Inspection Dept. (B Shift)

By BUVEE CAPPS

Come on, folks, let's take a peep, and see what the spring fever is doing for "B" Shift.

We find that Craig S. has washed the mud off his car since the snow and ice have gone. He doesn't want anyone to be able to identify him.

Natalya B. seems anxious for Easter to come. Wonder if she has a new bonnet?

Gordon W. says the economical way to dig a basement under his house is to blow out the dirt with dynamite.

"B" Shift says "Congratulations" to Verna and Gladys on their recent marriage.

Building material is rather scarce, but we notice Raleigh W. is doing O.K. building a shelter—with non-vital material??

We notice Elma having his shoes half-soled lately. Wonder why?

Hazel P. seems to have acquired quite a vocabulary of words pertaining to house building.

E. Cagle has a new profession in the wood-hauling business.

Girls are sure having a hard time trying to convince David S. that they worked on the rewinders during the war.

Claude reports that he was hunting for his fishing equipment and found bluebird nests and moths that had grown to be butterflies.

Wanted—one wife with plenty of money for the upkeep of a good husband. If found, please notify Hubert B.

D. L. Thorne can't find a suitable place to spend his vacation. Too hot in Florida—too cold to visit the Eskimos.

Alice R. is patiently "waiting for the train to come in."

Ruby S. has decided to do house-keeping in their new home. We'll miss you, Ruby.

Sadie S. has stars shining in her eyes. (Can anybody find any information on this subject?)

Earl G. finds good fishing luck out around Wolf Mountain.

Bessie S. says, "Rainy weather makes people feel mighty 'droopy'." Bessie only has a bad case of spring fever.

Well, no pen, no ink, dumb brain, can't think—so, so long 'til next time.

"Us."

Minor Injuries Cause Loss Of Time

There are several outstanding reasons for this:

1. They are treated with contempt by most everyone.
2. They rank highest in frequency.
3. Because they are thought of as being simple—competent treatment is either neglected or postponed.
4. Commonly, the noticeable slight injury is covering up or masking a more serious injury which is coincidentally present, either in the immediate site or in some other area.
5. As a consequence of the foregoing, complications are unusually common.

In view of the above, it is advisable that all of us give serious thought to the importance of minor injuries being given the necessary treatment at once.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA IS ENTERTAINED AT ECUSTA

The members of the North Carolina Symphony orchestra are pictured above, with Dr. Benjamin Swalin, the conductor, standing at the right. Mrs. Swalin is beside him. On March 29, the orchestra gave three concerts in Transylvania county and was entertained at a luncheon here at Ecusta.

Letter From Manager Of Symphony Orchestra Expresses His Gratitude

Business Manager Says Society Appreciates Support And Co-operation

In a recent letter addressed to the Ecusta Paper Corporation from Kermit H. Hunter, Business Manager of the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Hunter expressed his gratitude to all Ecustans and to the company for their generous support of the concert here in Brevard.

Mr. Hunter stated in his letter: "Needless to say, the Symphony Society is deeply indebted to all of you for your generous and helpful contributions to the cause of good music in North Carolina.

"The most lasting good derived from the program of the North Carolina Symphony Society, other than the pure joy of listening to good music, is the knowledge that the money spent in this manner is this year bringing good music to more than 100,000 children all over North Carolina. What dreams will be aroused in their minds, what new worlds will be opened up to them that will pay vast dividends in the future, no one can say. We have found the children deeply responsive and greatly delighted, and feel that you will take pride in the fact that your memberships have helped in promoting this program for them."

The North Carolina Orchestra gave two children's concerts while in Transylvania county as well as the main evening concert at the Brevard high school at night.

DEHYDRATED, MAYBE

"I was reading that the Eskimos use fish instead of money."
"They must have a h. of a time getting gum out of slot machines."

Praises Recreation

MISS RONNIE SHEFFIELD, assistant director of the North Carolina Recreation Commission, visited Ecusta this month and highly praised the company's recreational program. "It is one of the finest I have ever seen," she declared.

BETTY LAUGHS

"How come you don't go with Betty any more?"
"Oh, I couldn't stand her vulgar laughter."
"I never noticed it."
"You weren't there when I proposed."

Champagne Stars

By BETSY ALLISON

Winter now has gone away
To be replaced by Spring
Our thoughts now turn to outdoor sports
And all the fun they bring.

The boys are out on the diamond
Getting in shape for their game
Who knows? We might have a winner
That some day might gain fame.

We have "Bobo Newsome" Wilkie
Standing at the pitcher's place
And "Dizzy Dean" Dockens
Holding down first base.

We have a famous catcher
"Babe Ruth" Riddle by name
And "Joe DiMaggio" Carter
Who plays a wonderful game.

We have a "Cooper Brothers" act
The Taylor boys at bat
With Weldon and Harold Misenheimer
Who knock "homers" at the drop of a hat.

We've bought a new player from the Dodgers
"Hank Greenberg" Clayton's no mouse
And last of all, but not least
The manager, "Connie Mack" Straus.

The world may have great baseball teams
Or even Venus and Mars
But the greatest chapter of baseball fame
Will be written by the CHAMPAGNE STARS.

WILDLIFE CLUB TO MEET

There will be an important meeting of the Transylvania Wildlife club next Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the courthouse, Frank Patton, the president, announced this week. All members of the wildlife club are urged to attend.
