Who's Who Recipients Announced

By PETE GILPIN

Twenty-six University of North Carolina at Asheville students have been named to Who's Who among Students in American Universities and Colleges for the 1975-76 academic year.

The 26 were selected by a joint student-faculty committee on the basis of academic or extracurricular activity or both.

Their selection was announced by Paul T. Deason, dean of students.

They include: Miss Sharon Elizabeth Adams of Canton, a junior history maior and graduate of Pisgah High School. Miss Adams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams of Canton, is active in her academic area and is a member of Phi Alpha Theta honor society in history.

Gary Wayne Aiken of Swannanoa, a junior psychology major and graduate of C. D. Owen High School. Aiken, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Aiken of 325 Richmond Ave., Swannanoa, is president of Student Government at UNCA and has served as president of the Veterans Association.

David Glynn Anderson of 60 Terrace Rd., Asheville, a senior mathematics major and son of Mr. and Mrs. Dedia Anderson of Louisville. Anderson has been active with the campus radio station, WUNF-FM, Theatre UNC-Asheville and in his area of academic concentration.

Ronald James Baker of Hickory, a senior chemistry major and graduate of Beaufort, S. C., High School. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Baker of Hickory Rt. 3, has been active in UNCA's National Science Foundation studies of the Pigeon River and strip mining, is a chemistry lab assistant, aids with the Mossbauer Effect Data Index and is president of the Student Affiliate Chapter, American Chemical Society.

Western Uses UNC-A Facilities

By TOM WERNIKE

This fall Western Carolina University extension program moved from Oteen to UNCA. There are approximately 1100 WC students now using UNCA facilities. Some 151 of these students are taking courses taught by UNCA faculty and are considered as part of the UNCA enrollment, according to William Pott, UNCA Vice-Chancellor for Finance. Western Carolina programs at UNCA offer all the requirements for the masters degree in education, masters in business, B. S. in business, and some courses for degrees in industrial technology, nursing, and chemistry.

Roy Riggs, Vice-Chancellor for Academic Affairs, said in an interview, that the WC move was the result of a directive issued by William Friday, President of the North Carolina University system, after Friday met with the Chancellors of UNCA and WC. Riggs explained the reasons for the move as 1) the need to clarify the educational roles of the two universities for this area and the reduction of duplication of courses offered, 2) general cost savings and more efficient space utilization of UNCA facilities, and 3) improved edu-

Students broke out their 50's garb and Halloween costumes at the dance Friday night, Oct. 31. The band, Reunion, played a combination of 50's music and more recent pop dance tunes.

Under Questionable Circumstances

2 Students Evicted

By JACKIE STEPHENSON

October 27 brought a change in the living status of two dormitory students here at UNCA. Barbara Clayton and Dugan Lewis both received eviction notices from Dean of Students, Thomas Deason, in what has recently been termed as "questionable adjudication."

In a meeting called by Dean Deason, Ms. Clayton and Mr. Lewis were informed of the charges against them. Ms. Clayton had been previously notified in a letter dated October 15 from Dean Deason, that due to certain violations of University Regulations, she was to be put on probation. Ms. Clayton was charged with violation of this probation in the meeting called by Dean Deason.

Mr. Lewis was charged with being drunk and disorderly; however, the security guard who reported this violation failed to arrest Mr. Lewis at the time of the offense. As a result of the charges, the two students were evicted from the residence halls.

Both students readily admit their guilt to the charges against them; however, both the students involved and Student Government question the validity of the process by which the students were convicted.

Several meetings have been held during the past week by Student Government officials including one special Senate meeting. Student government officials maintain that the procedure by which the eviction decision was reached, violated the Student Government Constitution and the Constitutional rights of the two evicted students.

The elites of S. G. base their charges on the following facts:

1) The student court was not informed of Dean Deason's meeting as stipulated in the Student Handbook. (Indeed, the only student present,
