

The Barker

Need Money for Events? Look No Further!

WEEKEND EVENTS FUNDING
$$$$ Bring Your Ideas to Life! $$$$

Weekend Events Funding (formerly the Social Life Task Force) is a funding and advisement program designed to help campus groups and departments find extra dollars to help with ON-CAMPUS Friday/Saturday/Sunday programs and activities. The fund assists in developing a greater variety of co-curricular activities for students and the campus in general.

A small student/staff/faculty committee determines the level of funding for event proposals. The funds are administered through the Office of Student Life. Event production planning help, resources and services referrals are also available through this office.

We're looking for well-thought out EVENTS proposals with plenty of back-up information! Contact Bunny Halton-Subkis for applications. All deadlines and fund information will be printed every two weeks in the Bulldog Barker as well as posted on bulletin boards outside the offices of Student Life, DH second level.

Groups CAN ask for financial help with: performers'/speakers' fees or travel costs, their hotel costs; printing or ad placement costs; student wage money for tech help; decorations or event supplies that are not food; rental of equipment, films and more.

Weekend Events CANNOT fund: food for events; faculty, staff or student travel or hotel or registration to conferences.

DEADLINES

- Feb. 21, by 5pm Second Funding Round applications due in DH 226.
- Events to be held between Mar. 21-May 11, 2003.
- Second round allocations/notification will be made Feb. 24.

QUESTIONS? Bunny Halton-Subkis, Committee Chair, Asst. Director of Student Life, DH 234, 251-6674, bhalton@unca.edu

Bike Troubles?

Check out the Bike Learning Shop - Learn how to fix your bike from those who know! Open to Faculty/Staff/Students Mondays through Thursdays, 1pm-4pm. FREE! Questions? Email oeinfo@unca.edu or call 232-5658.

UNCA Celebrates Black History Month With a Variety of Programs

UNC Asheville will celebrate Black History Month throughout February with a range of special events. Programs are sponsored by the Office of Multicultural Student Affairs, the Office of Student Life, Cultural and Special Events, AASA, the Office of Diversity and Multicultural Affairs, the Literature Departments, the Music Department, the Women's Studies Department, and the UNCA Ramsey Library Special Collections Department. Events are open to the public and free unless otherwise noted.

Events include --

- February 1-28 -- "African American Voices of Asheville," an exhibit of text and images, will be on view in UNCA's Ramsey Library Third Floor Gallery. The exhibit features excerpts from interviews with African American men and women who experienced dramatic changes in Asheville during the 20th century, including the Depression, World War II, Integration, social upheaval, as well as everyday life. Collected by Dorothy Joynes and Sylvia Robin in the mid 1990s, these interviews are part of the UNCA Ramsey Library Special Collections' "Voices of Asheville Oral History Collection." In the exhibit, the interviews are paired with photographs from several of UNCA Ramsey Library Special Collections, notably the Heritage of Black Highlanders Collection and the Ewart M. Ball Photographic Collection.
- February 21 -- The final event in UNCA's Black History Month celebrations will be an evening with popular comedians Pat Brown, Double D and Shawty-Shawty at 8 p.m. in UNCA's Lipinsky Auditorium. General admission tickets are $7 and will be available at the door.
- March 1 -- "Phenomenal Women Speak," Women of color will come together to share their stories of how they made it over: at home, at work, in love, with their kids, and in the community. Several designated storytellers will get the conversation started, with the opportunity for others to join in and share their stories. Everyone is invited to come out to share in the experience in the Owen Conference Center, 5pm.

For more information, contact Samuel Williams, UNCA Multicultural Student Programs Director, at 828/251-6671.