

TORNADO IN A WEEK OF HARD PRACTICE

Coach Ranson inaugurated his career of coaching at Brevard last Monday afternoon, September 7, when he held the first football practice of the present season which will open for the Brevard Tornado October 3.

Twelve men were on hand for the first short work-out which consisted of limbering up, punting, a few signals, and instructions concerning the two new rules. Since Monday several new men have arrived each day to join the practice.

Only three letter men, John Odom, Bill Edwards, and Ed Clayton have joined the squad. Odom was a staunch guard last season and helped the Tornado a great deal in that position, but he is looking far better this fall. Bill Edwards played end practically all of every game last season, and he is showing in early practice that he is going to be hard to beat for all-state. Ed Clayton did the kicking for the Brevard men last season, and it now appears as if he is headed for a better season.

Among the new comers, Phil Heatherly, Frank Ausband, John Knight and Albert DeShaw are leading the ranks. Heatherly weighs close to 190 and he is making a good bid for end. Knight is showing a strong desire to play a regular position in the line.

The boys have been under training all week with a practice at nine in the morning and another in the afternoon at three, to call for strict training. The morning practice has been primarily board drills in the system and signals, and the field work-out came in the afternoon.

The squad has been assigned a new system, but those who have been here the entire week for practice have caught the lingo, and each player seems to be working smoothly in his position.

When the team lines up for the initial game it will average about 169 pounds or heavier. The line's men will carry the larger portion of the weight by average.

There will be only one practice each day from now since classes will interfere with the morning skull practice.

Say it with flowers,
Say it with sweets,
Say it with kisses,
Say it with eats.
Say it with diamonds,
Say it with drink,
But whatever you do—
Don't say it with ink.

Cheer Leaders

Within a short while an assembly will be set aside for the election of a corps of cheer leaders to sway the cheering squad at the various school functions that need cheering support.

Aspirants who are graceful, who have plenty of personality, who swing to rhythm, and who can make a hoarse Adam's apple make another sound should be whispering around to their friends that they would like to have jobs of showing people how to really blast the cheers.

It is the custom to elect six in the entire group of cheer leaders and to specify two of them as leaders. Usually a boy and a girl are co-commanders.

Future of the CLARION

When this issue of THE CLARION went to press there were no definite plans as to how it should be financed during this school year.

Last year it was printed in the College shop and, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. McNeer will leave in a few weeks, arrangements are being made to continue the print shop and print THE CLARION.

Last year the paper was financed through the student activity fee and income from advertising. Twenty-five cents per quarter from the fee of each student was set aside last year for the paper. That is much too small an amount to maintain a paper of this size and form.

As soon as possible an assembly period will be set aside for the election of a business manager, associate editor, and freshman editor.

Alumni Athletes

Bill Davis

Bill Davis, who played half back on the Tornado team last season, is now making a strong bid to play some football with the Davidson Wildcats this fall. He has been showing well in punting and ball carrying.

Bill is a three letter man from Brevard. During his freshman year here he won a letter in basketball, and while a sophomore he won letters in football, basketball, and tennis. He ranked number one on the tennis team last spring.

Leroy Lail

Leroy Lail who won a position on the junior college all-state second team last fall is now playing with the team at Mercer College. Lail was considered by many Brevard fans as the most consistent player of last year's team.

C. W. Harmon

C. W. Harmon, captain of the Tornado last season, is now in the togs with the squad at Newberry College, South Carolina. Harmon was in demand at Wofford College, but recently he decided to enter Newberry.

Bud Gaston

Bud Gaston and Garth Thompson regulars of the Brevard men last season are with the their old coach at W. C. T. C. Gaston won a position on the all-state junior college team. Thompson was perhaps the high scorer of the 1935 team.

Walter Clayton

Walter Clayton very probably will join an old teammate of Brevard, Bennie Shuford, at Wake Forest this season. Walter had second to the highest count for his position on the all-state team last year. He is a two letter man, winning letters in football and baseball.

Red Henry

Official report is not confirmed, but it is reported that Red Henry who played center last fall is now with the team at the University of Georgia.

All those who are interested in the paper are asked to help with it.

Physical Education For Girls

Physical education, classes in hygiene, and lectures in the fields of sport and hygiene, for the girls of the college will be conducted by Mrs. A. J. Ranson throughout the year.

Mrs. Ranson will be handicapped with her work since there is no gymnasium on the campus, and credit is to be given according to the number of hours spent in this work.

Mrs. Ranson will conduct games in soccer, soft ball, tennis, and any number of girls' games that can be arranged. Certain periods of the afternoon will be set aside for the various outdoor functions, and possibly the lecture courses will be arranged to come in the morning.

Practically all of her classes and schedule will be worked out after registration, and all girls should make it possible to meet with Mrs. Ranson for several periods each week.
