

SUPPORT THE
MARCH OF DIMES

The Clarion

STUDY HARD
FOR EXAMS

VOLUME XXVIII

BREVARD COLLEGE, JANUARY 13, 1961

NUMBER 7

CHEMISTRY DEPARTMENT GIVEN GRANT

The final examination period for the fall semester starts tomorrow and continues through Friday, January 20, so studying is uppermost in most students' minds. Getting an early start on reviewing are, left to right, Jack

Wampler (with back to camera), Ronald "Flash" Foster, Gene "Bird" Ballard, Clark Smith, John Smith, Tommy Dillon, Jim Griffin, and Bud Garris. (Photo by Reid Griffin)

Alan Wallace To Teach Courses In Play Production And Public Speaking

After a three month "tour of duty" in the Public Relations Department, Alan Wallace will resume the teaching of English 14 (Play Production) and English 15 (Public Speaking) next semester, according to Dean John B. Bennett.

Mr. Wallace's class in Public Speaking will meet for a three-hour session every Monday evening from 6:30 to 9:30, beginning January 30. It will be open to the general public as well as college students. His course is designed and conducted to develop the student's ability to deal effectively with speaking situations. During each session every student will speak at least twice. Any one in the community interested in developing self-confidence and ability to "say a few words effectively," either from the platform or in a discussion group, is invited to attend the first session January 30 to determine whether or not he would like to take the course.

The Play Production class will meet every Monday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock. This is a practical course covering the basic techniques in acting, directing, scene design, lighting and management. The class will collaborate with The Masquers to present an evening program of three one-act plays in May. Plays under consideration are: THE OLD LADY SHOWS HER MEDALS, by J. M. Barrie; THE BEAR, by Anton Chekov; ILE, by Eugene O'Neil.

Mr. Wallace came to Brevard College after a twenty-five year career as writer, director and administrator in network radio and television programming. After graduating from Earlham College he taught Public Speaking, Drama, and English for three years at Friends University before taking two years of graduate work under Georgia Pierce Baker in the Yale School of Drama. His experience in broadcast media was preceded by seven years in both professional and community theaters as actor and director. For several

—Turn To Page Four

Receives $5,000 From Du Pont Company To Be Used In 1961-62

The CLARION, on behalf of the student body, wishes to express deepest sympathy to Mrs. Sigmon in the loss of her brother and to Dean Butterworth in the loss of her uncle.

Graves Goes To Sanford's Inauguration

Col R. D. Graves, professor of mathematics at Brevard College, attended the inaugural ceremonies in Raleigh as guest of Governor-elect Terry Sanford.

Col. Graves commanded the 517th Parachute Infantry in World War II in which Mr. Sanford served as Lieutenant of one of the battalions.

The unit fought through the Italian campaign in the summer of 1944.

In recalling the maneuvers of the summer, Col. Graves said:

In August we were dropped behind the lines in the interior of France and as the right flank of the Seventh Army we fought our way toward the English Channel to meet the amphibious forces that had invaded the coast of France. Later on we joined the 82nd Airborne division in the Battle of the Bulge."

The Colonel said that the Governor-elect remained with him until the end of the war, rising to the rank of Captain.

A grant of $5,000 has been made by the Du Pont company to Brevard College to assist in strengthening the college's chemistry department, it was announced today by Dr. Emmett K. McLarty, Jr.

Word of the grant, for the 1961-62 academic year, came in a letter to Dr. McLarty from Crawford M. Greenwalt, president of the Du Pont Company. It was delivered to Dr. McLarty by L. S. Grogan, manager of Du Pont's Brevard plant, who is a trustee of the college.

According to Mr. Greenwalt, the grant is awarded for the purpose of advancing the teaching of chemistry. "It is intended," he said, "that the grant be used to purchase laboratory apparatus, to aid faculty, or in any other way the department may choose consistent with the purpose."

Brevard College is one of 16 institutions receiving special grants for the strengthening of their respective chemistry departments. It is the first two-year college to participate in the Du Pont aid to education program.

The company's overall program for 1961-62 encompasses grants of more than $1,400,000 to 159 universities and colleges, the company announced in Wilmington.

Several different Du Pont

—Turn to Page Three

Library fines must be paid and overdue books either returned or renewed before exam permits will be given. Students may continue to check out books during exams.

Introducing the 1960-61 Brevard College cheerleaders! The "yell-belles" who keep the spirit up at the basketball games are, left to right, Kitty Whitworth, Carol Chaplin, Chris Farnan, chief Helen Nelson, Harriet Nelson, Mary Jo Eady, alternate Fran Jaquette, and Marsha Martin. Absent when picture was taken were Alice Barnhill and alternate Joyce Clark.

(Photo by Reid Griffin)