

Queen Margaret Reigns Over May Day Festivities

by Robin Lynn May

A lovely nineteen-year-old lass with brown hair and dimpled smile, Miss Margaret Harris, was the choice of the student body for 1964 May Queen.

Margaret, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris of Black Mountain, is a sophomore, majoring in Math. She says that Math was her favorite subject "until calculus."

When asked what her favorite hobbies are, she replied, "Bowling and tennis. And I sew a tad or two." Her favorite pastime? "Well, don't tell anybody, but I love to eat!"

Margaret spends a large part of her time, she says, running between Mars Hill, Brevard, and home. Her interest at Mars Hill is Jack Hughes, who will be her escort for the May Dance.

Her future plans include marriage this summer, and transferring to Mars Hill College next fall.

Margaret describes the most embarrassing thing that has ever happened to her occurred several years ago. It was during band day at Western Carolina. "Somehow", she says, "My majorette boots got misplaced. I was forced to march around that campus all afternoon in dirty sneakers two sizes too big!"

As for the best thing that's ever happened to her, Margaret says that being elected May Queen has made her happier than any other honor she has had.

She will reign over May Day festivities on the afternoon of May 2, and in the evening, Margaret will glide into the dance, gowned in shimmering white, escorted by Jack Hughes. She will take her place as one of the loveliest May Queens Brevard College has ever had.

Queen Of May — Miss Margaret Harris

On the afternoon of May 2, at 3:00 p.m., Brevard College will present its annual May Day activities. The presentation of the queen and her court, as well as the May Day program, will take place around the Lily Pond on the main campus.

The 1964 May Queen is Miss Margaret Harris, of Black Mountain, North Carolina. Her Maid of Honor is Miss Margo Towles, of Fincastrale, Virginia.

The sophomore attendants are Miss Donna Blankinship, Miss Sue Kearns, Miss Caroline Lobban, and Miss Dona Vaughn.

The Queen's freshmen attendants are Miss Deedra Dickinson, Miss Jane Hoilman, Miss Sharlene Luck, and Miss Sandra Zibelin.

The flower girls will be Misses Mary and Margaret MacDonald, and Master Terry Paxton will be the crown bearer.

Margaret's traditional queenly white gown will be complemented by her Maid of Honor's shrimp-pink dress. The attendants' dresses of silk organza over taffeta are being made by Mrs. John Crowe in pastel shades of pink, green, yellow, and blue.

The program to be presented for the May Court that afternoon will include selections from Gershwin's Porgy and Bess, performed by the College Glee Club, and folk selections by the Madrigal Singers. "We Three," a folk group consisting of Kirk Floyd, Dean Jevons, and Ronnie Smith, will also perform.

A highlight of the day's activities will be the traditional May Pole Dance. Sixteen gaily dressed girls, directed by Mr. Ray Fisher, will twine brightly colored streamers around the pole. The girls participating in the dance will be Gail Andrews, Maurine Brandon, Louise Brandt, Delores Cathey, Pat Fox, Carolyn Gunn, Pam Hicks, Mary Janda, Sherry Kinzey, Gladys Maybin, Liz Nance, Karen Owens, Vicki Setzer, Sally Smith, Joyce Van Hook, and Belinda Williams.

All guests are also invited to a buffet supper on the campus lawn at 5:00 p.m.

That evening the Brevard College freshmen will present to the sophomore class "Highland Spring." The formal May Dance will be held from 8 to 12 o'clock in the College gymnasium. The president of the freshman class, Doug Denney, and his date, along with the McLarty's, the Bennetts, and the Tauschers, will be receiving guests at the door.

"The Rhythm Makers," of Brevard, will provide music for the dance, and Geary Crist will act as master of ceremonies.

Dr. Crawford Is Guest Lecturer

Dr. H. Marjorie Crawford, Professor of Chemistry at Vassar College, was the guest lecturer of the Alpha Beta Gamma Fraternity on April 9 and 10. She is one of the two women members of the panel of Visiting Scientists, a program sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the Division of Chemical Education.

Christian Vocation Program To Be Held April 24-25

A program of the Commission on Christian Vocation will be held at Brevard, April 24-25.

Twenty-five junior and seniors from Western North Carolina will be given a series of tests. These tests will also be given to students in other parts of the state.

The purpose of this testing program is to determine if the students are prepared to do college work. These students do not necessarily have to enter the Christian field.

The Inspirational Vocational Message will be given by President Emmett McLarty, Friday at 9:30 p.m.

The Counselors for the clinic will be C. Edward Roy, Glen Hardesty, Leroy Scott, M. V. Thurmon, Joe S. Johnston, and Brunson Wallace. These counselors will assist the students during the two-day period.

Phi Theta Kappa Taps

During Chapel on April 15, twelve new members were tapped into Delta Pi, the Brevard College chapter of Phi Theta Kappa honor fraternity.

The new members include four sophomores: Julia and Dana Congdon, Judy Barnes, and Judy Conrad.

The eight freshmen are Deedra Dickinson, Rachel Ingel, Rosemary Webb, James Hall, Louis Jimenez, Michael Key, Bruce Wauchope, and Michael Wilson.

On April 17, the new members were formally initiated in a candlelight service in the faculty lounge. After becoming official members of the fraternity by repeating the pledge and signing the roll book, they were informally initiated at a dinner given by the old members.

To be eligible for membership in Phi Theta Kappa, a student must have maintained an overall 2.0 (B) average since he entered college as a freshman. He must have no F's on his record, and no more than one D. He must be a good citizen and of high moral character.

There are eleven old members:

Bud Tanner, David Alford, Robin May, Cheryl Greene, Marian Staley, Jane Martin, Mike Brown, David Cort, Melba Blanton, Doris Simpson, and Dona Vaughn.

The old and new members will meet next week to elect new officers.

The Delta Pi president, Bud Tanner, the chapter advisor, Mrs. J. B. Bennett, and the old members offer congratulations to these honor students.

Mr. Butterworth Receives Grant

Mr. C. A. Butterworth, business manager of Brevard College, has been awarded the Carnegie Scholarship Grant for the Short Course in College Business Management, at the University of Omaha, Omaha, Nebraska. The course will start on July 9, 1964, and will last for six days.

Mr. Butterworth will attend classes for thirty-six hours while he is enrolled in the course and will receive college credit.
