

FACULTY NEWS

During the past week Dean J. J. Stevenson attended the conference of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. At this conference the qualifications of the various schools are reviewed and application for accreditation are considered. This year's meeting was held at St. Petersburg, Florida.

The theme of the conference was "Education for Human Adjustments." The morning sessions consisted of the meetings of commissions, committees, and of conferences of different groups. On Wednesday evening the annual banquet was held. This meeting concluded with a business session Thursday.

The Dean is now visiting his brother at Fort Myers, Florida.

In order that the Board of Trustees may have sufficient time to select a new president for the college, an interim administrative committee has been formed. This committee will be responsible for the functioning of the college until such time as a new president is chosen.

The committee consists of five members, Dr. B. Joseph Martin, the financial administrator of the college, is the chairman. Dean J. J. Stevenson is academic administrator. S. E. Varner and F. S. Best, local trustees, and C. E. Roy, director of religious education at Brevard college, who was chosen by the faculty as a faculty representative, round out the group.

During the Thanksgiving week end, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce A. Livengood attended the convention of the National Association of Music Schools in Cincinnati, Ohio. The purpose of this convention was to discuss the educational program in terms of music.

According to Mr. Livengood, head of the college music department, it is hoped that Brevard will become a member of this organization. To this end, the music department will submit to an examination in January. This examination will cover the way in which records are kept and how the student program is handled. Only a limited number of schools will be admitted.

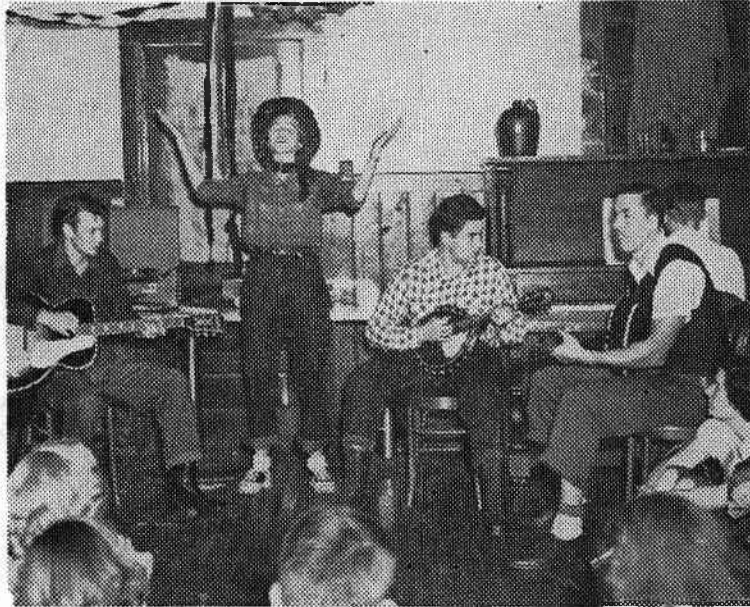

Mr. Livengood also stated that it was found that the national average amount spent on each music student was thirty-three dollars and that for the last two years, Brevard college has spent an amount higher than this average.

Mrs. M. G. Pangle, instructor in mathematics, was taken ill last week while visiting Mr. Pangle's sister in Boiling Springs, N. C. Mrs. Pangle is now recuperating at her home in Brevard. Until her recovery, Mrs. Lee Pylant, dean of women, is substituting for her as mathematics instructor.

Monteith Promises Experienced Player For Basketball Team

With the hardwood vibrating in expectancy, Coach Ernest Eppley can be seen talking over basketball strategy with freshman Mickey Monteith, who is making a sustained drive for a first team berth. The almost-six-foot Monteith concentrates on defensive work, although he was third highest scorer on his championship high school team.

Monteith was a regular and letterman for three years at Granite Falls high school, where he played both guard and forward. During his three years as a regular, Granite Falls won two county championships, and last year captured the class AA Highland Conference championship. Mickey was a potent factor in each of these wins.

"My best game was against Valdese in the Kiwanis tournament last spring, when I scored 19 points. That is the most points that I ever scored in one game," said Monteith. He made second team all-tourney selection in that tournament, and in one game held an outstanding county player, who usually racks up over 20 points, to 4.

Sadie's Day Is Big Success, For Ladies

Sadie Hawkins' day is over for another year and every red-blooded American boy can breathe a sigh of relief—Li'l Abner was not caught by Daisy Mae this year!

With the Brevard college boys, the situation was different. There were no "Orson Wells" to save them from the clutches of designing females; thus they had to spend Sadie's day drowning their sorrows in Kickapoo Joy Juice and bemoaning the fact (really a joyous one for the lads, we know) that they had been caught and had to attend the annual Sadie Hawkins dance as the guests of the college wolf gals.

The Euterpean-sponsored dance was held in the college cafeteria on the night of November 18 and with all the fiendish glee of a Marryin' Sam the Euterpeans plied the boys with the tempting aroma of coffee and doughnuts. Meanwhile, the Euterpean cash register rang merrily as "the woman is requested to pay."
