BREVARD COLLEGE, BREVARD, N. C., APRIL 22, 1966

NUMBER 22

LIVING PROOF that Brevard's climate is healthy are the two bushes that "sprang" up over spring vacation. Actually, they were planted in the college's never-ending battle against ugliness.

YES Commends Brevard Program

Mr. Lowell Dodge of the Youth Educational Service of North Carolina visited the Brevard campus on March 28 and 29 to assist in the training and evaluation of the college student tutors.

Favorably impressed with the progress made in the Brevard program, Mr. Dodge said "the one at Brevard College, in my estimation, is the best organized program we serve." Brevard was evaluated in the light of the progress made on 20 other campuses in YES.

This progress can be seen in the often radical grade improvements, the large amount of parental involvements, the request for extra tutoring sessions, and the fact that one eighth grade girl walks three miles to her session twice a week.

Dr. Jeffers As Snoopy?

The Methodist Student Fellowship presented a play entitled "The Gospel According to Peanuts" to the Asheville District MYF Saturday, April 16, at the Methodist Church. The play was drawn from the cartoon strip by Charles Shultz with theological and philosophical interpretation.

The characters were Charlie Brown, Mark Price; Lucy, Judy Sigmon; Linus, Chuck Calkins; Snoopy, Dr. Jeffers; Schroeder, Allen Green; Mary Jane (Charlie's sister), Mary Ruth English; Violet, Lou Christley; and the leader, Mr. Williams.

Irene Johnson did a great job of directing, and the play was well received by the MYF'ers.

Phi Theta Kappa Announces Its 66-67 Members

Phi Theta Kappa, the national honor fraternity for junior colleges, held its public tapping ceremony of new members after Chapel, Wednesday, April 20.

John Brookshire, President of the club, gave a brief introduction and then called out the names of those to be tapped. Old members of the club presented the new members with white carnations and then escorted them to the front of the room. President McLarty congratulated the new members and then administered the Phi Theta Kappa pledge.

The first group to be tapped were sophomores who had met membership qualifications at the end of first semester and had already participated in the club's activities. They are as follows: Bruce Bryant, Buford Burke, Gail Drake, Donn Key, Cynthia Hunter, Diane Meyer, Lawton Roberts and Bill Smith.

The second group tapped were the following freshmen: Richard Armstrong, Deanna Barnwell, Tim Bryson, Carol Clayton, Linda Davis, Kathleen Hill.

W. F. Meets

Dr. John Folger, a local physician, spoke to the Westminster Fellowship on "Love, Courtship, and Marriage" on April 17 at the Presbyterian Church.

Questions about this subject were prepared by the class beforehand and were answered during the session. Dr. Folger discussed the moral aspects of his topic in depth and spoke on many phases of married life.

Kathy Kanipe, president, announced at this meeting that officers for next year would be chosen on April 24, 1966.

B.C.'s Spring Dance Court Selected

A tea was held April 17 at 3:00 p.m. for the twenty-one candidates for the Spring Dance Court. It was held in the Faculty Lounge of the Beam Administration Building with Lynn Freeman and Lynda George acting as hostesses. Also present was Lynn Cooper, coordinator of the Spring Dance activities.

The sophomore candidates were presented with pink carnations, the freshmen with white carnations and the judges with red carnations.

The judging committee was composed of Dr. and Mrs. Lea, Mr. Ernest Gilstrap, and Mrs. Ben Patterson (Patterson's of Brevard). The candidates were divided into four groups and were asked to introduce themselves and tell their home town. They were then asked questions by the judges and were judged upon poise, beauty, charm, intelligence, and appearance. A five-point scale was used for grading with five being superior. The judges said that it was

Workshop Slated

A very special group of students will join the students who will be on campus attending the second session of summer school during the week of July 24-30. At that time, under the direction of Mr. Earl McDermott, Jr., an associate of Keys Printing Company in Greenville, South Carolina, the Brevard Yearbook Workshop will be conducted.

Some 2,500 schools in the Southeast have been notified about the workshop. Faculty advisers and staff members of yearbooks are expected to live on campus during the week of the workshop and will have numerous opportunities to learn of the growing demands being placed on yearbook staffs and the

Dean Of College Names Marshals

Dean Braxton Harris notified the 1966 marshals of their honor on April 18, 1966.

The six marshals were as follows: Linda Davis, Chief; Jenny Munro, Janet New, Juliamae Rutledge, Cynthia Senn, and Wendy Sheridan. These students will meet and register guests on Saturday, May 14, usher at the commencement exercises, and lead the academic procession on May 15. The marshals are chosen on the basis of grade-point average, qualities of leadership, and character.

Linda Davis, Mullins, South Carolina; is majoring in liberal arts and plans to go to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill when she transfers from Brevard. A Brevard student, Jenny Munro is majoring in English and plans to attend either Greensboro College or Agnes Scott College, Georgia. Western Carolina College is the destination of Janet New, also from Brevard, who is majoring in math. A major in music is leading Julie Rutledge to a music conservatory from Brevard

College. Cindy Senn, liberal arts major from Homestead, Florida, hopes to attend the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill or Greensboro or Duke University. Majoring in liberal arts with a goal of either drama or zoology, Wendy Sheridan is from Brevard also and plans to go to some college in Florida.

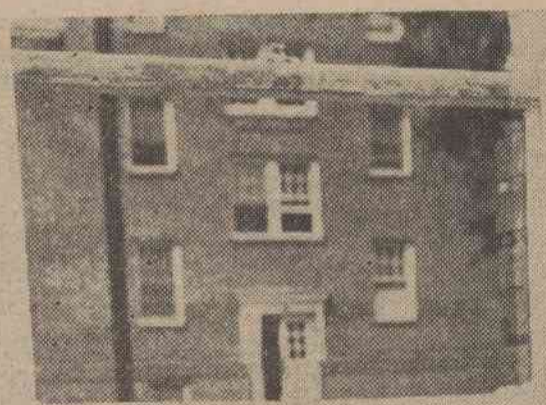

An appointment as marshal for the commencement exercises "is a coveted honor at Brevard College, for it denotes an excellence in scholarship and character which reflects high credit upon the student," said Dean Harris in his announcement to the six recipients.

Yearbooks Come; Editor Relaxes

Joan Holder, editor of the Pertelote, announced at chapel on April 21 that the yearbooks were available in the office of Mrs. Brona Roy, the faculty advisor.

The yearbook cover is simple and smart, the color scheme being brown and tan. The Pertelote expresses new ideas in the two-page spread as well as in the fact that it is dedicated to everyone in the college community rather than one person.

As Joan Holder said in the epilogue, this book should, in years to come, provide "a memory that is yours of a profitable, enjoyable year."

LIKE ALL STUDENTS with spring fever the Tauscher's twin collies, Diana and Athena, stare out the windows of a classroom. Luck is with them, their grades won't suffer for the momentary lapse.
