

Brevard to Meet Wingate

Sport Slants

By Sturgis May

Again we attempt to bring you a smattering of the Brevard College sports program through this column and page. If we don't do every one justice on this sports page, we wish to take this opportunity to say that we beg your pardon and will endeavor to give justice to all in the future.

HITTING POWER OF TORNADO NINE IMPROVES

Those of you many who attended the game that Coach Ranson's men played with Mars Hill on Monday, April 26, will recall that the entire team was hitting better in this contest than in any other game that it has played this season.

Whether you have noticed it or not, these members of the college nine that have been shining at the plate in junior college competition have been doing the same in the industrial league games.

George Lee, Frank Cauble, Sinclair Deal, and Eb Clayton—all members of our Tornado nine—are carrying off the hitting honors with the Brevard Tanners' Club in the Industrial League. In fact, these boys compose the Tannery infield.

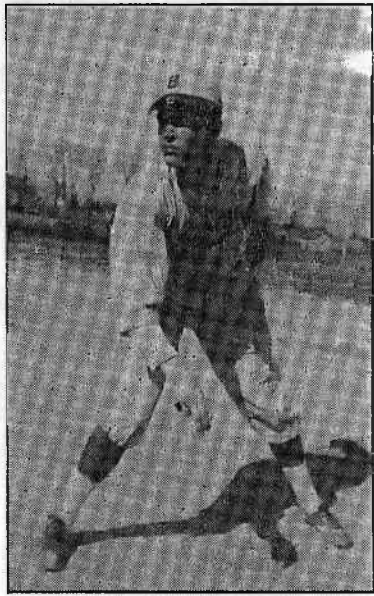

LET'S HAVE THE TOURNAMENT

What ever happened to the woman's tennis tournament? Two weeks ago it was heard over the campus that the women of the college were planning to hold a tournament. Since that time we have heard no more about this tourney. If there is anything that this department can do to help get such a tourney started, we will be more than glad to help.

In reading the Hy Po, weekly publications at High Point College, we find that the sports editor's views on collegiate press conventions are good. It would be a fine idea to have a press convention for college sport writers.

Congratulations to those who are responsible for the new Brevard College bus.

Work on the athletic field is

Sinclair Deal

Sinclair Deal is the newly-elected captain of the Tornado Nine. He is an active pitcher, being the only winning twirler that we have on the club, winning games this season with Wingate and Mars Hill. Deal came to Brevard College from Newton, where for three seasons he was a member of Dick Gurlley's Red Devil Nine. Since arriving here he has made letters in football and baseball and is a member of the tennis team this season.

Coach Ranson has selected him to work on the mound for the Tornado nine this afternoon with the Oak Ridge Cadets.

progressing. We have made this statement time and again, but this time it is true that the average bystander can see that we are getting along faster with the project. If nothing interferes, it should be finished when Coach Ranson calls the first football practice next Setmeber.

Ross Hall Wins

In the initial baseball contest between the men's dormitories to be played this season the Ross Hall aggregation won a close battle with the Taylor Hall club, last Saturday, in what proved to be a pitchers' battle.

Lefty Smith was effective for the winners, fanning eleven men, while Frank Craven, regular catcher for the college nine, went Smith one better, fanning twelve of the eighteen men that faced him for the losers.

James Ponder was head man at the plate for the victors, getting two hits out of three appearances at the plate.

Joe Hall led the losers, garnering three hits out of three attempts with the willow.

Tornado Defeated By P.J.C. 6-3

The local club will meet the Wingate Junior organization here at the High School field on Monday afternoon in another conference game. In the only game this season that the Brevard team met the Wingate club the Tornado won by a decisive score behind the fancy slants of Captain, Sinclair Deal.

Coach Arthur J. Ranson's Brevard Nine lost its first conference game of the week here Wednesday to the strong Presbyterian college team from Maxton, by a score of 6 and 3.

At the beginning of the contest the Ranson men showed super power by garnering three hits and two runs in the first inning to take the lead in the scoring. The visitors overcame the lead in the fourth inning, scoring three runs.

George Lee was the leading man with the willow for the locals, getting three for five, while Deal, Clayton and Cauble each secured two hits.

The visiting pitcher was very effective for the winners, fanning nine of the Brevard College men who faced him during the game and allowing nine hits which did little damage. Brafford was also headman at the plate for Coach Tubby Hands' men getting three hits out of four tries.

Sinclair Deal relieved Sam Tweed in the fifth inning for the Tornado nine and allowed only three hits for the remaining four and a half frames that he worked. Deal made the sensational catch of the game when he reached up over the fence to grab a long hard hit fly ball from the opposing pitcher's bat.

The game at no time was a runaway; each team threatened to gain a big lead many times. The locals had the bases loaded in the seventh inning, but this proved futile when Tweed went down by the strikeout route to end the rally.
