

Dear students . . . Rejoice, for Spring Vacation Approacheth
(Tomorrow, Even).

The Clarion

As L. Miles used to say, "This Is The Day Which The Lord
Hath Made."

VOLUME XXXIII

BREVARD COLLEGE, BREVARD, N. C., APRIL 1, 1966

NUMBER 20

Martin Attends NJCAA Meet

On Sunday, March 13, 1966, Coach "Chick" Martin left by plane for Hutchinson, Kansas, to attend the annual NJCAA conference. The meetings are held in conjunction with the National Junior College Basketball Tournament.

Coach Martin attended committee meetings all day Monday and at various times during the week. Coach Martin represented Region X which includes North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia. Coach Martin was on the Committee on Baseball, the Committee on Districting, the Committee on Eligibility, the Committee on Football, the Committee on Service and Recognition, and the Committee on Soccer; the committees on districting and eligibility being the most controversial. He stated that the Committee on Districting discussed a proposed realignment of the districts. However, Region X would remain the same, regardless of any change.

THE EUTERPEAN SOCIETY recently elected its 1966-67 officers. They are as follows: President, Jeanne Jessen; Vice-President, Rosemary Williams; Treasurer, Becky

Clark; Corresponding Secretary, Edie Wysong; Reporter, Barbara Allen; Sergeant at Arms, Claudia Bergstrand.

COACH MARTIN

No major changes were made in the committee on eligibility. All bids were reviewed and dates for all the meets were set for 1966-67. Hutchinson, Kansas was also awarded a new ten-year contract to sponsor The National Junior College Basketball Tournament.

The basketball games began on March 15, and lasted through March 19. Three games were held each afternoon and three games were held each evening.

—Turn to Page Five

C. Taylor Tells Of Latin America

On March 29, Mr. Charles Taylor spoke to the history classes of Mr. Wilson about Latin America.

Mr. Taylor explained the economic and political aspects of the national stability of these countries. He also told the students about the worst problem of this section of the world, illiteracy, and the progress that has been made toward correcting it.

Mr. Taylor graduated from Wake Forest in 1963 and is now a graduate student in the law school there. During the past several summers, he has traveled extensively throughout Latin America and is well acquainted with the people and their customs.

Business Club Learns Of FBI

Mr. Stanley Settle, special agent of the FBI in Asheville, spoke to the Business Club, March 24 at 6:30 p.m. in the Classroom Building.

Mr. Settle was a former coach and teacher. After attending State College in Shippensburg, Pennsylvania, he did graduate work at Duke University. He joined the FBI in 1946, being stationed in Asheville since 1948.

Settle gave an intriguing talk to the students on the purpose, functions, and personnel qualifications.

—Turn to Page Five

Judaism-4000

Rabbi Stanley R. Funston, spiritual leader of Congregation Beth Ha-Tephila in Asheville, North Carolina, was a guest on the Brevard College campus on March 23 and 24. Rabbi Funston was sponsored by the Jewish Chautauqua Society, an organization which promotes understanding through knowledge of Jews and Judaism.

On Wednesday and Thursday Rabbi Funston met with each religion class. He explained the differences between Orthodox, Conservative, and Reform Jews. He pointed out that Judaism is a religion, not a nationality. He also emphasized the fact that Judaism will take converts, but unlike Christianity, does not seek out converts.

"Judaism — 4,000 Years Young" was the subject of the Brevard College Chapel Service on Wednesday night at 6:30. Rabbi Funston began by tracing the history of Judaism from 4,000 years back, to the present time. Jews have made a great contribution to art, science, and literature. It was pointed out that about 12% of all Nobel Prize winners in physics and chemistry are Jews.

Rabbi Funston is a member of the Lions Club, Board of Directors of the Jewish Community Center in Asheville, and a member of the Ministers Fellowship of Buncombe County. Ordained in 1963, Rabbi Funston received his BA in 1958 from the University of Cincinnati and his MA in 1963 from Hebrew Union College.

Tortures Organized For Summer School

Courses to be offered this summer at Brevard College have been announced by the Dean's office. Bulletins and application forms are available on request. Admission is on the same basis as admissions to any other session of the college.

The summer session seeks to meet four objectives within the framework of the purpose of the college as stated in the regular catalog. They are as follows:

1. To provide the opportunity for regularly-enrolled students at the college to broaden their studies or to accelerate their programs;
2. To enable fully-qualified new students to begin their work in June rather than September;
3. To make it possible for regularly-enrolled Brevard College students to make up deficiencies at full credit;
4. To offer to transient students in good standing the opportunity to take work creditable toward a degree elsewhere.

During the first session, June 2-July 8, courses offered will include English 11, English 21, History 11, History 21, Biology 11, Government 21, Psychology and Ed. 21 (General Psychology), and Religion 11.

The second term will begin on July 18 and will continue through August 23. The courses to be taught at that time will be English 12, English 22, History 12, History 22, Biology 12, Government 22, Sociology 21 (Principles of Sociology) and Religion 12. Regular members of the college faculty and staff will comprise the faculty and staff of the summer session. All college facilities will be available.

Tuition and fees for Day Students per term total $135.00. The fees for Resident Students will total $235 per term. A non-refundable fee of $25 is due with the summer school application and is deducted from the fees due at registration.

Easter Discussed

On March 27 at the Brevard-Davidson River Church, Donna Brundage, a member of the Westminster Fellowship, led the group in a discussion of Easter.

The meaning of the Easter egg and the bunny were explained as the students examined this day in several different depths. The customs of foreign lands that have been imported as well as native American ones of the Easter season were discussed.

In addition to these light aspects, the deeper religious meaning of this Christian holiday was explored. Several students said the program made them think deeply and seriously about a subject that they had usually considered only superficially.

Students Attend NEA

Several students from Brevard College were among those who attended the state convention of the Student National Education Association held in Raleigh on March 25 and 26.

The students left Thursday afternoon, accompanied by Mr. Tawney, who is advisor to the Brevard College faction. The meeting started with a luncheon on Friday, prior to which members from the numerous schools represented were introduced. After the luncheon, a talk dealing with the makings of a good teacher was given. Following this talk, candidates for the state offices were introduced, and each gave a three-minute campaign speech. After a two-hour free period, there was a social hour which included an informal gathering of the candidates and various representatives from the schools.

Friday night there was an NCEA meeting, the major part of which was devoted to the SNEA. There were three speeches given concerning higher education, followed by a panel discussion.

Saturday morning the SNEA business meeting was held. The outgoing officers were introduced, and the candidates gave impromptu speeches. Afterwards, delegates from the schools voted on the candidates, and club presidents discussed their club activities of the current year.

The Brevard group returned Saturday afternoon, with several interesting ideas which should help to improve the club's organization and efficiency on the Brevard College campus.

The Christian Council will sponsor an interdenominational Easter communion service April 2, at 7:30 a.m. in the Methodist Church Chapel.