Pertelotes Come Out Tuesday; New Features Added

The 1949 Pertelote was made available to the students here last Tuesday and included many new features along with a novel musical theme.

Color scheme for the current edition is blue and white, the traditional college colors and a padded cover adds to the beauty of the yearbook. Music titles were used as captions of pictures and the entire theme was music.

Dedication of the 1949 annual was to Mr. Malvin N. Artley, former director of the college department of music.

Gerald Martin, editor, and Charley Freeman, business manager of the Pertelote, announced that 350 copies of the yearbook were received from the printers and that all of them are expected to be sold.

Included in the senior picture section were 151 photographs, while 18 seniors failed to have a picture taken in time for publication. There are 178 freshmen pictures with 60 freshmen listed as having no picture. Three special students are also listed.

A total of 104 pages make up the body of the annual with 15 pages given over to advertisement.
