

SGA REPORT

By GEORGE BRYAN

The Executive Council has received the resignation of Miss Sally Bartoo, Secretary of the S.G.A. It was regretted by the Council that Miss Bartoo felt that she would not be able to continue serving the Student Body and the S.G.A. in her previous capacity. She has served the S.G.A. in a most commendable way since she took office in the Summer of 1965. Miss Leigh Stevens was unanimously elected by the Council to the office following her appointment by Ed Harris. The Council was also pleased to welcome as a member Miss Barbara Hudson, recently elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Freshman Class.

The position left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Linda Nelms from the Judicial Board has been filled with the appointment and election of Miss Sandy Ledbetter. Mrs. Nelms resigned her position due to unforeseen circumstances.

The Finance Commission report presented by Jim Day was tabled until more time would permit a further study on the rejection by the Finance Commission of using S.G.A. funds to supplement the Drama Department. Jim Day felt it to be unwise that S.G.A. funds be appropriated at this time to the Drama Department until a fairly close estimate on the expected enrollment for third and fourth term could be obtained. In the past S.G.A. funds have dropped sharply in these terms due to a drop in enrollment.

A formal statement on the duties of the new Student Center Manager was presented by Jim Day. The statement was accepted by the Council and went into effect immediately. It was announced that the Blood Mobile from the Asheville American Red Cross will be on campus January 10, 1966. The Council urges the Student Body to participate in the drive.

Dr. Highsmith addressed the Council on a long awaited and much welcomed topic . . . dormitories! The proposed plans were presented at this time and explained by Dr. Highsmith. The plans will remain in the S.G.A. office for two weeks in order to give all interested students a chance to see them. Ground breaking will begin on the new dorms in the Spring of 1966. The estimated cost per term for living in the dorms per student is eighty dollars.

Speaking of Christmas, the best to you and yours from your S.G.A.

RECORD ENROLLMENT IN U. S.

Cincinnati, Ohio — (I.P.) — A larger proportion of institutions have increases of 15 per cent or more in full-time students than was true a year ago, according to figures released here recently by Dr. Garland G. Parker, University of Cincinnati registrar and dean of admissions.

Although the freshman increase will fall short of the record 17 per cent rise of last year, Dean Parker said an expected climb of 10-12 per cent will give the nation a new high in first-year students. He predicts a record final count of approximately 800,000 freshman collegians in the four-year accredited colleges and universities and as many as 1.4 million across the nation as a whole.

"The bulging birthrate years of 1946 and 1947 account for the human potential out of which the bumper freshman classes of last year and this have come," Dean Parker noted.

"Under the impact of the oncoming rush of students surviving from last year's record class and the even greater total of incoming freshmen this year, the nation's institutions of higher education must prepare for much larger numbers in junior and senior levels in the next two years," Dean Parker warned.

"At the same time, on the trail academically will be two more entering freshman classes that will be equal at least to the present one.

"The educational world is agog with new plans and programs emanating from Washington, various state capitals, private sources, and local campuses. The enrollment figures for this year and next make it clear these new ventures and the resources underlying them will be sorely needed."

Basketball Round-up

... Upset Tusculum

December 3, this writer saw an inspired Asheville-Biltmore team roll to their third straight victory by upsetting the Pioneers of Tusculum, 82-72. The Bulldogs led the favored Pioneers from the start. It seems as if the shut-in feeling the dogs suffered at Greenville was counteracted by giving the Pioneers a "lost-in-space" feeling.

The Bulldogs, playing without starter Bill White, hit 57% of its shots to the shouts of 350 fans. Jim Baker again took scoring honors for the game with 26 points. It seems as if Baker has found his spot. Jerry Green took 20 points to the dressing room; Butch Garvin, 15; and Jim Zentz, 10. The game was tied many (seven) times, but outside-the-key accuracy and a clicking fast break gave the Bulldogs the victory.

The game was marred only by the bad sportsmanship of Tusculum player Fred Eschweiler. Eschweiler harassed Green throughout the game and in the face of defeat felt the need to take his emotion out on Jerry. However, forward Larry Roland and a few fans stopped him even though Roland got a bloody nose for his efforts.

Coach Hartman is to be congratulated for putting the Bulldogs in prime shape.

... Spin Tornadoes

Although this writer was unable to attend the basketball game at King because of an inopportune test, I understand the Bulldogs had their hands full. Because I did not attend, most of the text will come from the Asheville Citizen-Times. The Bulldogs, said one observer that did travel to Bristol, trailed most of the game but in the traditional A-B manner the game was forced into overtime by the steals of Baker and Garvin. With the score tied at 61-61, the overtime began. "Field goals by Green and White and two free throws by White gave A-B a quick six-point lead in the overtime . . . White accounted for seven of the 13 points scored by A-B in the overtime."

Jim Baker again led the Bulldogs scoring column with 23 points. Big Bill White — obviously recovered from the food poisoning that kept him out of the Tusculum game—made up for his absence by scoring 19 points. Garvin brought home 14 points, Green 9 points, Zentz 6 points, and Lindley 3 points. A-B collected 10 fouls and King College, 13.

... Keep Winning %

Although the Western Carolina Holiday Tournament at Roberson Gym was at first looked upon as a possible disaster for the Bulldogs, this did not come true. In the first game on Thursday night A-B faced Athens College, and lost. The 78 to 68 final score does not reflect the closeness of the game however. Both teams were noticeably off for most of the game and the score at the half was only 25-all. The generally sloppy ball played by A-B that night prompted many to believe the Friday night contest with Western Carolina would be a run-away for the latter. The 83-68 margin of victory for Western does not reflect the closeness of the game either. The Catamounts, who were never seriously challenged in any previous games this year, were in peril until the final minutes when their better bench strength wore down the A-B troops. Jim Baker kept the Western coach, Jim Gudger, sweating most of the night as he scored A-B's first 13 points and bucketed 26 for the night. The Saturday game was close again, but the Bulldogs came out on top 64-60 over Concord to preserve a 5-3 record at press time.
