

Hunt, McLarty Speak At Brevard Graduation

Annuals Expected Any Day

Patti Keith, editor of the Pertelote, has announced that the presses at Keys Publishing Company, Greenville, S. C., this year's Pertelote will be late. There is a possibility that the annuals may arrive before graduation, although it is doubtful. If they do arrive, they will be given out on Saturday.

Patti stresses the fact that everyone will receive a Pertelote. They will be mailed out and everyone should have one within a few weeks after graduation.

The annual staff wishes to express its regrets that they could not be ready on time for the students to receive them before graduation.

Four Awards To Be Given

Graduation is a time of rewards. In addition to diplomas and intangible rewards, four others are given at this time—the Art Purchase Award, the Morton Award, the Olin Scholarship, and the WOW (Woodmen of the World) history award.

The art reward is one purchase award of $35 and five honorable mentions. This art work is bought and used by the College. Up to this time, this has been a sophomore painting award, but it is now open to freshmen and sophomores in sculpture and painting. Professor Al Sarvis of Western Carolina, who had an exhibit at B.C., will judge the art work of Mr. Tim Murray's students.

The Morton Award, given to the best citizen in the sophomore class, is a cash prize of $25. The student is chosen solely by the faculty on such merits as they deem important. This award was begun by Dr. L. Thomas Morton of Charlotte in memory of his infant daughter and later enlarged to include his son.

Started in 1958, the Olin Scholarship is an $800 award, given in two $400 installments, to the person who shows the most chance of future success in the various fields of study. The money, donated by the Olin Mathieson Corporation of Pisgah Forest, is assigned by a faculty committee on Honors and Awards. This money, which is sent directly to the Admissions Office of the recipient's senior college, is designed to make the financial burden of college a little smaller. Save-A-Child Surpasses Goal Of $250

The Save-A-Child campaign, now officially over, raised the grand total of $450, announced co-chairmen, Pam Thomas and Barry Wheeler.

This money will be used for two purposes. The first, which is mandatory, is $190 to be used for Yung Hwan Yoon's expenses during the coming year. The additional $260 will be put in his scholarship fund which is steadily growing. This will enable him to attend college when he completes school and his military obligations in Korea.

Pam and Barry would like to thank everyone who helped, both clubs and individuals, and especially the Save-A-Child committee who helped them so much.

Alumni Honored

An alumni luncheon sponsored by the Alumni Association will be given in honor of the graduates on May 27 at 1 p.m. in the college cafeteria. It will officially begin the graduation exercises. Mr. Henry Ridenhour, who graduated from Brevard in 1940, will be the guest speaker. Members of the graduating class will be officially welcomed into the Association.

At 8:00 on Saturday night the Music Dept. will present the Wind Ensemble in a concert in honor of the graduates and their guests. This program will be held in Dunham Auditorium.

At 9 p. m. Saturday evening, the graduates and their families are invited to attend the President's Reception to be held in the Faculty Lounge.

Build A School Reaches Goal; $1,000 Is Raised

Brevard College did it! $1,000 was raised for Build-A-School.

This program was begun just before Christmas and was going "full speed ahead" by second semester. Through the Peace Corps, the money is used to buy building materials for a school in which the native people supply $400 and all the labor. This school is built overseas in a remote area which doesn't have one at present.

Five Teachers Leave

Five members of the faculty and staff have resigned, effective in June.

Mrs. Ruth Wagenfeld Alexander of the Biology Department will be teaching in Greensboro next year. The Alexander family will be moving to Greensboro because of Mr. Alexander's new assignment with the Daniel Construction Company there.

Mrs. Marie Benge Craig of the Mathematics Department will also be moving. Her husband is with the United States Forestry Service and has been assigned to a new area in the southeast.

Mrs. Harriette Talley of the Mathematics Department will be busy being wife and mother in the Talley household. Coach Talley will remain with the faculty to help lead the Brevard College athletic teams on.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Williams will be moving to Chapel Hill. Mr. Williams will begin his study toward a Ph. D. degree in English. Mrs. Williams will be a member of the University library staff. This summer before settling down in Chapel Hill, they will tour Europe for 10 weeks. The countries on their itinerary will include France, England, Scotland, Denmark, Germany, and Italy.

Mrs. Alexander says that their move will be permanent as far as they know; but if her husband hadn't been transferred in his business, she'd be at Brevard next year. She has "mixed emotions" about her move — she's glad about going but not glad about leaving Brevard behind. Having loved the students here at Brevard, she knows that she will love the students elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams leave Brevard's life and memories behind. Mr. Williams is anxious to extend his teaching range, and for Mrs. Williams it will be like going home, since she has worked in the UNC library before.

All of the resignations were submitted in order for each to pursue their own personal endeavors. We wish them success and happiness.

A dance for the graduating class of Brevard College will be held prior to graduation, Friday, May 26, at 8:30 in Dunham Auditorium. Entertaining at the dance will be "Ace and the Unknowns," a combo from Greenville, S. C.

All students who are on campus are invited to attend, including Freshmen and Sophomores. A charge of 25 cents will be charged to all Sophomores who attend. The proceeds will help pay for the dance.

President, Bishop Lead Exercises

Commencement exercises will be held Sunday, May 28, in Boshamer Gymnasium. The Baccalaureate Sermon will be given at 11:30 a. m. by the Reverend Earl Gladstone Hunt, Jr., presiding Bishop of the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference.

Bishop Hunt is a native of Johnson City, Tennessee. He received his B.S. from East Tennessee State University and his B.D. from Candler School of Theology at Emory University.

He is currently a trustee of Emory U., High Point College, Brevard College, Greensboro College, and Pfeiffer College.

Bishop Hunt is especially concerned with the Christian's awareness of the social issues of the day.

President Emmett Kennedy McLarty, Jr. will be the speaker at the graduation ceremonies at 3:00 p. m. A native of Asheville, he received his Bachelor's degree and his B.D. from Duke University where his major field was the psychology of religion. He received his Doctor of Divinity from Pfeiffer College in 1958.

In 1934 Dr. McLarty joined the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church serving in, among other pastorates, Greensboro, Charlotte, Morganton, and Salisbury. In addition to teaching at training schools, he has frequently served as guest minister at Religious Emphasis Weeks at colleges in the state and churches in N. C. and Va.

In 1957 Dr. McLarty became President of Brevard College. Active in civic affairs, he is the Director of the Chamber of Commerce. He has also served as president of the N. C. Council of Church-Related Colleges, Vice-President of the N. C. Foundation of Church-Related Colleges, and as a member of the Board of Directors of the Children's Home Society of N. C. Presently he is a member of the Conference Board of Ministerial Training and Qualification.

The CLARION Staff would like to dedicate the last issue of the paper to Mrs. Sigmon.
