

BLT Presents
on February 28 and 29

The Clarion

"The Unexpected Guest"
by Agatha Christie

VOLUME XXXI

BREVARD COLLEGE, BREVARD, N. C., FEBRUARY 21, 1964

NUMBER 8

Religious Emphasis Week Begins March 1st

Mock Assembly Has Real United Nation Atmosphere

Mme. Nhu's Father Speaks At Session

Brevard's Panamanian delegation to the U.N. Model General Assembly heard Tran Van Chuong, father of Madame Nhu, speak at Duke University Friday night, February 14. The former Vietnamese ambassador said, concerning the problems in his country, that neutralization of Southeast Asia "can only mean surrender" to the Communists.

The program Friday night was one of the highlights of the assembly that five of Brevard's students, Jaime Ruiz, Cheryl Greene, Jim Holder, Caroline Lobban, and Carroll Goodman, attended as representatives of Panama. Mr. Howe accompanied the group as adviser.

Acting in character with the nation of Panama, the delegation prepared a resolution asking the U.N. to condemn U.S. armed forces in Panama and to initiate a complete revision of the Treaty of 1903 between the United States and Panama.

The Session opened Thursday morning at 9:30 in a mock General Assembly. The officers were introduced. Craig W. Worthington from Duke was Secretary-General for the session and Michael H. Lawler from U.N.C. was the President of the General Assembly.

Thursday afternoon and evening, and Friday morning and afternoon were spent in separate committee meetings. Each resolution prepared had to be passed first in the committees. Out of approximately 30 resolutions only three reached the floor of the General Assembly for approval.

The Panamanian resolution was not included in the three voted upon. These three were all passed after much amending and deletion. They were concerned with the alleviation of the worldwide refugee problem, South African racial policies, and

—Turn to Page Four

Dr. Grady Hardin, Guest Speaker

The days beginning March 1 and continuing through 5 will be observed as Religious Emphasis Week on Brevard College Campus.

Chaplain C. Edward Roy announced that the first service of the annual Plyler Religious Emphasis Week will be held Sunday evening, March 1, in the Brevard Methodist Church.

The speaker for the week will be Dr. Grady Hardin, a member of the faculty of Perkins School of Theology, at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.

Services will be held Monday and Tuesday mornings at 10 o'clock and on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in the Campus Center Building Auditorium. The last meeting will be an early morning communion service at 7 o'clock on Thursday.

There will be a reception for the speaker on Sunday evening, following the worship service. Informal discussion groups will be held in both the Men's and Women's dormitories. The time for these groups will be announced later.

The speaker will be available for individual conferences. Appointments should be made with Jean Furman who will act as secretary to Dr. Hardin.

"Religious Emphasis Week," says Chaplain Roy, "gives members of the student body and the community a special time to consider moral and spiritual values, to strengthen the inner life with a measure of the Light which shone fully in Christ. While education at Brevard is religiously centered, this does not mean that it is narrowly interpreted in terms of any one denomination.

Printed programs and daily devotions will be distributed among the students.

Save-A-Child Campaign Opens

Next week will see the start of a campaign to collect money for the education of Yung Hwan Yoon, young Korean boy who is the recipient of funds from the Save the Children Federation, Inc.

Brevard's student body took on the job of supporting the child some three years ago. By collecting money from the various organizations on campus, as well as donations from interested individuals, Brevard's Save-A-Child committee is able to forward funds to the Korean Field Office of the Save the Children Federation in Seoul, Korea. This money is used solely for Yung Hwan Yoon's support.

Many people refuse to donate to such causes, because they say that they can't see any concrete results of the expenditure of their money. One can certainly see results in Yung Hwan Yoon, who has risen from a poverty-stricken child to a happy young boy who can now go so far as to dream of acquiring a college education. Your nickels, pennies, dimes and dollars can make his dream come true. Why not give a little, to gain the satisfaction of knowing that you have helped a child?

The last edition of the Clarion carried a letter from Yung Hwan Yoon to his sponsors. A more recent letter from the Korean lad is found on the editorial page of this issue.

Art Works On Exhibit

Mr. Timothy Murray, head of the art department, has a collection of works on exhibit in the Faculty Lounge at the present time. The exhibit consists of works done in 1962 and 1963, when he attended graduate school at the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Murray is very talented in several types of art work. His works on exhibit include paintings, etchings, and sketches in ink. He says, however, that sculpturing is his first choice of medium.

Many of his works contain

—Turn to Page Three

Gayle Lance Is Crowned At Dance

by Treva Mitchell

A pretty, young day student from Brevard, Gayle Hampton Lance, was crowned Valentine Dance Saturday night.

Miss Lance, who was escorted by Mr. Jack Hampton of Baltimore, was crowned by Elias Tupper, President of the Delphians. She was presented a lovely sheaf of valentine roses by Margaret Harris, Mnemosynean President. Gayle, who was gowned in white, as were the other members of the court, made a lovely picture as she stood before a huge red heart on the CCB stage. She was flanked by two glittering cupids.

The announcement came at 9:00 and was a surprise to everyone, since the voting was secret, and the results were not revealed until then.

Sophomore members of the Queen's court were Miss Sarah Anne Barber, escorted by John Durham Boney, and Miss Carol Ann Sorton, escorted by Bob Malsby.

Freshman attendants included Miss Linda Verne Carruthers, escorted by Freddie Parker, and Miss Louise Hutson Frampton, escorted by Mike Starnes.

Entertainment included numbers by Dean Jevons and Donna Hooker. The Kentucky Gentlemen provided music for dancing.

Miss Gayle Lance - Valentine Queen, 1964

WILSON PRESENTS CONCERT

Raymond Wilson, who for thirty-two years was chairman of the piano department of the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York, will present a concert in the Brevard College Auditorium on Friday evening, February 21, at 8:00 o'clock.

The public is invited to hear the program. There will be no admission charge, since Dr. Wilson will give this program simply for the enjoyment of playing. His program will include pieces by Mozart, Beethoven, Chopin, Debussy, Pugno, and Saint-Saens.

After seven years as professor of piano at Syracuse University, Dr. Wilson became head of the Eastman piano department when the school opened in 1921. He was assistant director of the school and director of all summer session. He retired seven years ago and now lives in Biltmore Forest.

When Dr. Wilson appeared in Boston, the music critic of the

—Turn to Page Three