Folklore Club Plans; And Plans, And Plans

The Folklore Club will discuss The Other Mother Goose at their second meeting tonight at 7:30. Miss Moser will host the group at her home.

The folkrymes of the psuedonymous "Mother Goose" were, in reality, satirical to the point of being banned. Some had hidden, dirty meanings that come out only under scrutiny.

Using the book, The Annota- ted Mother Goose, the club will try to point out some of the meanings of the seemingly innocent children's poetry. Bring examples of Mother Goose from your childhood.

Also slated for the meeting will be a hoot, election of officers, and refreshments.

At the last meeting, it was decided to plan a field trip to hear the Sacred Harp Singers at Etowah, N. C. All students interested in attending should contact Lynn Cooper or Cheryl Anders. Lunch will be served.

Plans for this and other field trips, and possible projects for the upcoming year will be discussed at tonight's meeting.

the botany and zoology courses offered this past year. The entire course will consist of the principles of biology, followed by a semester of either zoology or botany with the first being a prerequisite for the other two. Only two of these courses will be required of a liberal arts major.

New Courses Are Available

The Curriculum Committee, under the leadership of Dean Braxton Harris, has adopted several changes in the course selections for the coming year and is considering a few more.

The three proposals adopted by both the committee and the faculty in the past several weeks included those made by the biology, business, and German departments.

A three semester biology course has taken the place of

The annual spring sunrise service will be held May 1 at Camp Greenville. The bus will leave Dunham Music Center at 4:30 Sunday morning, providing the weather is good. The speaker will be Rev. Edwin Williams, assisted by students in the different denominational clubs. Christian Council sponsors this annual event.

Tea Successful

The James Addison Jones Library held a tea for the faculty on April 22 to honor National Library Week.

Jeanne Jessen, Wanda Joyner, Virginia Lynch, and Jenny Munro, library assistants, greeted the guests and served at the tea. The several attractive book displays caught the attention of the guests, who were those interested in the library.

Mrs. Mary Stevenson, librarian, stated that about 50 people attended the tea, and that she was delighted by the interest shown in the new books.

Saturday, April 30, from 8:00 until 12:00, the MSM will sponsor a Coffee House. There will be plenty of coffee, cokes, and food plus good singing. Everything will be informal, Coffee-House style.

"Come with your favorite girl or guy or just stag if you'd like and enjoy an evening of sipping coffee, listening to good music, and just chatting," says Judy Sigmon, Chairman of the Coffee House Committee.

KNIGHTHOOD BLOOMS

Duke Ambassadors Fill Castle With Music As Students Dance In Spring-Warm Night

Surrounded by roses, Kathryn Hunter remarks in a dazed tone, "I really didn't believe it. As a matter of fact, I still don't believe it." For on Saturday night, April 23, Kathy was crowned Queen of the Spring Dance.

Kathy, the daughter of Mr. Howard Hunter, was born in the Mount Airy Memorial Hospital. She attended East Surry High School where she became President of the Future Homemakers of America, a cheerleader, and a member of the Spanish Club, Monogram Club, Beta Club, and Library Guild.

Since Kathy has been at Brevard College, she has made a worthy academic record for herself. She is a member of the Mnemosynean Society and is also a member of the Women's House Council.

Still bigger plans await Kathy. On August 7, 1966, she will marry Don Martint. They will attend Lenoir-Rhyne College in Hickory, N. C. in the fall.

Do blondes have more fun? Ask Kathy Hunter. She'll be the first to tell you.

"Knighthood In Flower" was the theme of the Spring Dance, held on Saturday, April 23.

Decorations expressed the medieval theme. Couples entered, through a drawbridge over a moat, a world of castles and king, knights and their ladies. Walls were covered by purple and red streamers, with bright shields hanging here and there. The lobby and refreshment area featured a huge mural with a white knight and charger proclaiming Knighthood In Flower. Tables were decorated with red carnations, white glads, black candles, and crown favors.

Says Lynn Cooper, Co-ordinator of the Dance Committees, "I would like to express the Freshman Class's gratitude to the many people who helped make our spring dance so successful.

"Our special gratitude goes to the many stores in the town of Brevard that accepted our charge slips without question; also we would like to thank Tinsley's nursery, Brevard Lumber Company and Pearlman's Furniture Store for their co-operation. We would also like to thank the boys who acted as our squires and pages and the girls
