

Final Games See Two Won, Three Lost

The North Greenville Mounties handed the Tornadoes their eighth loss of the season Friday, May 5, by the score of 10-1. The Tornadoes were again hampered by errors and misjudgements on decisive plays.

The Brevard nine failed to score in the top half of the first inning as the Mountie hurler retired Gossett and Holland with the strike-out route and Danny Bost on a grounder.

Jack Lee, Brevard Moundsman, worked smoothly retiring Mountie batters through the first two innings. However, Lee ran into difficulties in the third as he worked himself into a bases-loaded situation due to faulty fielding. Two runs had been scored before the last N. Greenville batter was retired to end the third inning.

In the third, Gene Holland doubled to right-center, and came home when the Mountie shortstop threw wildly to first on Jack Lee's grounder. This was Brevard's only score.

Meanwhile, North Greenville continued to "dent the rubber" capitalizing on Brevard errors scoring four runs in the sixth inning, and four more in the eighth.

Tom Barbee had two hits for two times at bat, while Gene Gossett, Holland, and Bost had one hit each.

The Tornadoes unleashed a savage plate attack here, Wednesday, May 10, to thrash Asheville-Biltmore in a double header, 4-0, 3-1.

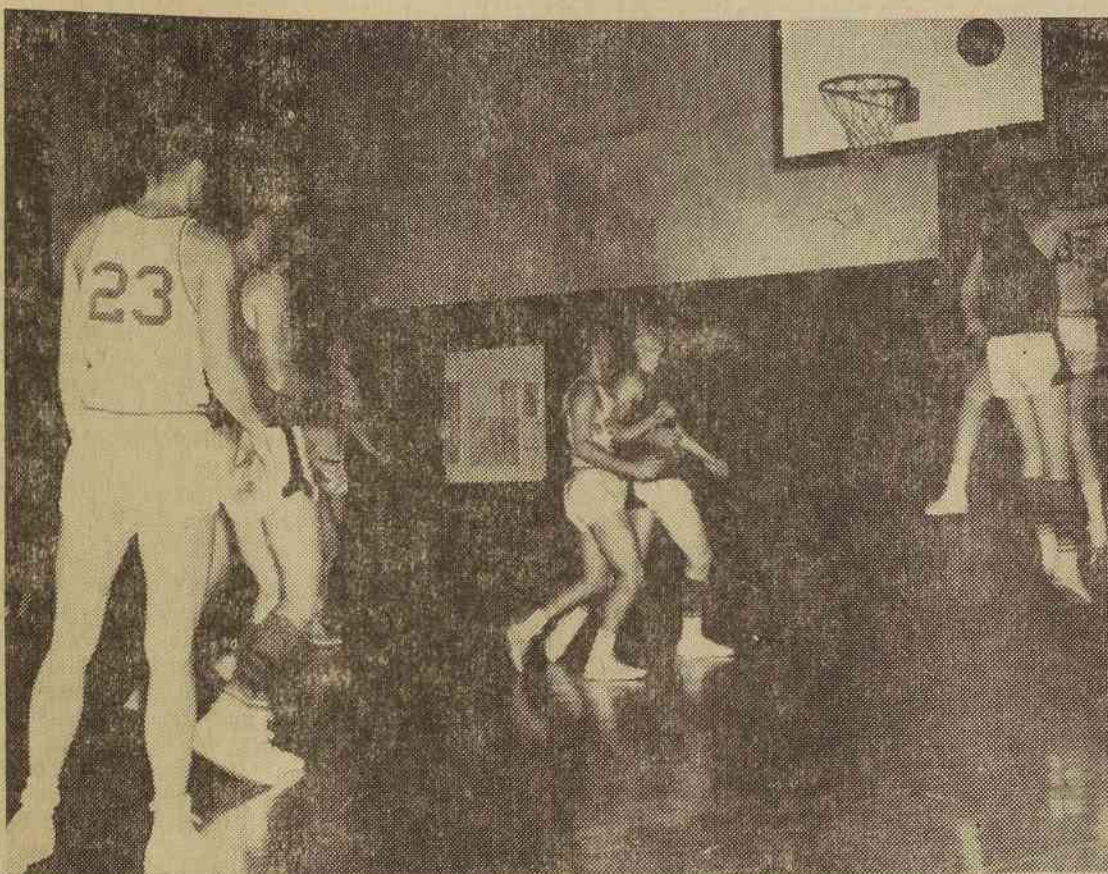

Jack Lee spaced three hits to gain his fourth victory against three losses this season. The A-B team couldn't get to Lee in time to threaten, but the Tornadoes collected seven hits to take an early lead.

In the second inning, Doug Scott was safe on a fielder's choice and Jim Wilson gained life on an error to place runners on first and third. Jack Lee then delivered the big blow of the frame as he blasted a long double to right field to send Scott and Wilson across the plate. That was all Lee needed to assure the victory.

Again, in the fourth, Wilson led off with a walk and scored on an error to make the score 3-0.

In the bottom of the sixth inning, Gene Holland doubled and scored on Jim Wilson's base hit. Brevard now had a commanding lead of 4-0.

This was the big year for basketball at Brevard College. The Tornadoes, led by Coach "Chick" Martin, were the conference and tournament champions. In the top photo, the team is shown in action against the North Greenville Mounties. In the lower photo, the players are coming back onto the floor after a time-out. Memories of the basketball team will be high in every student's recollections of the 1960-61 term.

Basketball Is Tops For BC This Season

The Brevard College Tornadoes basketball team rolled through the '60-61 season winning eighteen games while losing four. This earned the team first place in the conference and the conference championship played at Greer, South Carolina. Brevard then went to Hutchinson, Kansas, and played in the championship action there. The team lost out in the first round, but they represented the college in fine manner.

Tom Barbee and Glover Coggins gathered laurels for Brevard College by exhibiting their talent. Both players made the All-Conference Team and the All-Tourney Team, and Barbee was selected to the honorable mention All-Tournament Team in the National Junior College Tourney and to the third string All-American Team. This was the second year Barbee has received this national honor.

A school record was broken this year — Tom Barbee broke his own single game scoring with 43 points in the tournament at Greer, South Carolina.

Big John Eller hauled in the most rebounds for the season as he compiled an 11.8 average.

Coach Martin will lose his five starters via graduation this year, but he will have an experienced team returning next year with a few main standouts among the team members.

Baseball Season Ends With 4-8 Conference Mark

The Brevard College Tornado baseball team finished this season with a 4-8 Conference record and a 5-9 overall mark. If the Tornadoes could have bunched base hits with the good pitching at times or vice versa, then the team might have had a better season.

Winningest pitcher for the Tornadoes was Jack Lee with a 4-3 record. Mack Haywood appeared in one game on the mound and came out the victor.

Monty Matthews, switching from the mound to first base in the latter part of the season, had an 0-1 as a pitcher. Bob Maske, hampered by sore elbow, possessed an 0-4 mark. Maske did hurl some fine baseballs but was often backed by faulty fielding. Don Cooper made several appearances in relief and starting but a single game which he lost compiling on 0-1 record.

two singles in three official trips to the plate.

In the second game of the doubleheader, Mack Haywood chalked up his first mound victory of the season as he scattered six hits to down A-B, 3-1. This marked Brevard's fifth conference victory.

Asheville-Biltmore jumped into an early lead in the initial frame as Elingburg singled and romped home on Baldwin's triple.

However, Brevard scored three runs in the third inning. Gene Gossett led off with a single, and Mauney and Bost followed with successive singles, with Gossett scoring. Mauney scored on Bost's single. Later in the frame, Monty Matthews scored on Mack Haywood's sacrifice.

Both teams failed to score in the late innings as the game was defensively battled. Brevard came out on top, 3-1.

The Mars Hill Lions banged out nineteen hits off three Brevard hurlers Monday, May 15, to enable the team to score an impressive 19-9 victory. Brevard, marred by errors and pitching, went down to its ninth defeat of the season. This game ends the season for the Tornadoes.

In the second inning, Scott singled and rode home on Jim Wilson's single to put the Tornadoes into a 1-0 lead. However, Mars Hill scored three unearned runs in their half of the third to advance into the lead.

Brevard fought back in the third, scoring three more runs. Gene Gossett started off the frame with a single. Mick Mauney singled and Danny Bost followed with a base hit to drive Gossett across the plate. Jim Wilson singled to load the sacks and two runs came home on Monty Matthews' shot to left field. Mars Hill hurler settled down to retire the next two batters to end the rally. Brevard led, 5-3.
