Coltrane Junior College Chairman

After consultation with other junior college executives, President Coltrane called and arranged a program for the first North Carolina Junior College Conference, which was held at Hotel Charlotte, April 4, with a morning and evening session.

Mr. Coltrane's efforts were very favorably accepted by the conference, and he was unanimously appointed chairman of the group in its first year's work.

Approximately twenty colleges were represented, and about fifty members were present. The main issues of this conference were getting together, organizing, and discussing the educational standards in junior colleges. Dr. Walter Fells, of Stanford University, was the principal speaker of the conference.

Mr. Trowbridge, Miss Shore, Miss Smith, and Mr. Colvard attended with Mr. Coltrane.

Dr. Highsmith Visits Brevard College

Wednesday, April 8, Dr. Henry Highsmith, director of instructional service, and Dr. James E. Hillman, director of the division of curriculum construction, were visitors on our campus for a few hours. Both of these men are from Raleigh, North Carolina, and are on their annual tour of the colleges and universities of North Carolina. They collected data in order to arrive at our rating for the year. A similar visit was made last year. These two visits are steps towards official recognition by the Southern Association of Colleges and Universities.

Dr. Highsmith is chiefly interested in vocational training and is a staunch advocator of courses which will prepare young men and young women for practical service.

While here Dr. Highsmith agreed to

Stunt Night Observed

Brevard College observed April Fool's Day in a big way by having stunt night Wednesday, April 1, in the college auditorium. There were ten different organizations participating in this program, which was enjoyed by a large audience. Taylor Hall was awarded the tin cup for having the best stunt for the night.

The program consisted of a variety of stunts by the following organizations: the faculty, Taylor Hall, Ross Hall, West Hall, Town Hall, Virginia Lobge, Delphians and Mnemosyneans, Clios, Euterpians, Ministerial Band, Choir and Glee Club. Taylor Hall's stunt consisted of the portrayal of various romances in and around the campus this year, and all parts were played by the boys. Some of them were dressed as girls. The faculty also presented a very entertaining stunt when they showed "the students as they really are on Saturday or Sunday night in the Biddie Coop." All of the stunts showed that there had been much thought and hard work expended on them before they were presented.

The judges for the occasion were Mrs. DeLong, Mr. Jones, and Mr. Stroud. Mr. Jones added much to the program by making a very elaborate speech when he presented the prize. He made every one think he going to give a silver loving cup before awarding the winner a tin drinking cup.

Girls' Glee Club

Last Monday afternoon the members of the girls' glee club elected officers for the third quarter as follows: President, Margaret Wilson; Secretary-treasurer, Louise Ward; Reporter, Helee Avett.

deliver the commencement address to the graduating class on June 10.

Annual Nears Completion

During the past week the final pictures for this year's PERTELOTE have been taken, and most of them have been turned in and are about ready to be sent to the printer. These were mainly athletic pictures. Also the various sponsors have been chosen, and their photographs are being arranged. The following is a list of sponsors: PERTELOTE, Emily Sue Mal-lonee and Mary Vance Proffit; CLARION, Harriet Rhinehardt; Football, Bernice Brantly; Basketball, Unknown; Baseball, Evelyn Swaringen; Clio-Euterpi-ans, Wylma Ferguson; Delphian-Men-mosynean, Edith Beard; Student Coun-cil, Charlotte Patton; Sophomore Class, Mrs. Corinna Rogers Brown of Char-lotte.

This completes the work on pho-tography, and within the next two or three weeks the entire mate-rial should be in the hands of the printer. There is still a little work to be done in the arrangement and write-ups of the 1936 PERTELOTE, but the editor and business manager say that it is fast nearing completion.
