

Gay Green Dies; Leaves $100,000 To Aid Brevard

Brevard college will be the recipient of a gift of $100,000 as specified in the will of the late Gay Green 80-year-old financier of Asheville.

Mr. Green had in Asheville and its prosperity a faith evidenced by his taking active part in its civic and church affairs. It was on his sound belief in Asheville that he built his fortune. At the time of his death he was the largest property holder in Asheville, owning partial or complete interest in many of the large business and hotel structures. Before his death he had given several large sums to aid church schools.

The will cannot be probated for at least a year after his death, and therefore it will be several months before the money is forthcoming. According to Dean J. J. Stevenson the money was given without stipulation of its use, but any expenditures of this gift must be sanctioned by the Board of Trustees.

tirely an advisory body which will discuss and study those matters which will further the best interests of the college.

The faculty and the student divisions of the cabinet are to meet separately every other week end and a joint meeting will be held twice a month at which matters prepared by each of the small groups are presented. This cabinet does not have the authority to put into effect the decisions reached. This must be done by the group concerned, which might be either the Student council, the faculty or the Board of Trustees.

Of immediate importance is "determining the objectives of Brevard college and how they are to be met." The cabinet will also discuss recruitment of new members.

Classes End At Noon, Dec. 15 For Holidays, Dance Planned At Night

Classes will be held as usual until 12:00 noon on Saturday, December 15th, when the Christmas vacation is officially begun. Instruction will be resumed on Monday, January 7th, 1952. This gives both students and faculty a three-week holiday.

In order to celebrate the coming Christmas season, the Delphian and Mnemosynean, two leading literary societies on the campus, will sponsor a Christmas Ball. The dance is to be held in the college gymnasium on Friday, December 14. The gym will be decorated by the two societies in such a way as to augment the theme which is "Winter Wonderland." The admission price will be $1.25 per couple. The ticket, however, will include a table and refreshments.

This ball will be unique because, for the first time this year, it will feature an eight-piece band to supply music for the dancing and entertainment. The band hired for this semi-formal occasion comes from Hendersonville. Although TWIRP season comes a week before the holidays, it does not include the dance.

Christmas parties are being planned by many of the clubs to help usher in the Christmas holidays. The Glee club is having a party for its members on Tuesday night in the college cafeteria.

Miss Evans Honored As Clemson Sponsor

Betty Jean Evans, Brevard college sophomore, served as sponsor for Frederick Knoebel, defensive halfback for the Clemson Tigers, at the Clemson homecoming game on November 24. Betty Jean, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Evans, is from West Orange, New Jersey.

Wearing corsages of yellow chrysanthemums tied with ribbons in the Clemson colors of yellow and purple, Betty Jean and the other sponsors were driven around the field and photographed. Then they were introduced to the crowd, after which they were escorted to their seats in the Clemson student section, where they watched Clemson beat Auburn, their opponent for the game, by a score of 34-0. (This victory gained a bowl bid to the Gator Bowl for the Clemson team.)

Attending the game and other festivities of the day were Betty Jean's parents; her uncle, Marion Evans; her brother, Jimmy Evans, a student at Clemson; and two Brevard college freshmen, Carolyn B. Freeman and Frances Davidson.
