

The
A. B.
College
Annals
Blind

Vol. R-1 Asheville-Biltmore College, Asheville, N. C. No. R-2
October 29, 1959

CLASSICAL COEDS' TEA

The Faculty-Student-Parent Tea, sponsored by the Classical Coeds, was held Sunday, October 25. There was a good turnout for the occasion and it was termed a "complete success".

The tea was held in the Assembly Hall and guests were served punch, cakes and cookies provided by Club members. The reception provided an excellent opportunity for the faculty, students, and parents to become better acquainted with each other. Congratulations to the Classical Coeds for a job well done.

WORD FROM UPSTAIRS

One hundred and forty-six parking permits have been issued to students and so far there have also been thirty-five tickets issued for unlawful parking.

Mr. Jenkins would like to remind students that all tuition is now due and payable.

NEW CAMPUS ORGANISATIONS

The Society for the Nonchalance of Better Students, (S.N.O.B.S.)

The Charlatans, whose motto is: "United We Fall".

The Tyre-somes, for campus automotive enthusiasts.

The Society for the Prevention of Faculty Delinquency.

Membership in all these organizations is by invitation only, but anyone interested will be contacted very shortly.

There will be more about these groups and their activities as it is received.

FROM THE DRAMATICS CLUB

On October 25 the Dramatics Club in cooperation with Better Speech Month and under the direction of Miss McGhee presented a program on WLOS Radio called "Comedy of Danger". The story was centered around a young couple and an older man trapped in a Welsh coal mine. June Trantham and William Mills played the lovers, and Jerry McHone the older man. The production staff included Jane Floyd, Margot Greig, Tom Nix, and Steve Pinkerton.

The Dramatics Club is planning the Christmas chapel program, and "The Merry Wives of Windsor" for May Day.

For those interested in any phase of dramatics, there is a lot to be done and you are cordially invited to join the club.

FRESHMAN CLASS ELECTIONS

The Freshmen, carefully guarded by upperclassmen, cast their ballots this week and brought in tied votes. Whether Alvin Carter or Glenn Powell will be President and Pat Wilde or Buddy Fletcher will be Secretary-Treasurer remains to be seen, but Tony Candler is the class Vice-President. One-to-a-customer balloting does not seem to work too well, does it

WHO'S SOCIAL?

Note these dates and events:

- 10/31- Hallowe'en Party by and for the Classical Coeds and dat
- 11/20- Weiner Roast and Barn Dance Sponsored by Miss Baker and Mrs. Wishart, open to all.
- 12/18- Christmas Dance, formal.