Southern Assn. Ruling Blocks Student Voice In Athletics

A proposal for student representation on the college Athletic Committee has been tabled due to a ruling of the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges.

The ruling stipulates that the Athletic Committee is to be "under the supervision of the faculty," thereby eliminating the possibility of student representation of "full standing and voting rights."

"I favor student representation on the Athletic Committee," Dr. Kaempfer, Dean of the Faculty, said Wednesday, "but the students will be unable to vote."

The Student Government Association, with the unanimous approval of the Executive Council, submitted two alternative plans for incorporating student authority in the present all-faculty committee.

They are:

1) Maintain the present procedure and function of the committee but either enlarge it to include a sufficient number of student representatives or reduce the number of faculty members and augment that body with students.

2) Replace the present committee with a new Athletic Committee possessing a newly determined purpose and function and composed jointly of faculty and students.

Student representatives would be appointed subject to the approval of the Executive Council, by the president of SGA to serve for one academic year the proposal states.

N. C. State, A-B Join To Offer Engineering

A program leading to the Bachelor of Science Degree in Engineering Operations will be initiated by Asheville - Biltmore College and North Carolina State University at Raleigh this August.

Announcement of the program was made jointly by Dr. John T. Caldwell, chancellor of N. C. State, and Dr. William E. Highsmith, A-B president.

Students enrolling as Engineering Operations majors at Asheville - Biltmore would complete 79 semester hours of credit work at A-B, then take 49

There would be no less than two student representatives on the committee at any time.

SGA is a major financial contributor to the athletic program, estimating a $7,200 allocation for 1967-68.

"Students should be aware of how this money is used and should have some voice in determining its disbursement."

hours of work at Raleigh to complete degree requirements.

Engineering majors would attend Asheville - Biltmore on either a full or part-time basis until the proper 79 semester hours of credit have been acquired, then spend 13 1/2 months on the Raleigh campus to complete their degree work. The degree would then be awarded by N. C. State, where it is already a part of the curricula.

Announcement of the program was made after extensive study by both campuses, with representation N. C. STATE, page 4

Discussion, Balloting Scheduled For Tuesday

A faculty panel discussion and student referendum on Viet Nam is scheduled for Tuesday at 11 a. m. in the Student Center Auditorium, Dr. Sidney Mathews announced today.

The alternative program was proposed following the cancellation of Rev. Calvin Thielman's talk on Viet Nam Thursday. Twice an envoy to Viet Nam on official business, Thielman, the chaplain at Montreat-Anderson, is recovering from minor surgery.

"Viet Nam: What should be done about it?" is to be discussed by the six-man panel.

Dr. Bahram Farzanegan, assistant professor of government, and Mr. Bruce Greenawalt, assistant professor of history, will oppose the United States present position in Viet Nam.

Dr. Ivan Parkins, professor of government, and Dr. Phillip Walker, professor of history, will defend U. S. policy.

As the Ridgerunner went to press Dr. Sidney Mathews, professor of history, was "undecided" and Dr. W. W. Kaempfer, professor of government listed his position as "ambivalent."

Mr. William Cochran, Jr., career diplomat and lecturer in government, will moderate the discussion.

Five policies will be submitted to the students for consideration representing current stands on the war.

Used in the Chapel Hill Viet Nam referendum May 16, the policies are as follows:

Policy A: The United States should defeat the power of North Vietnam by widespread bombing of its industries, ports and harbors, and by land invasion.

Policy B: The United States should follow the present policy in Vietnam.

Policy C: The United States should de-escalate its military activity, stop bombing North Vietnam, and intensify its efforts to begin negotiations.

Policy D: The United States should withdraw its military forces from Vietnam immediately.

None of the above alternatives to Policy B accurately represents my position, but in general, I favor 1. escalation, 2. de-escalation, of the present U. S. effort in Vietnam.

The unofficial results at the University of North Carolina revealed that 2,024 students favor various degrees of de-escalation. Two hundred five students advocated complete withdrawal of U. S. military forces.

Slightly more than 1800 students favored escalation, including 731 votes for continuing the present policy of gradual escalation.

Dr. Farzanegan predicts little correlation of vote results between Chapel Hill and Asheville-Biltmore students.
