Grant Awarded To Cafeteria

WASHINGTON — College construction loans totaling $540,000 were approved here last Friday by the Department of Housing and Urban Development to help finance projects at two Western North Carolina colleges, Congressman Roy A. Taylor announced.

Western Carolina College at Cullowhee will receive $200,000 to aid in the construction of a student union building.

Brevard College, Brevard, will receive $250,000 which will be used to help build a new dining hall.

Green Hall Opens Doors

Green Hall will hold its long-postponed "At Home" tonight, March 18, from 7:30 to 10:30. All student and faculty are invited.

The entire dorm will be open for inspection. Boys may show their rooms to their dates. The rooms "will be clean for a change," said Dorm President Donn Key.

Refreshments consisting of cookies and punch will be served. Music will be provided by the residents.

Jewish Rabbi To Speak

Rabbi Stanley R. Funston, of Temple Ha Tephila in Asheville, will represent the Jewish Chautauqua Society as lecturer at Brevard College on Wednesday and Thursday, March 23 and 24.

The Rabbi will speak at chapel at 6:30 p. m. on Wednesday on the subject "Judaism - 4000 Years Young."

The Jewish Chautauqua Society, under whose auspices the Rabbi lectures on college campuses, is an organization which creates better understanding of Jews and Judaism through education. The Society is sponsored by the National Federation of Temple Brotherhoods.

MSM Elects

The Methodist Student Movement experienced a "shipwreck" program and elected officers (no connection between the two) Sunday night.

The newly-elected officers are Mark Price, President; Irene Johnson, Vice-President; Linda Nichols, Secretary; Deanne Barnwell, Treasurer; and Leslie Johnson and Loiselle Sigmon, Publicity Co-Chairmen. The new officers will be installed after Spring Break.

Hines Speaks

Edgar A. Hines, noted doctor, researcher, author and lecturer, spoke to history, English, and other interested students Monday, March 13 at 6:30. His topic was "Books That Changed The World."

He listed Thomas Hobbs LEVIATHAN, William Harvey's work on circulation of the blood, and Alfred A. Mahan's INFLUENCE OF SEA POWER ON HISTORY as books that changed the course of history. Declining to call them "great" he said that, though he was sure that there are great books, he couldn't define them.

Harvey's study of circulation especially interested him as a doctor, he stated. He illustrated Harvey's findings with slides.

Dr. Hines was a long-time staff member of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. He has written several books on circulation in conjunction with Dr. Nelson Barker.

B.C.'er To Go To England

Joseph M. Hoover of Prospect Park, Pa., a first year student at Brevard College, has been selected as the youth representative of the Annual Philadelphia Conference of The Methodist Church to two world youth conferences in England next summer.

He will represent the Philadelphia Conference at both the World Convocation of Methodist Youth at Kingswood School, Bath, August 12 to 17 and to the World Methodist Conference in London, August 18-26.

According to the Rev. Charles W. Phillips, Executive Secretary of the Philadelphia Conference, "Joe was chosen, after careful consideration of a number of prospects, because of character, Christian commitment, mental alertness, ability to relate well to other people, sense of commitment, leadership in the youth movement and a high sense of responsibility for carrying through on assignments." (reprinted from The Christian Advocate).

McLarty's Host Club

Dr. and Mrs. Emmett K. McLarty were hosts to Phi Theta Kappa at a buffet supper given at their home on Friday, March 11, at 6:00 p. m.

The dinner was given in honor of the members of the club, including the new Sophomore members recently inducted into the club, who were in attendance.

After the meal, President McLarty and his wife talked with the students, expressing their interest in the club and its activities and their willingness to help the members in any way they could.

Physicians To Lecture To Marriage Classes

Mrs. Harris' Sociology 28 classes will hear lectures from Dr. James W. Sanders, Jr. and Dr. Julius Sader on Tuesday, March 22, and Wednesday, March 30, respectively.

Dr. Sanders is a native of Gaffney, South Carolina. He is a graduate of Gaffney High School, the Citadel, Medical College of South Carolina, and has done post-graduate work at Cook County Post-Graduate School of Medicine in Chicago. He interned at Roper Hospital in Charleston, South Carolina.

In 1952, he and his wife moved to Brevard where Dr. Sanders physician in the general practice of medicine. He was also County Health Officer until November of 1954, when he was called into the service in the United States Air Force. He was stationed in Savannah, Georgia, at Hunter Air Force Base for two years. In 1956 he returned to Brevard and has several times served as Chief of Staff of the Transylvania Hospital. He has also been president of the County Medical Society. He held several offices in the Brevard Rotary Club, including the presidency, and is a member of the Good Neighbor Council.

Dr. Sader was born in the small Polish town of Lita (which is now in Russia). He was brought to this country as a baby and reared in Brooklyn. He was graduated from Townsend Harris — an accelerated high and preparatory school in New York, from the City College of New York, and from the Medical School of New York University.

After serving residencies in two New York hospitals, Dr. Sader opened an office as a General Practitioner in Brooklyn. At the same time, he was admitting physician at Kings County Hospital. He then attended John Hopkins Medical School, where he met his wife. Dr. Sader came to Brevard, then joined the armed forces and served for three years — the last two of which were in the European Theater of Operations, as a radiologist for the 44th Evacuation Hospital.

Busy in civic and service organizations, Dr. Sader has been president and served as a board member of several. More recently he was president of the Community Center, and, since its founding, a Member of the Board of the Transylvania Music Foundation. He has also been president of the local and district medical societies.

Both doctors will answer questions that have been posed by the students before the lectures. Comments will also be made on marriage — as a doctor sees it, the sexual side of marriage, the dangers of illegal abortions and the desirability of a premarital physical examination.
