

Day Students Will Sponsor A
Sadie Hawkins Dance
Saturday, Feb. 18
(8:00-11:30)

The Clarion

In Auditorium
Everyone Invited
Wear "Dog Patch" Clothes
Ya'll Come!

VOLUME XXXIII

BREVARD COLLEGE, BREVARD, N. C., FEB. 11, 1966

NUMBER 14

New Life For Internationals

The International Relations Club held a meeting on Monday, February 7, in the Classroom Building to discuss plans for organizing an active group for second semester.

Plans for a debate entitled "Civil Disobedience" were discussed. A date for this debate will be set at a later date.

Mr. Tauscher is advisor to the group and Rich Armstrong is the acting chairman. Activities sponsored by the club will include debates, movies, and lectures. Faculty members will be invited to participate along with the students.

College Day Held For Students

On Thursday, February 3, the annual College Day Program was held in Dunham Auditorium. Freshmen and sophomores who plan to transfer after completing their work at Brevard College were interviewed by representatives from many senior colleges and universities. Bad weather forced the postponement of the program for a week, and some of the schools that were invited to send representatives were unable to do so at the later date.

The representatives, many of whom are admissions directors, discussed transfer procedures and explained the requirements of the schools they were representing. With the increase in community colleges that is taking place today, as well as the constantly increasing number of high school seniors who plan to enter college, the four-year colleges and universities are hand-

Ambassadors 'Move' For Sweetheart Bash

Both faculty and students are readily admitting that the Sweetheart Dance held this past Saturday night was the most successful dance in the history of Brevard College. It can be said that well over two-thirds of the college was in attendance.

The arrival of the Ambassadors was delayed due to car trouble. They arrived at the college about 11:45 and played until 1:00 a.m. Credit can be given to Deat Roberts for the girls' extended hours.

The entire auditorium was decorated with a "Liverpool" theme. A bar was set up toward the back and punch was poured from gallon jugs.

The evening was filled with fun and dancing. The Ambassadors' vocal trio, the Dynamics, topped the evening. Along with their fabulous singing, they displayed much talent in gymnastics.

About one o'clock, a group of weary but happy students trudged back to their respective dorms in hopes that this would not be the last dance of this kind.

NEA Meeting Outlines Clubs Goals And Ideals

Monday afternoon, February 7, a meeting was held in the CB Auditorium concerning the student program of the National Educational Association.

The speaker was Mrs. Emmons, who is state director of the student program for the state of North Carolina. She discussed the importance of the teaching profession and some of the goals of the NEA and of the state divisions. Two chief goals are to promote the cause of education and to improve the com-

—Turn to Page Three

What do you think of Ban the Speaker Laws? Civil Disobedience? Racial Demonstrations? The war in Vietnam?

You'll have a chance to participate in a FRIDAY AT FOUR discussion of these issues on February 18.

Come prepared. In the library Mrs. Williams has a table full of literature on these subjects. Mr. Williams will preside over the pow-wow.

icapped by the lack of adequate facilities to accommodate the transfer students that they would like to admit.

Clio-Euterps Sponsor Sledding At Cantrell

February 6, at 6:30 p.m., approximately thirty Euterps, Clios, and their dates piled into a bus and headed for the Cantrell Farm's snowy slopes, with their sleds under their arms and a gleam in their eye.

Once there, they spent several hours sledding and accumulating bruises. The project was jointly sponsored by the Euterpean and Cliosopic Societies, which also furnished hotdogs, baked beans, potato chips, and hot chocolate for the outdoor enthusiasts.

Mr. Quentin Cantrell, besides donating the snow, also drove the bus and furnished a cabin where the students could eat and thaw out.

Entertainment was furnished by David Tibb, who played the guitar, and by Miss Joan Moser and Miss Willoughby Jarrell, who sang folk songs.

"Everybody seemed to have a great time, even with all the pile-ups at the bottom of the hill," said Louise Causey, President of the Euterps.

Westminster

Gail Foltz spoke on the history, customs and beliefs of the Moravian Church at the February 6 meeting of Westminster Fellowship.

Future programs planned are: February 13, Mrs. Jones, Missions; and February 20 and 27, Mr. Munro, The Religion and Customs of Japan. The monthly evening meeting, February 20, will feature Mr. Dowdney speaking on the Peace Corps. Also, at the Brevard-Davidson River Church on February 18 at 6:30, the group is presenting "Where the World Begins," a play concerning world missions and civil rights.

READY FOR ACTION are the newly-elected class officers, (left to right) John King, Freshman Vice-President; Betty Kaye Fox, SGA Social Chairman, and Jack Peacock, Freshman Class President.

American, United Have Youth Rates

The American Airlines Youth Plan, & United's Youth Plan, have something to offer young people between the ages of 12-22.

United's plan allows young people who obtain an identification card to fly on United Airlines for half fare. To obtain an identification card, proof of age must be provided, along with a fee of three dollars, at any United Airlines center, or with any United Customer Sales Agent.

A holder of an American identification card can purchase, on a standby basis, a ticket for travel anywhere on American Airlines' Domestic System. He will then be boarded immediately after regular revenue passengers and military standbys.

Anyone interested in this program may obtain a free booklet entitled "Go G oAmerican" by writing to American Airlines, Youth Plan Headquarters, 633 Third Avenue, New York, N. Y., or by contacting Wayne Reynolds, for United.

Duke Model UN To Be Held Feb. 17-19

Duke University will be host to the yearly Model United Nations, February 9-12. Guest speakers will be Ambassador Adebo, Chief Delegate from Nigeria; Richard Pederson, counselor to the permanent United States Mission; Mary C. Wright, professor of history at Yale and expert on Chinese questions, and Addis and Crofut, popular folk singing group, who have entertained widely in Vietnam and at the White House. There will be the regular Model UN programs, the Security Council, Plenary sessions and committee debates.

Delegations this year will consist of four persons each to enable more countries to be represented.

Each year Brevard College receives invitations to participate in events of this type.

AND IT KEPT COMING down . . . record snowfall halts construction on the new co-ed dorm, slated for occupation in the fall of 1966. Only recently were workmen allowed to resume construction.