

The Clarion

The Brevard College Weekly

Published from September to June while the College is in session, except on holidays and during examinations.

$1.00 per year by carrier. If by mail $1.25 for the school year.

Advertising Rates given on Request.

Editor-in-Chief: William Davis
Associate Editors: Odell Salmon and Evelyn Swaringen.

REPORTORIAL STAFF

Earl Pearson	Edith Beard
Summers Maugans	Katherine Coffey
Cecil Evans	Ida Whisenant
Annie Donnell Patterson	Bill Patton
Helen Avett	Frances Goforth
Bernice Brantley	Mary Lou Latham
Typist: John Odom

Business Manager	Wilson Forbes
Assistant	Clem Thomas
Advertising Manager	R. D. McNeer, Jr.
Assistant	Bob Sumner
Circulation Manager	Mazon Murphy
Assistant	Joe Allen

Faculty Advisers: Miss Craig, Mr. McNeer and Mr. Cathey.

Why not Have a Tennis Team?

Recently there has been much talk of organizing a tennis team for the intercollegiate competition. Rumors have gone around that Brevard College would have a tennis team this spring, and many thought plans were under way for it. Many of the boys had begun to practice and look forward to having a team of this nature. But it appears that nothing definite has been formulated so far. We wonder if it would not be possible for Brevard to have this advantage.

The court in front of Taylor Hall has been put in order; it is in good shape and could be used for this cause, and we feel sure that if arrangements were made, the boys would be glad to fix up the one at West Hall.

There are many boys who would like to try for such a team who have not had the pleasure of representing Brevard on one of the athletic teams, and this would give them an opportunity of doing such. Also we venture to say that as many boys play tennis as any other sport on the campus. Of course the matter of expense will come up, but there would be very little expense to such an endeavor.

We hope that this will be given consideration by the proper authorities, and we are sure that if anything

Chapel Programs

Of late there has been some discussion among the students concerning the matter of various student groups conducting at least one assembly program each week.

We are inclined to believe this proposal to be logical and practical. By this plan the various groups could present programs that are in line with the objective of the club; and, edifying to the entire assembly.

Truly, this would be practical experience for the participants, but we are of the opinion that each group has representatives capable of conducting a sound and enjoyable program. This prevalent discussion is proof that there is a desire.

We should like to ask that the assembly program committee consider this matter and present us their decision.

Appreciation of Brevard College

True loyalty means that we recognize imperfections in the thing we love, but we do not allow these imperfections to dampen our loyalty. Loyalty means using our powers in an endeavor to purify our standards and really make Brevard College nearer perfect. Very clearly in a recent chapel program the students expressed a desire for loyalty, among the freshmen especially. An appreciation for the loyalty already shown by students and faculty members was voiced. Beautiful were the expressions of our love for "Our College", its situation, its meaning for us, the devotion of its friendships, the beauties of God around and within us. The needs of college were felt deeply, but were surpassed by an appreciation for the splendid cooperation we have had, for the ideals that have been set before us, and for the spirit of consideration that the students have received from the faculty.

Who is the "widow" that Bobby is seen with?

Three girls have decided to go into competition for the attentions of Tom Peeler.

can be done about it they will surely undertake it.

Literary Societies Enjoy Outing

Last Saturday afternoon and evening the members of the Cliosophic and Euterpian literary societies held a joint social when they hiked to Transylvania Camp. There were two groups from the campus; one left early in the afternoon and went on out and arranged everything for those who came out later in the afternoon. The time out there was spent in walking around the camp or the nearby hills or in sitting around the beautiful lake. About eating time the group gathered at the lodge on the camp grounds and roasted weiners and marshmallows. Chaperones for the occasion were Miss Hayes and Mrs. Coltrane.

At Virginia Lodge

Misses Mary Furr, Virginia Henderson, Nell Davenport, and Pauline Auer spent the Easter holidays in Asheville.

Mr. Francis Pratt of Winston-Salem was a week end guest of Miss Hatcher.

Misses Ellen Waddell, Bessie Mae McFadden, and Margaret McKinney spent the weekend at their respective homes in Hendersonville, Flat Rock, and Forest City.

Miss Martha Walker moved from Mr. Coltrane's home to West Hall last week.

Mrs. Eva Dean, cook at Virginia Lodge, spent Easter at her home in Spartanburg, South Carolina. The girls helped Miss Binford prepare their meals.

Miss Muriel Heglar has moved from Virginia Lodge to the Coltrane home.

Miss Emma Martin had charge of the prayer meeting service last Thursday evening. Her program was on the "Blessings We Receive from Christ." The program was effectively carried out by songs, the devotional, and a story.

Holidays usually bring visitors, and we are always glad to see them.

That hand-clapping in the dining room Friday night was welcome for Bubber.

The Fewells, Miss Shore, and Miss Sizemore are going on a "Bumming Tour."