Millar's Folly

Super Weekend Begins Wed.

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Staff Writer

One of the biggest social events to hit the UNC-A campus in many a year begins this Wednesday. The event is "Super Weekend."

The fun all begins Wednesday with a double feature movie. The first movie will be "Yellow Submarine," starring the Beatles as cartoon characters. The second feature will be "Wild Strawberries."

On Thursday entertainer Ray Sisk will appear at the Coffeehouse. Free beer will be served.

Friday the K-ettes will sponsor a "50's" dance. Those attending are asked to dress in the style of the 1950's. A live band playing the hits of yesterday and free beer will highlight the evening.

Saturday is field day. Plans include a swimming contest, a beer drinking contest, tennis matches, bicycle races, soccer and speedball exhibitions, track events, and ping pong matches.

Prizes will be awarded and free beer will be served. Saturday night, the Black Student Association will host an SGA sponsored dance with the Inner Souls providing the music.

Questions on Liquor-by-the-Drink

Ten Western North Carolina counties have a direct interest in the Nov. 6 mixed drink referendum.

These are the counties-Buncombe, Burke, Cherokee, Haywood, Henderson, Jackson, Madison, Polk, Transylvania and Watauga-that have ABC stores.

The following is a series of questions and answers on mixed drinks and under what conditions they might be served, if the Nov. 6 referendum passes.

Q. Will passage mean open bars?

A. No. Only counties with an ABC store will be able to authorize mixed drink sales on a local option basis in certain restaurants, hotels, motels and social, recreational and patriotic membership clubs meeting state law criteria. A restaurant's primary income will have to come from food.

Q. If the referendum passes, how will a county become authorized to have mixed beverages?

Highsmith Outlines Plans For New Campus Forum

By PAUL KOZA
Staff Writer

At a joint student and faculty senate meeting held Oct. 9, Chancellor William E. Highsmith revealed plans for a new campus forum.

Highsmith said UNC-A needed an instrument with which we can have more effective means of communication. The campus forum would fill this need by creating an outlet for discussion by every person on campus.

The forum would have the right to make recommendations only. It would study an issue and make recommendations. The forum would also have ad hoc committees and open meetings.

Highsmith proposed that membership on the committee consist of the SGA President, the editor of the Ridgerunner, and two students named by the SGA senate; four faculty members consisting of the chairman of the faculty senate (Dr. Gerald Gullickson), the president of the campus chapter of AAVP (Dr. Shirley Browning), and two professors named by the faculty senate; four staff persons; four administrators, consisting of the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor for Academic Affairs, the Vice-Chancellor for Finance, and the Dean of Students.

The respective senates will approve, defeat, or amend the chancellor's proposals.

Jobs Plentiful For Students Needing Work

The following on-campus positions are available provided the necessary applications are filed with the Financial Aid Office and the applicant determined to be qualified:

Maintenance Department - ground work; one position.

Library - book sorting, filing and labeling; one position.

Social Science - clerical work; two positions.

Learning Resources Center - clerical and audio visual experience; one position.

Cafeteria - servers and dishwashers; two positions.

All of the above positions pay $2 per hour and allow 15 hours of work per week. Work schedules will be arranged around class schedules. Persons presently on a federal loan may accept one of these positions in lieu of the loan.

For further details contact Jim Almon in the Financial Aid Office.
