

Left, Joseph Battista, concert pianist who was the feature-artist on Sunday, August 22, admires the talent of 12 year old Ryan Edwards, a music camp student who is already composing. One of Ryan's compositions was played by the camp orchestra at one of the summer concerts. Battista, only 25 himself, is recognized as one of the outstanding young pianists in the country.

MUSIC FESTIVAL

Lower left, Mary Bothwell, soprano, thrilled the audience on Saturday night, August 21, with her Wagnerian renditions. She is shown with Director James Christian Pfohl in a picture taken after the concert. Right, Frances Yeend, also a soprano, sang Friday night, August 27, and like the other artists appearing on the Festival program, was called back time and again for encores.