

Miss Gibbs Presents First Recital In DMB

Miss Martha Gibbs, instructor of voice at Brevard College, will present a faculty recital this coming Saturday evening in the auditorium of the Dunham Music Center. She will be assisted by Mrs. Adelaide Miller at the piano.

An honor graduate of Brevard College 1962, Miss Gibbs transferred to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She obtained her Bachelor of Music degree from UNC in 1964. At both institutions she majored in voice, studying with Harvey Miller at Brevard College and Joel Carter, Wayne Zarr and Wilton Mason at Chapel Hill.

Since she has been a counselor at the Brevard Music Center three years, as well as having

Mrs. Bohan Joins Faculty

A new math instructor, Mrs. Kathryn Bohan, joined the faculty of Brevard College this semester. Mrs. Bohan teaches Math 12 and 20. Though a native-born Yankee, hailing from Connecticut, she has lived in Cheraw, South Carolina, for the past 10 years, where her husband worked with Olin-Mathieson's branch plant there. Their move to Brevard was prompted by his transfer to the Olin-Mathieson plant here, as Employee Training Supervisor.

Modern teaching techniques in math give Mrs. Bohan little trouble, as she recently finished a course at the University of South Carolina. This is in addition to a B.A. in math at Albertus Magnus College and graduate work at Coker College.

Preview Given

On January 20, 1966, a student assembly was held in the Dunham Music Center to give the students of Brevard College some vital information pertaining to summer school, the new dorm under construction, Senior College Day, and the YES program.

Dean J. Braxton Harris was introduced by Dean Roberts. He then proceeded to tell of the new dormitory which will be finished some time this year. It will house approximately 180 students. The students who will be eligible to live in it will be those who have taken good care of their present rooms. He also urged students to care for all the new laboratory equipment in the Moore Science Building.

Dean Harris also gave information concerning summer school and the qualifications for entering. A poll was taken of the main courses that students would like to be offered.

Mr. Glenn Hardesty told of the plans for Senior College Day to be held on Thursday, January 27, 1966. There will be many colleges from all over the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Ohio, Florida, and Virginia. Mr. Hardesty reminded all the students to wear Sunday attire.

Mr. Harrison Tawney spoke next on the YES (Youth Educational Service). He announced that a meeting would be held on January 24, 1966, for all those students interested in the YES program. This program is designed to help the culturally deprived children of Transylvania County. He also announced a meeting of those students who are interested in the Student National Education Association to be held on February 7, 1966.

Dean Roberts concluded the program and the assembly was dismissed.

Because of a mix-up in housing, the Bohans didn't move in until the Monday before classes began, so she had little time to unpack before assuming classroom duties on Tuesday, "Which

Dr. McLarty Reviews College, Past And Future

Dr. E. K. McLarty gave his "State of the Institution" speech on January 19 at the first chapel program of the new semester.

The president reviewed the assets and problems of the past semester as well as the hopes of the administration for the present one. He commended the students for the adherence of the majority to the spirit of the rules at Brevard College and asked that the few individuals who differ not be allowed to give visitors a bad impression of the school. Dr. McLarty also spoke of the philosophy of the college and asked each person to uphold the standards set by the leaders in all aspects of the life of the school.

B.C. Welcomes New Students

Registration at Brevard College, marking the beginning of the new term, was held on Monday, January 17, for new and returning students. On that day, 462 students registered for classes which began on Tuesday.

Of the 462 students who registered for classes, 19 have just arrived on the campus. Students returning to Brevard after an absence are Danny Balzer, Perry Cartwright, Carroll Goodman, Patti Jo Greene, Toby Ives, and Charles Parrish. New students are Ledford Carpenter, Hot Springs, Virginia; Anne Hamerschlag, Brevard; Michael Henry, Horse Shoe; Patricia Holcombe, Weaverville; Patricia Hough, College Point, New York; LaVonne Kibler, Miami, Florida; Ellar Kiker, Raleigh; Jane McCullough, Medford, New Jersey; Lucci Parker, Washington, D. C.; Lois Robinson, Woodbury Heights, New Jersey; Stephen Robinson, Gainesville, Florida; Sandra Lucas, Hampton, Virginia; and Rosemary Underwood, Hendersonville.

WNC Portrayed

The AAUW of Brevard sponsored 'The Vanishing Frontier', a movie about Western North Carolina, on January 25 in Dunham Auditorium.

The life of the mountaineer with its very real advantages and disadvantages was presented in order to make clear the urgency needed in procuring help for these people, many of whom are direct descendents of the Scots or of Daniel Boone and other frontier figures.

Another of this series will be shown on February 28 at 7:30.

Williams Leads Young Authors

Composed of nine enthusiastic young writers, the Creative writing class held its first class period on Thursday, January 20, 1966. Mr. Edwin Williams, who is the class instructor, discussed with the class some of the different types of writing.

The purpose of the class is to give the young writer a chance to see whether or not he or she does have real talent and, if so, to give him a chance to develop this talent. The class will use as a textbook THE YOUNG WRITER AT WORK.

The class will begin with some of the simpler forms of writing and hopes to progress to poetry later on in the semester. Some of the types of writing to be covered are the short story, the essay, descriptions, and poetry. It is hoped that some of the material will be good enough to merit publication.

Cultural Aid Renewed

The FRIDAY AT FOUR series resumes this week in the small recital hall of Dunham Music Center. A program will be offered every week this semester. The series will present guest lecturers or faculty members who will speak or lead discussions in the humanities or related fields.

William Dowdney, instructor at the Job Corps installation in Pisgah Forest, will be the speaker this week. Mr. Dowdney, a native of Lombard, Illinois, graduated from Trinity College, Chicago, in 1962.

He served in the Peace Corps for two years in West Cameroon, Africa, as Teacher Principal in a Teacher Training College. He received his appointment in the Job Corps last year.

"Among other experiences this semester," said Mrs. Tauscher, "FRIDAY AT FOUR will take you to Mexico, give you a dash
