

Faculty question necessity of center closings

Administrators cited budget concerns, lack of student involvement PAGE 4

THE BLUE BANNER

University of North Carolina Asheville

Arts & Features Campus radio station reboots

Student DJs to restart the Blue Echo in spring semester
PAGE 8

News Student survives stabbing in Mexico

Junior Tyler Kilpatrick in stable condition after escaping attacker
PAGE 6

Campus Voice The Blue Banner Bulldogs of 2009

In our final issue of the year, we honor faculty, staff and administrators
PAGE 23

Records shed light on 2006 firing

Cindy Branton Lane, former printing services director, was fired after she hired her sister for a two-day printing job

Page 2

Not long after David Perkins became my supervisor I think sometime between June and August. David came to me and said Betty Bagwell came to him and to say for him to find a job for the Chancellors husband. I told him I did not have a job for him. That was the end of that.