Crawford Shows Chemistry Can Be Fun

The chemistry students at Brevard College were shown this week that chemistry can indeed be fun and interesting by Dr. Thomas Crawford of the U. of Louisville. Dr. Crawford received his Doctorate degree from the U. of Louisville and is now an instructor in chemistry at that University.

On Monday and Tuesday, Dr. Crawford delivered a lecture concerning co-ordination chemistry to Miss Bobbie Jean Nicholson's chemistry classes. Monday night in Dunham Auditorium Dr. Crawford exhibited his talents as sort of a roving ambassador for the chemistry profession. Not only was Dr. Crawford's science seminar informing and interesting, but with the help of his diversified talents and a few chemicals, he was able to put on one of the most comical and entertaining shows that has lighted Dunham stage.

It is interesting to note that Dr. Crawford at one time had wanted to go into show business. However, he said, because of lack of talent, he became a teacher. However, no lack of talent was shown as Dr. Crawford demonstrated his knowledge of chemistry. Among the many experiments he performed was the production of a ten-foot strand of nylon and an exploding replica of a grain silo showing the effects of the combustion of grain.

One of the high lights of the show came when Dr. Crawford sang and then changed his voice by inhaling helium gas. For his grand "folly," Dr. Crawford, with the help of an unknown chemical, changed the President of the Brevard SGA into a girl. As it turned out, the experiment was only a joke, and the president retained his masculinity.

The science seminar was ended with a rendition of the chemist's version of "England

Williams To Speak At Service

The annual Sunrise Service at Camp Greenville will be held Sunday morning, May 14. This impressive service is early tradition sponsored by the Brevard College Christian Council. Mr. Edwin Williams will deliver the sermon, entitled "The World of the Grass and the Eagle." Also participating in the service will be several Brevard students.

The service will be held at the chapel at Camp Greenville. The chapel is a rustic open-air structure of stone which sits atop of a cliff overlooking the valleys of South Carolina.

Transportation for students will leave Sunday morning at 5:30, and return about 9:30. After the service, coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Synge, Chekhov Are Featured

Students in the INTRODUCTION TO THE THEATRE course at Brevard College will present two one-act plays on Friday, May 11, and Saturday, May 12, at 8:00 p. m. in the Dunham Music Center Auditorium. The public is invited at no admission charge.

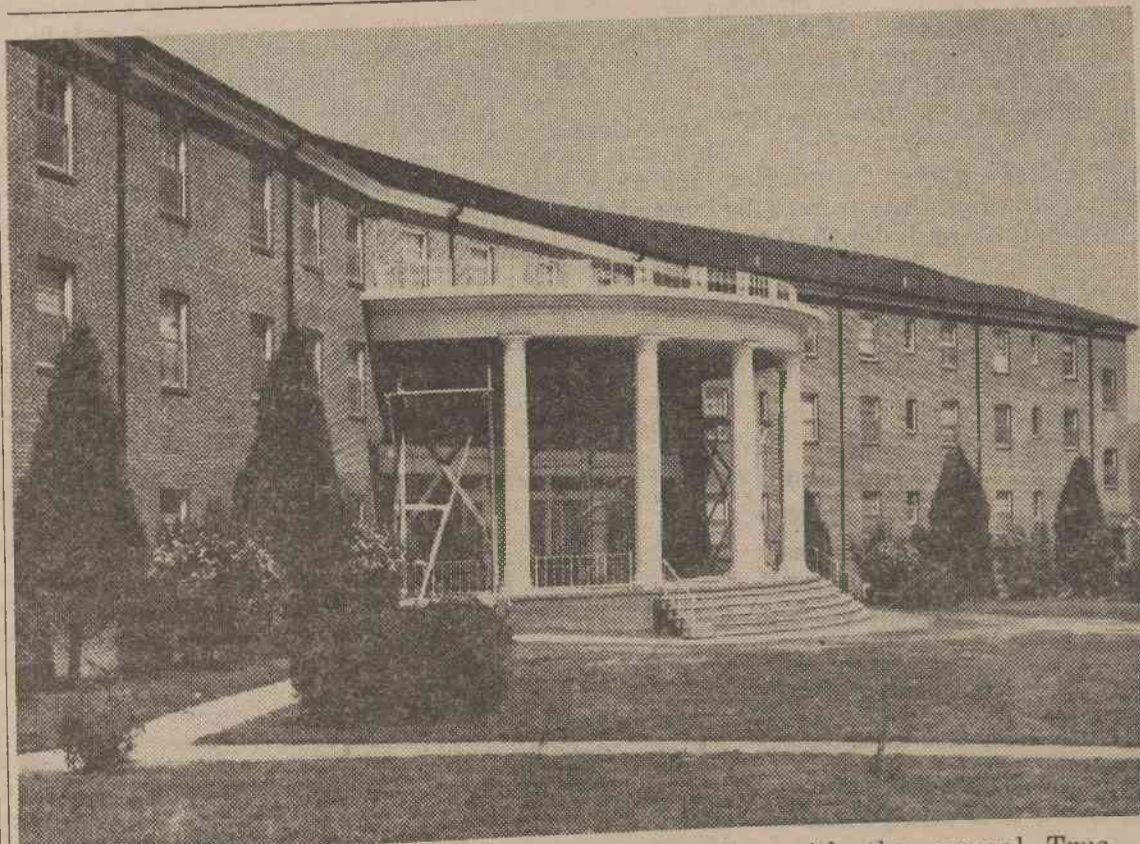

The program will consist of RIDERS TO THE SEA, by J. M. Synge, THE PROPOSAL, by Anton Chekhov, and several one-character scenes from plays enacted by students of the class.

RIDERS TO THE SEA is the most impressive of the Synge one-actors. The setting is on an island off the west coast of Ireland around the year 1900. It has to do with the mother of six fishermen sons, who are drowned at sea.

Chekhov, one of the masters of Russian literature, wrote five or six short plays in which he shows the lighter side of Russian country life. In these plays he appears to be asking his audience to cast off restraint and laugh with him at the stupidity and naivete, as well as good-heartedness, of the people he knew so well. THE PROPOSAL is an uproarious farce. The story tells of the efforts of a nervous and excitable man who starts to propose to an attractive young woman, but who gets into a tremendous quarrel over a boundary line.

Kim Storrs, Susanne Hegge, Betsy CcCown, George Patterson, Jack Peacock, and Patricia Crawford will act in the productions.

The production is under the direction of Alan Wallace.

THE DEDICATION of the portico on Jones Hall, along with the new library, will be held on April 11, in conjunction with the annual Trustees' meeting.
