Illness Causes George Ehlhardt's Resignation As College President

The resignation of Rev. George Brinkmann Ehlhardt as president of Brevard college was accepted by the executive board of trustees at Dilworth Methodist church, Charlotte, on Tuesday, November 20. The reason given for his resignation was ill health.

The announcement of the Rev. Mr. Ehlhardt's leaving came from Edwin L. Jones, chairman of the college board of trustees.

The board passed a resolution expressing gratitude to Mr. Ehlhardt for his services and a wish for his restored health. The former college president had been a patient at Duke hospital on a recent six week's leave of absence, and Friday, November 16, was injured in an automobile accident. Until December 3 he was hospitalized at Transylvania Community hospital.

The Rev. Mr. Ehlhardt assumed the presidency of this institution about 18 months ago, and prior to that time was librarian at the Divinity school of Duke university.

Named to head a committee to find a successor for Mr. Ehlhardt at the board meeting was the Rev. W. A. Kale, of High Point. Other committee members are O. V. Woosley, Winston-Salem; Rev. Frank Jordan, Shelby; Flake Sherrill, Statesville; and F. S. Best, Brevard.

In the meantime the college will be run by an administrative council headed by Dr. B. Joseph Martin, executive director of the Methodist College Foundation of North Carolina, Inc., who was recently appointed to handle financial affairs for the college. Others on this council are Dean J. J. Stevenson.

Clarion Editor Has Poem In Anthology

Announcement was released here last week from the National Poetry association, Los Angeles, that "Comrades," a poem by Tom Neal, Jr., editor of the Clarion, has been selected by the Board of Judges to be published in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

According to the association, this Anthology is a "compilation of the finest poetry written by college men and women of America." The poetry represents every state in the country, and selections are made from thousands of poems submitted.

Neal's poem is a metaphysical one contrasting the love of God with the love of nature. According to the writer, the poem depicts God's love as universal and as equal in degree for all the sons and daughters of God.

Dr. B. Joseph Martin, of Greensboro, has been appointed to head the new college executive board.

Dr. Martin Appointed To Head School Board

Dr. B. Joseph Martin, executive director of the Methodist College Foundation of North Carolina, Inc., has been named by the board of trustees of Brevard college to head the executive governing board which will administer the affairs of Brevard college in absence of a president.

Dr. Martin received his education at the University of Cincinnati, at Pasadena college, where he took his A. B. and Th. B. degrees, and at the University of Southern California, where the degrees of M. Th. and Ph. D. were conferred upon him.

Past director of boys work at Wesley - McDonald Boys school, Martin has also served as superintendent of Laird Hall school, Hollywood, California; as professor of sociology at Pasadena college; and as vice-president of Oklahoma university.

A member of Phi Chi Phi, Nu Alpha Nu, Alpha Kappa Delta, and Theta Phi, Dr. Martin has served 10 years in teaching and administration. Additionally, he has served pastorates in Ohio and California for 10 years.

"It is going to take a lot of hard work, conscientious effort and everybody's pulling together," Dr. Martin said. He continued, "I am impressed by the calibre of students, the high calibre of the staff; and by the interest of the community in the school. One reason that I am willing to do this work of love is that it represents the Lord's Work."
