MUCH PUBLICITY

Elkin Tribune, in Elkin, was high in praise of Ecusta, and his article in part read: "Ecusta employees are given every consideration and the company co-operates 100 per cent with the town of Brevard in every civic undertaking."

E. A. Resch, publisher of the Chatham News in Siler City, was impressed by the spirit of co-operation existing here. He wrote: "The massive Ecusta Paper corporation furnishes employment to nearly two thousand mountain folk . . . gainful employment amidst congenial surroundings. The workers enter into the spirit of the thing and they give the visitor a quick impression that they're enjoying themselves while they work and earn. And by the way, Ecusta saved the American cigarette industry during the recent war. American manufacturers had always secured their supplies from France. With war imminent it appeared essential to establish a source of supply in this country."

Miss Beatrice Cobb, publisher of the News-Herald, of Morganton, wrote:

"The Ecusta Paper corporation was host at our luncheon in their cafeteria, and the meal was followed by an enjoyable program, concluding with a tour of the big paper plant. Ecusta, we could readily believe, produces more cigarette paper than any other in this country and perhaps in the world, and also manufactures papers for a variety of other purposes. It was a very interesting experience to follow the process of paper-making from baled flax to the thin, white sheets. Our admiration and respect for Harry Straus, founder and head of the big organization was heightened and we were disappointed by his absence but the Ecusta officials and the Brevard newspaper people, headed by Publisher Ed Anderson, did a wonderful job of carrying on for him."

Many other of the leading newspapers throughout the state carried articles and editorials on Ecusta and Transylvania county, but space prohibits the reproduction of all of them.

THREE BOWLING

league will bowl on each Wednesday evening.

Teams from the following departments will make up the National league: Pulp Mill, Machine Room, Maintenance, Champagne, Control and Office.

The American league will be composed of Machine Room, Champagne, Refining, Power, Office and Research.

In the Ladies' league this year, competition should be much keener because of a year's experience. Last year, the Champagne team was almost unbeatable. Some of the teams will operate under last year's captains, while in other cases, other captains have taken over. Endless Belt will again be led by Nell Gallamore; Gladys Wirtz will pilot Finishing; Gladys Teague, a newcomer, heads Control; and Martha Taylor is the new captain of Champagne. The Office delegation will elect their leader on opening night.

FIRE PREVENTION

plies Ecusta with an abundant supply of water, it is imperative that destructive fires be kept at a minimum, Chief Finck stated. Hunters, sightseers and others who visit this area are requested to keep the fire danger ever in mind.

Cold weather is now approaching and with it comes the greatest danger to American life and property. In the fall months as the temperature goes down, the destruction of life and property goes up.

The reason for this is apparent. As soon as cool weather begins people begin operating plants in their homes and factories do likewise to furnish comfortable working conditions. Many stoves and furnaces are not in safe condition and efficiency are low in efficiency.

need to be cleaned and checked for worn or damaged parts. Mr. Finck suggested that compliance with the following will tend to prevent fires in the home:

1. Don't leave children in home unattended.
2. Don't leave matches within the reach of children.
3. Don't smoke in bed.
4. Don't use gasoline or inflammable fluids for cleaning the house.
5. Don't use coins or metal, to "bridge" a burned fuse.
6. Don't be an amateur electrician and tamper with the wiring in your house.
7. Don't pour hot ashes into wooden boxes or barrels.
8. Don't use kerosene to start quicken fires.
9. Don't leave electrical appliances unattended with the current turned on.
10. Don't run electrical extension cords under rugs.

Good housekeeping pays dividends.
