

The Clarion

remains a fool
his whole life long.
Martin Luther

BREVARD COLLEGE, BREVARD, N. C., SEPTEMBER 29, 1967

Number 4

Who loves not women, wine, and song

Volume XXXV

Business Club Holds First Meeting

Unique Chapel Program Presented

Last Wednesday night Brevard College students were exposed to a completely new experience. An atmosphere was presented to us that was ideal for the opening of the 1967-68 sport season. Mr. Loren Young, famed track star, spoke on the importance of sports in the student world. Mr. Young was a candidate for the 1948 Olympics in the track and field events. He still participates in cross country meets.

Mr. Young spoke on the importance of spirit and drive in a sport. He emphasized the feeling obtained through pain, towards victory. Mr. Young said that the most vital ingredient necessary in achievements in sports is endurance.

To set the atmosphere, the chapel services were held in the gymnasium. Thus, school clothes were acceptable.

The reactions of most of the students were extremely good. He appeared to be one of the most enthusiastically received speakers we have had. Mr. Young held the attention of the students because he spoke of things that were closely related to the student body.

Mr. Young is a graduate of Duke University and has spoken to audiences in Europe and the Scandinavian countries.

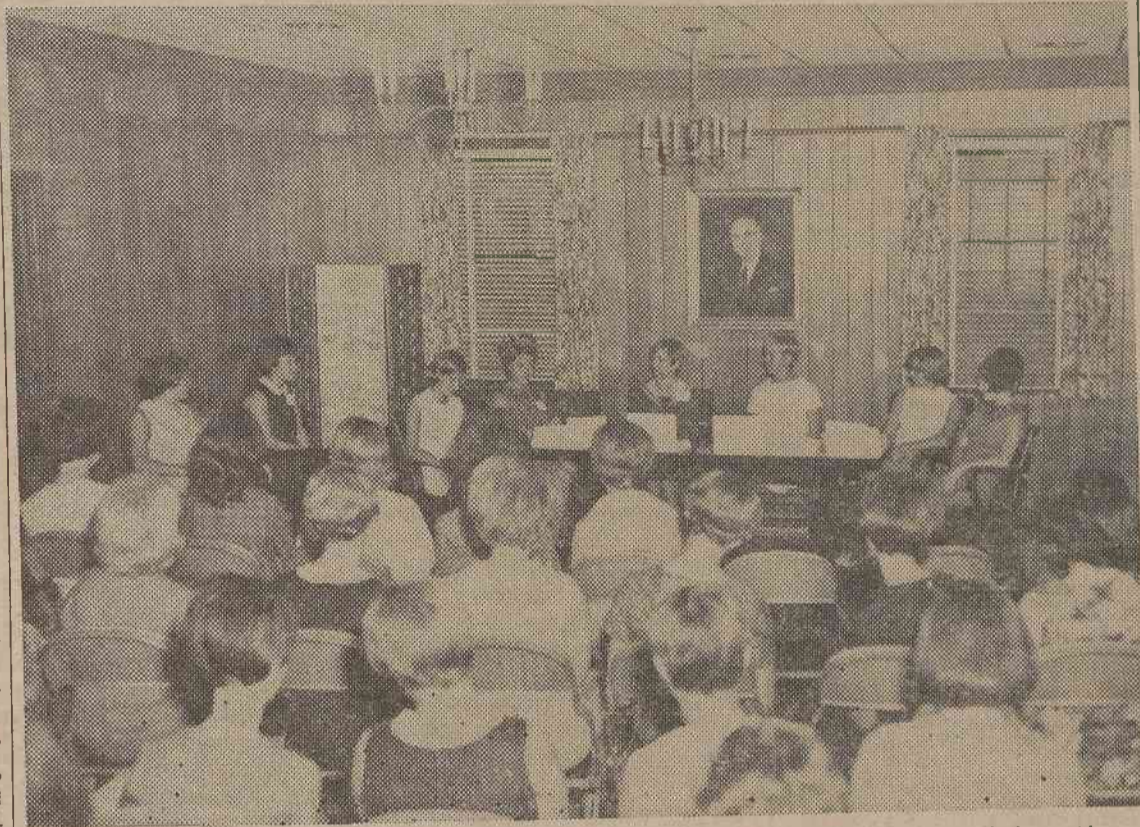

He is a representative of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and holds an executive position in the nationwide organization.

Clarion Receives Publicity

The "Clarion" last week received much publicity by the United States Air Force in a very odd fashion.

Mr. Jimmy Alderman, manager of the college store and master sergeant in the Air Force Reserve, left Brevard last Saturday for the Asheville Airport to catch a plane for the military maneuvers at Savannah, Georgia. Included in his possessions was a copy of the Clarion.

While on the plane to Savannah, Mr. Alderman began to read the copy under the watchful eye of a major sitting beside him. Noticing the article about Mr. Alderman which appeared in the paper, the major asked if he could have the paper. Mr. Alderman gave him

NEW AND OLD members of the Business Club hold their first get-together in the Administration Building.

The Business Club had its first meeting for new members on Thursday, September 21. The meeting was held at 6:30, in the reception room of Beam Administration Building. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Grace Munro, is open to all students taking a business course or majoring in business.

Thursday's meeting was opened by the club president, Becky Miller, and a new vice-president, Linda Offutt was elected. This was followed by a panel discussion of summer jobs. Participating in this discussion were Jeannie Selleck, Carol Mather, Deb Peterson, Anne Fisher, Linda Ouffutt and Patsy Knox. Jeannie Selleck acted as moderator. This panel answered questions about getting jobs, salaries, bosses, and embarrassing situations on the job.

Following the meeting, the group enjoyed a social hour with refreshments.

The Business Club holds meetings every month. Guest speakers are planned for each meeting to speak on different aspects of careers in business. President Becky Miller was pleased with large turn out at the Thursday meeting and hopes to make the Brevard College Business Club the most successful club on campus this year.

Music Festival Scheduled Oct. 8-15

Brevard College is planning a festival of contemporary music for October 8-15. All musical divisions will be involved in the production. Beginning Sunday, at 11:00 A. M., the college will present two contemporary anthems at the regular Sunday service of the Brevard Methodist Church. Then on Sunday afternoon, the choir will combine with the Glee Club, the Brass Ensemble, and the Methodist Church Chancel Choir to present a special program of modern music.

On Wednesday, a concert featuring students from the music department will be given in the Dunham Fine Arts Center at 4:00 P. M. At chapel service that night, Rev. James S. Barrett, Dean of the college at Spartanburg Junior College, will bring the evening message. Special music for this program will be presented by the Col-

—Turn to Page Two

the paper as the plane winged toward Savannah.

Upon his arrival at Savannah, Mr. Alderman engaged in military experiences as part of the 165th Air Wing of the Georgia Air National Guard. Later in the weekend, Mr. Alderman noticed a familiar object on the bulletin board.

"It was a xeroxed copy of the Clarion stated Mr. Alderman. It seems that the project of posting the paper was engineered by Colonel William Kelley, commander of the 165th and former Georgia Man of the Year. I imagine that news of the Clarion is spread over the entire country by now."

DR. J. BRAXTON HARRIS shown with I. M. Baldwin of Fletcher, and his daughter Sherry. Mr. Baldwin is an alumnus of the first graduating class of Brevard College in 1936. Sherry is enrolled as a freshman for the fall semester.

Chaplain Roy Is Speaker

Last week, the Board of Education, Western North Carolina Conference, sponsored a leadership training program for the local Methodist Churches of Forest City. The program, conducted for adult leaders and teachers, had as its speaker Chaplain C. Edward Roy of Brevard College. Teaching five, nightly, two-hour sessions, Chaplain Roy dealt with a survey of the New Testament.

This week, beginning Sunday night in the Brevard Methodist Church, the Chaplain talked on "How to Read and Study the Bible." The course continued for five days ending Thursday. Chaplain Roy teaches in various training schools once a semester.

From July 20 to August of this year, Chaplain Roy was a member of an archaeological expedition to Israel. Possessing military passes, he and his companions were allowed to travel across the entire nation, including the Holy City and West Bank of the Jordan River. He has consented to write several articles for the CLARION concerning his enlightening visit.

Whenever I feel like exercises, I lie down until the feeling passes.