Society Rivalry Reaches Roaring Stage

Mr. James N. Fitzpatrick, an alumnus of Brevard college, returns this year as the new dean of men and director of men's physical education. A native of Atlanta, he has resided more recently in Asheville. During the summer months he took graduate work at the University of Florida.

Club Loyalty; Campus Spirit Strong; Creates Much Enthusian

Society fever has affected nearly all Brevard students but so far no one has been sent to the infirmary because of it. If the freshmen have not learned anything else about Brevard they know that there are four societies on campus.

Nancy Carson, president of the Euterpeans, has worked hard to make the name Euterpean a by-word on campus. Most of the freshman dorm students were initiated into this society. They were asked to do everything from shining shoes to selling old Clarions (Editor's note: The Clarion staff reaped no financial benefits). The societies first project will be the Homecoming dance.

Carolyn B. Freeman, president of the Mnemosynean society which attracted the town students, decided that there would be no initiation. The society hopes to sponsor a fundraising card party in the near future, but no date has been set. The members also, plan to make a project of giving underprivileged children a day of fun.

Only President Stowe Hull and two other members returned to the Cliosopic society this year, but they were able to interest some 20 freshmen in joining them. The members hope to start a scrap-book this year, in order to keep the names and addresses of members and clippings of events which take place during the year.

Melvin McIntosh, president of the Delphians, had the pleasure of watching his team hold the Clio's football team scoreless in a game played recently. Jim Elliott, Wallace Honeycutt, and Bob Mauldin were among the outstanding players of the afternoon.

All societies are hoping to see all old members during Homecoming.

Miss Ellen L. Lensing comes to Brevard from Wisconsin to join the Business Department staff. She holds a B. E. degree from Whitewater State college, Wisconsin, and a M. S. degree from the University of Wisconsin.

Officers Elected At Student Chapel

The first class period for the sophomores was held Thursday, September 25. The sophomores elected their officers for the coming year.

Bill Eller received a plurality vote over the other two nominees, Melvin McIntosh and Stanford Hardin. Melvin was then elected vice-president. Annie Lou Allison received the most votes for secretary-treasurer. Elected sophomore representative to the student council was Dot Wallace. The sophomore class president will also be a student council member.

Bill Eller announced plans to appoint a chapel committee to aid the officers in planning programs for the class assemblies.

On Friday, September 26, the freshman class met for their class chapel and elected Ben Brooks as president, Wallace Honeycutt as vice-president and Ann Cudd as secretary-treasurer. Doug Dewing, better known as "Sarge", was elected freshman representative to the student council.

Beginning last week a formal chapel period will be held on Tuesday with the entire student body required to attend. On Thursday only the sophomores will meet, while the freshmen will have their chapel period on Friday. No faculty member will be present at the class chapels unless invited by the students.

Vice President Is Chosen By Council

Mickie Monteith, elected vice-president of the student body last year, is now a member of the United States navy and, therefore, Bob Walton, president of the student body asked for petitions to be turned in by people interested in running for the office.

During the period assigned for the petitions to come in there were none handed in and, therefore, the student council acting according to designated procedure, voted for the new vice-president. Bill Eller and Jack Parks were nominated. Jack Parks received the most votes of the student council and has been appointed by them to this position.

Jack comes from Climax, North Carolina. He will complete his work here this spring. In regard to his new office, Jack has this to say, "I fully realize the responsibility I have undertaken and will do my best to be an active member and fulfill my duties as I see them."

GIRLS' SPORTS NEWS

Archery, tennis, soccer, and touch football are the sports which are currently occupying the girls' time in gym classes. The Brevard lassies are learning how to shoot a bow and arrow, that love in tennis has nothing to do with romance, and that while you can carry a football in your hands, a soccer ball can only be handled with the feet!

Miss Elizabeth Shepard is the new librarian, succeeding Ray Fry. Formerly of Charlotte, she has been at the public library at Charlotte and Mecklenburg county for the past three years. Prior to that time she was associated with libraries at Randolph-Macon college, Lynchburg, Va.; Veterans Library, Swannanoa; and Women's College Library, Duke university. She holds an A. B. degree from Winthrop college, Rock Hill, S. C.; B. A. L. S. degree, Emory university; and has taken graduate courses in library science at Columbia university, New York City.

Mr. Robert E. McClintock is a new member of the Brevard faculty, having accepted his first full time teaching job here. In June, he graduated from Peabody college with an M. A. degree in math. He had previously graduated from the University of South Carolina with a B. S. degree in English and math. At Brevard he is teaching both physics and math and states that he is "enjoying" small classes.
