other paper will do, and a pencil—sit down in your quiet home, and in your spare time, just draw, sketch, or outline legibly, a design for a banner or plaque that you think will be most suitable for the Five-Year Service club. In short, something that is significant of the Five-Year Service club. An emblem that will bring to the mind of any person seeing it, that it is the Five-Year Service club emblem. You may send in as many designs as you wish, just as long as each one differs from the other in some respect.

The contest is open to all employees of the entire plant, except the president and the board of directors of the Five-Year Service club. The board of directors will be the final judges for the best design. So come on and get busy, folks. An idea, a few well-placed lines on a piece of paper, and a few moments of work will get you a Twenty-Five Dollar Victory bond award as the sole prize.

Remember, the design must be original. Get to it now and swamp the judges with many good ideas for a design. Sign your name to your entries and just drop them in the special box at the GATE HOUSE, where Buck McCall and his boys will watch over them. Last month, they sure did a swell job watching the bean jar. So from now until April 15, 1946, midnight, we will let them guess how many suggestions there are in the box.

The deadline for the contest is midnight, April 15, 1946. The board of directors' decision will be made as soon after that date as possible. Their decision, we repeat, will be final. Neatness, of course, is an essential, as well as originality. Art, skill or precision will not be considered in the judging. Pen or pencil, a sheet of paper, a few minutes of your time and a good idea are all that are needed.

This month and to date, the Five-Year club has 551 members. The following people have returned from the Armed forces to Ecusta and to the Five-Year club as well. Welcome home, and welcome to the club: DeVere L. Hardin, William M. Case, Warren R. Alexander, Harold J. Fouts, Jerry D. Mann, Lloyd L. McGaha, Arthur H. Sentell, A. DeWitt Drake, Robert R. Bolt, James K. Wright and Warren W. Hooper.

Increasing our ranks are the following, who having completed five years of continuous service with the plant are: Lawrence D. Fisher, Harold F. McNeely, Sam A. Kent, Leo McGee, William M. Milner, Altus M. Ream, Robert C. Whitaker, James H. Dalton, Robert E. Wilson, Charlotte M. Barnwell, Fred G. Floyd, C. John McCall, Vernon H. Reese, Matthew A. Schlosser, Margaret A. Smith, Dorothy M. Conley, Jesse Gillespie, Samuel Williams, Robert W. Head, Bruce W. Pettit, Clyde C. Summey, Earl T. Fullbright, Walter L. Warren, M. Elizabeth Sprouse, Marie A. Whitmire, W. Howell Medford, Josephus G. Norman, Alfred J. Cheek.

The war is won, but the struggle goes on for the Red Cross dispensing mercy, relief and cheer on an international scale. American Red Cross missions, the service man overseas, the hospital, to the returning veteran, and to the civilian war abroad and disaster at home.

Transylvania County's Red Cross organization is the only one in the state known to be on a 100 per cent volunteer basis. These workers are paid no salaries, commissions, or even traveling expenses. Every dollar allocated to the local chapter is used for such purposes as loans and gifts to persons and their families; phone, telegraph and post expenses; and relief to victims of flood, fire or other disasters.

Of the $8,000 county quota, $450.00 remains in Transylvania County for local purposes. In this 1946 Annual Appeal, remember, it is YOUR Red Cross ladies failed to respond to the final turnout. The prizes were swell, and the few who attended had a grand time. A lot of fun to boot. What's the deal, girls? Bashful? As for men, they had quite a crowd. They took three nights running to get all the contestants to complete the tournament. Some of the new faces at the game, offering a bit of comedy, such as the ball behind, and the themselves down the alley. The oldtimers at bowling contributed to the fun by some unheard of scores, some unheard of alibis, and that we consider ourselves experienced bowler by any home score wasn't anything to be home about, either. Might have been Senator Clagborne's last Sunday night. Could we were bowling in the reaction. Should have been in South—I say South: that is. Anyway, the affair was good one and a success. Thanks to Pete Eberle and his efficient athletic committee for a swell. Perhaps the next mixed match will be a duck pin match and those bowlers a break.

Next issue of the Echo will feature Hank Newbury also reporting on the club column, whom we welcome heartily, and be more than honored and glad to read with. So look for an increase in newsier bits in the column. Hank's many versatile accomplishments, he has a line of that makes interesting reading.

The following Arrangements Committee has been appointed: President Luke Harrison, F. Keith Pooser, chairman, F. A. Sler, H. W. DeBord, J. F. A.

During the absence of the secretary, George Heyman, who is going to be away for about two months, President Luke Harrison has appointed Walter C. Ash as acting secretary and J. O. as acting chairman of the fare Committee.
