ERIK PASSOJA

Erik Passoja is a native New Yorker, and he will talk about his painful childhood in his act as soon as he grows up. At 27, he still has hopes of reaching adulthood by 40. On an energy scale of 1 to 10, New Yorkers give him an 11, and L.A. residents given him a 2, because that's as high as they can count. A graduate of Yale University, Erik began and continues his rapidly-growing comedy career with a solid foundation as an actor, the area he considers his center. He continues studying acting technique in Los Angeles at the Eric Morris studio, and he has recently appeared on ABC's "The Beach Boys: An American Family" as none other than Charles Manson, and as The Sorcerer in "Charmed," on the WB.

DAVID J NASH

David J Nash

With over 350 colleges served, David J Nash is a proven hit on campuses all over the USA. Always clean and never mean, he jokes about his own experiences growing up and going to college. With a bit of research and a little help from students, David J performs comedy on your campus about your campus. Last July, David J was named best new face at the Montreal Just for Laughs Comedy Festival. From his appearance in the festival, he got a deal with CBS to develop the pilot Life with David J, a sitcom based on David J's stand-up act. David J has opened for Jerry Seinfeld, Adam Sandler and David Spade and can be seen on Comedy Central's Premium Blend, NBC's Late Friday and the Late Late Show with Craig Kilborn. As one Activities Director put it, "David J tells jokes and no one gets hurt!"
