Fourth Lyceum To Be Presented April 26 And 27

Miles To Write Lessons

Louis Miles, chairman of the Division of Religion and Social Studies at Brevard College, has been invited by the Methodist Publishing House, Nashville, Tennessee, to write a unit of lessons on the narratives in the historical books of the Old Testament for the recently authorized revision of junior high church school literature. The lesson, entitled "The Past Is Always Present" will be published for use throughout the United States in the fall of 1968.

Asked about his writing assignment, Mr. Miles said, "I am trying something a little different with material that has been dealt with in a traditional manner. Actually, I am writing a short, eight chapter novel set in modern Jordan in which an American boy, an Arab Christian boy, an Arab Moslem, and an American girl, all about junior high school age, discover new meanings in the stories of Joshua, Abimelech, Jonathan, David and Solomon."

This is the first assignment from the Publishing House to write for the junior level.

Previously he has written units of material dealing with "Toward an Understanding of the Church," "Personal Freedom and the Protestant Heritage," and "Interpreting the Bible," all published in Christian Action within the last five years. About a dozen of his poems have appeared in Motive, magazine of M.S.M.

EASTMAN BRASS QUINTET

Brass Quintet To Perform

The fourth and final lyceum program under the production of the Brevard Mutual Concert Assoc. will be held April 26 and 27, at 8:15 p. m. in Dunham Auditorium and promises to be in the same excellent taste as previously established by the Lyceum series.

The Eastman Brass Quintet is nationally famous and has performed before discriminating audiences from coast to coast.

Making its debut in 1961 as a feature of the Annual Summer Brass Institute at the Eastman School, of Music in Rochester, N. Y., it was accepted at once; and after a series of concerts, decided to form a permanent group. From the beginning it enjoyed standing ovations and enthusiastic receptions.

From 1965-1966 the Quintet toured some 35 cities from coast to coast, a trip which was highlighted by an appearance in N. Y. at "Concert Party."

Possessing multi-sided virtuosity, the Eastman Brass Quintet performs the entire spectrum of brass literature from the 16th century to include music tower music, madrigals, and new music.

Each member of the Quintet is either a composer, an author, or a musicologist, speaks at least one foreign language; and all hold the Bachelor of Music and Master of Music Degrees.

Daniel Patrylak, who was graduated from the Eastman school, is the Quintet's trumpet soloist. He was trumpet soloist with the U. S. Marine Band and is presently Summer Asst. Director at Eastman. He and his wife Merlyn have two sons and two daughters.

John Thyhsen, graduate of Eastman, was the former 1st trumpet of the Phoenix Symphony, is a member of the Rochester Philharmonic orchestra, and has a number of solo performances and recordings to

Gay Nineties Come Alive

This Saturday night the Brevard Masquers will present a program of music and narration reminiscent of that golden era before the great depression, the gay 90's.

The three members of the cast all hail from Brevard and have been active in local cultural activities.

Mrs. Pat Fuleihan, who directed the Masquer's play last fall, "The Bad Seed," and directs the Brevard Little Theatre, will narrate.

Mrs. Ruth Hunter, who served as soloist with the Brevard Civic Chorus and director of the Presbyterian Choir, will sing.

Mrs. Kay Storrs, an active proponent of culture in the community and mother of Miss Kim Storrs, a student here, will

Build-A-School Reaches Half

The Build-A-School fund has reached $540; the latest money was donated by the dorms from the Beam, Jones, and Green Halls dance.

This money raises the total to over the half-way mark. Because of the work of many people and many groups, we are getting nearer our goal," said Miss Bobbie Jean Nicholson.

The next plans for Build-A-School include a volleyball game between the Girls' All-Stars and the Faculty Women. At half-time there will be an auction that no one should miss. Services as well as goods will be offered.

Everyone is urged to attend and support this program.

Trustees Scheduled For Meeting

The trustees will hold their annual meeting at Brevard College May 11 and 12.

On Thursday at 4:00, they will tour James Addison Jones Library and attend the opening ceremony. This will be followed by a visit to Annabel Jones Dormitory. A dinner will be served in the student lounge. The Executive Committee meeting is scheduled for Thursday night at 7:30.

Friday morning will be taken up with Committee meetings and then the General Meeting. The visit will be concluded with lunch at 1 p. m.

President McLarty has urged the trustees to make a special effort to attend, as "much progress has been made by the College since the last meeting of the trustees; and the college community wishes to keep trustees informed concerning these advances."

JUDY ARMENTROUT, V. P. of the Business Club, goes over the program with alumni, Mrs. Ruth Osteen, Mrs. Laura Miller, and Mrs. Keitha Reddick.
