The second half started with a tightening of their zone by UNC-A and trading baskets with Lenoir-Rhyne. Around the thirteen-minute mark though, Lenoir-Rhyne was back in their destroy offence and completely shutting down UNC-A again. UNC-A was plagued with numerous turnovers and giveaways, all leading it seemed to Lenoir-Rhyne lay-ups. With her team leading 76-56, Coach Pat Smith of Lenoir-Rhyne sent in her second team at the 9:47 mark. At 6:45, it was 88-60 and 92-62 at 5:17. Then Coach Smith went to a questionable strategy putting her first team back in. The question was answered when at the 2:28 mark, Lenoir-Rhyne scored their 100th point (100-66), then she put her second team back in; an otherwise flawless effort marred by their running up the score. To add insult to injury, UNC-A received a technical foul for six players on the floor with 2:16 left in the game. Finally, it was all over.

Number 30, Sally Reid, number 32 Donna Elred, and number 34 Brenda Harrison were the offensive and defensive players for Lenoir-Rhyne. They combined for 70 points with Elred the highest with 27 points, 16 rebounds, and numerous times responsible for UNC-A turnovers. Heather Harrison, the freshman from Canton, was the only bright spot for UNC-A with a performance that just wouldn't quit. She finished with 24 points, 16 in the disastrous 2nd half, and six rebounds. Her scrappy play was what helped the Bulldogs stay as close as they did. Phyllis Payne and Myra Sims had 10 each for the Bulldogs.

Coach Quinn, after the game, mentioned the numerous turnovers, bad shots, and poor inside play as a few of the reasons for the defeat. She stated that this game came after their best practice ever, that they just need to get it all together in a game. For the record, UNC-A is now 4-5, Lenoir-Rhyne evened their record at 5-5. The small crowd was 75.

UNC-A GIRLS LOSE

On Monday night, Jan. 8th, in Justice Gym, UNC-A's womens' basketball team suffered a humiliating defeat at the hands of Lenoir-Rhyne - 105-66. There is no other way to describe the game except by the old cliché that 'they were blown out' of the Gym.

The game started with UNCA in a zone. Lenoir-Rhyne attacked the weak side drawing out UNC-A and then finding creases and holes in the zone for easy shots. Lenoir-Rhyne used a very quick passing offence which let them penetrate easily.

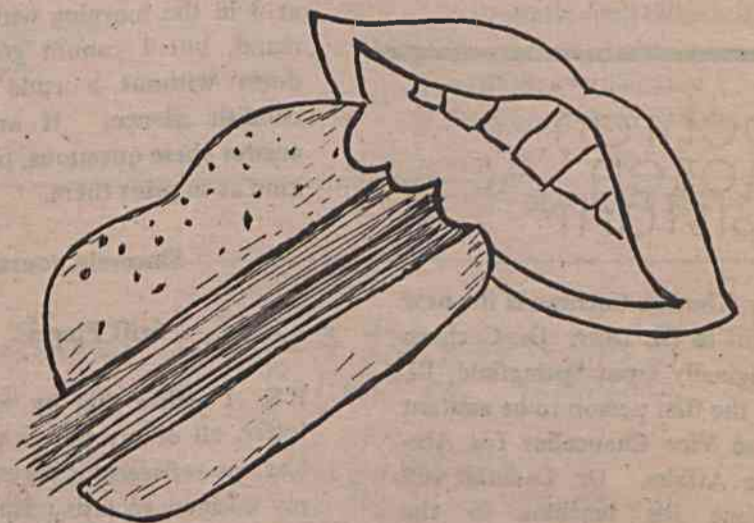

In all fairness, the game was close until 5:45 was left in the first half with Lenoir-Rhyne having a 13-point lead at 41-28. From then until the end of the half, Lenoir-Rhyne outscored UNC-A 14-4, leaving a score of 55-32 at the half. They tore the game open with repeated lay-ups and fast breaks. They operated their offence at will over and around UNC-A's front line, with UNC-A's center position totally ineffective. (Cont. at top)
