

M. S. M. To Observe Tenebrae

Speech Class Presents Chapel

Mr. Alan Wallace's Speech class presented the Chapel service Wednesday, March 22. The theme was the Reformation—Four Findings.

The Invocation, given by Wanda James, was followed by the Scripture from the twelfth chapter of Romans by Bryan Doyle. The prayer was given by Jeannie Crenshaw.

The Four Findings were presented by Paul Allen, Wayne Sink, Linda Nichols, and Anne Hamerschlag.

PTK Visits Mexico

The local chapter of Phi Theta Kappa met on March 21 to hear Dean Willoughby Jarrell speak on Mexico.

Dean Jarrell included Mexican music, slides, books, and an exhibit in her program. "Mexico — A Land of Contrasts" pointed out the differences in geography, people, mode of living, clothing, and past and present. The ancient ruins of the Mayans and Aztecs were seen as were the skyscrapers of Mexico City.

The industry and commerce were discussed. Mexico is becoming industrialized, but handicrafts are still important in the economy. Taxco, a silver town, was seen with its Christmas decorations and flowers.

The exhibit included a guitar, money, and a picture made of bark. The color was formed from herb dyes and will remain true for centuries.

A meeting was called for April 4 at 7:00 to discuss the by-laws.

Alumni Earn Flying Wings

Francine LeBoeuf, who attended Brevard College in 1966, was awarded the silver wings of an American Airlines stewardess.

She completed her training at American's Stewardess College in Fort Worth, Texas; she is now assigned to flight duty out of New York City. During the seven-week training period, she studied over 100 courses, ranging from make-up and grooming to theory of flight. Francine's class was the third to be graduated from this unique school.

Attorney Speaks On Income Tax

Mr. Robert Gash, an attorney in Brevard, was guest speaker at the Business Club meeting March 21.

Mr. Gash spoke to the club members on taxes. Included in his talk was a discussion on income tax deductions. If a person owns some property that is suddenly damaged or destroyed, it is a legal deduction. On the other hand, if a heavy snow causes a building to collapse that is infested with termites, it is not. However, if the termite damage is large enough to take a risk, the case may be taken to a tax court and probably won. Sounds pretty complicated, doesn't it?

A former student of Brevard College and a graduate of the University of North Carolina, he has been practicing law in Brevard for several years.

Three B.C. Students Perform At Recital

On Friday, March 17, at 8 p. m., three students from the music department performed at a formal recital in Dunham Auditorium. Those performing were Deana Barnwell, Tim Bryson, accompanied by Julie Rutledge, and Lesley Johnson, all sophomores.

Deana Barnwell played the following pieces on the piano: Sonata No. 12, Op. 26 by Beethoven, Preludes, Op. 28, by Chopin, and Piano Pieces for Children, Vol. II. by Bela Bartok.

Miss Barnwell wore a pink gown of raw silk, styled with an empire waist line. After completing her education, Deana hopes to have a career in music education.

Tim Bryson played several pieces on the tuba. They included Concerto in A Minor by Antoni Vivaldi, Chaccone by Leo Sowerly, and Serenade No. 12 for Solo Tuba, by Vincent Perichetti.

Tim has just recently been accepted to the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia.

Lesley Johnson gave a piano recital. Her works included Etude Op. 25, No. 7 in C Sharp Minor by Chopin, Sonata Op. 14, No. 2 by Beethoven, and Danseuses De Delphes and Minstrels, both by Claude Debussy.

After graduating from Brevard, Lesley will attend Greensboro College to further her training in piano.

The three students were brought out for curtain calls. Following the recital, an informal reception was held in honor of the recitalists in the lounge.

U. Of Frisco Holds Summer Sessions

The University of San Francisco has announced that registration is open for its 17th Summer Sessions Abroad in Valencia and Palma de Mallorca, Spain, and in Guadalajara, Mexico.

All three summer programs operate as extensions of the University of San Francisco. College credit is granted directly by the Registrar of the University.

The summer sessions start June 26 in Valencia and Palma

Officers Selected

Officers for the Spanish-American Club for the 1967-68 year were elected on March 20.

Sandra Atkins will lead the club as president. Helping her will be Sharon Parker, vice-president; Tom McAuley, secretary; Jackie Lawing, public relations director; Deborah Cothran, assistant program director; and Ann Maiden, assistant public relations director.

Marshal Trammel, present president, announced that the next Spanish-American Club meeting will be conducted by the double slate of officers.

Ancient Ritual Held

A special Good Friday service of Tenebrae will be held in the Methodist Church Chapel, at 7:30 March 24, conducted by Mr. Edwin Williams.

The service will be adapted from an ancient ritual of the Eastern Orthodox Church and is a highly symbolic service. Tenebrae is a Latin word meaning darkness which will represent the period that Jesus hung upon the cross.

There is a candle burning on the center altar which represents the One who comes as the Light into our world of darkness. From this Light of Christ, candles, symbolizing the seven words from the cross, will be lighted. A candle will be extinguished as each word is read. At the conclusion the Light of Christ will be taken from the sanctuary and the service will be in the time of Tenebrae. The lighted candle will return as a symbol of our hope for the Easter resurrection.

The cross will be veiled in black and a crown of thorns placed upon it to symbolize Christ in the tomb. The congregation will leave the sanctuary quietly and return Easter morning when the cross will be unveiled with the resurrection.

Daily Services Held, Holy Week

The Kappa Chi group has sponsored a Holy Week Chapel this week.

The Holy Week Chapel, an idea of Maurice Hoover, simply presented all those who were interested a place for meditation with materials representing the major denominations for this, the last week of Lent. There were no planned services for the 7-8 a. m. and 5-6 p. m. times. Everything was on a voluntary basis.

The success of this Holy Week Chapel will determine whether the Kappa Chi will sponsor any such services in the future.

The CLARION staff wishes to extend its sympathy to Brenda Ervin on the death of her grandfather and its best wishes to Mrs. Norris, who is in the hospital.
