WUNF IS BACK

WUNF-FM, after an absence of four months, has returned to the air ways. The first day was October 24. Anne Sales had the first show, followed by Mike Manley, Gary Stone and Program Director Joe Levy. Due to a limited number of licensed operators, WUNF will be limited from noon to six p.m. broadcast day. The music format is still progressive, which means you will hear almost anything: jazz, hard and soft rock, folk, blues, blue grass and comedy. You will not hear current Top 40, however.

Although there has been a tremendous amount of work done to get the station back on the air, there is still much to do. Before the station can expand its hours, more licensed D.J.'s are needed. WUNF will teach what you need to know and take you to Atlanta to take the test. Also, now licensed personnel can be used in the news, music and production departments, if this sounds interesting, stop by the station and give a hand. With a little luck and a lot of work, FM could again be the fastest growing radio station in Asheville. Give us a listen at 88.1 on your F.M. dial.

Boogers Boogie to the Beat of the Band

The Halloween Dance last weekend was another fine party. Seven or so kegs of beer were consumed by a motley crew of bizarre creatures, many of whom were disguised as people.

Also consumed was the excellent music of Madcap, a fine, professional band that kept people on their feet with music that ranged from disco, rock-n-roll, The Beatles and beach. The only complaint was that the Halloween Dance was held a bit earlier than Halloween. At the end of the term, though, who doesn't need a party? Besides—you can always find something to do on Halloween weekend-like study.

This weekend will see a BYOB dance sponsored by the Black Students Association as well as a horror flick or two courtesy of Student Government.

Bergman Here Friday

ABC Television's science editor, Jules Bergman will speak Friday at 8:15 p.m. in UNC-Asheville's Carmichael Humanities Lecture Hall.

Bergman, whose film documentaries have ranged from computers to health problems, from earthquakes to sports injuries, will discuss "2,000 A.D.: The Way It Will Be."

Open to the public without charge, the talk is sponsored by UNC-A's Committee on Cultural and Special Events.

Bergman won an Emmy in 1974 for his writing and narration of "Closeup on Fire." His "Closeup: Crashes" was nominated the same year by the Writers Guild as the best-written script for a current event documentary.

He is the author of "90 Seconds to Space—The Story of the X-15" and "Anyone Can Fly" and is a recipient of the Aerospace Medical Association Special Presidential Award.

Bergman, who began his news career in 1949 with Time Magazine, completed a Sloan Rockefeller Advanced Science Writing Fellowship at Columbia, concentrating on space, rocketry, oceanography, astronomy and medicine.

Student Senate Meeting

Relief Committee Established

The Senate Meeting was called to order at 3:47 by Vice-President Thomas. Senators present were Skeele, Saunders, Putnam, Williams, Reed, Penland, Harvey, Kessler, Parham, Smith, and Brown. Others present were Eller, Parker, Branham, Bigelow and Cook.

Vice-President Thomas spoke to the senate concerning the NCASG Conference which 8 members of Student Government recently attended in Chapel Hill. The members listened to speakers on Financial Aid, and Desegregation in Higher Education, then broke up and attended individual workshops. Mr. Thomas said that the ideas and knowledge gained would be implemented in various areas of Student Government.

The senate then moved to consideration of Bill No. 13, Executive Appointment, sponsored by Branham and seconded by Parham. (Senator Smith entered at 3:52.) After a short discussion of the appointment of Donna Brown to the Recreational Facilities Committee, Senator Harvey moved the question and a vote was called. Bill No. 13 passed unanimously.

Bill No. 16, Hardship Relief Committee, sponsored by Smith and seconded by Brown, was introduced to the senate. This committee was established to aid Ruth Jones, an employee in the cafeteria whose apartment had burned. Senator Smith made a friendly amendment to add the words "ad hoc" after the word "special." Senator Smith then made a motion seconded by Senator Parham to suspend rules and consider Bill No. 16. The motion and the bill passed unanimously.
