Tennis Team Ends Fall Practice

The Brevard College tennis team ended fall practice, October 11, and although Brevard lost its three top players last year, including the Conference Doubles Champions, Larry Smith and Herb Rehberg, this could be a fine season for the team provided all members working out this fall return to play in the spring.

The players out this year show more overall depth and potential than last year's team at the same time of the year, although Brevard ended up with the best tennis season in the history of the school last spring. The toughest opponent in the Conference should still be Anderson Junior College who won the Conference last year and gave Brevard their only defeats. Anderson is reported to be even stronger this year.

Richard Marvin and Steve Williams will probably be battling for the number 1 position. Williams could well be the best player in the Conference by his sophomore year, and shows much promise as a freshman. Marvin has improved greatly over last year, and has all the strokes necessary to give the opponent a tough match.

Pete Skarinka is a returning sophomore who is also playing much better than last year. The most improved player on the team is Tommy Andrews, a freshman. His game has developed in leaps and bounds during the fall practice session, and Tommy will be seeing quite a bit of action in the future if this improvement continues through the spring.

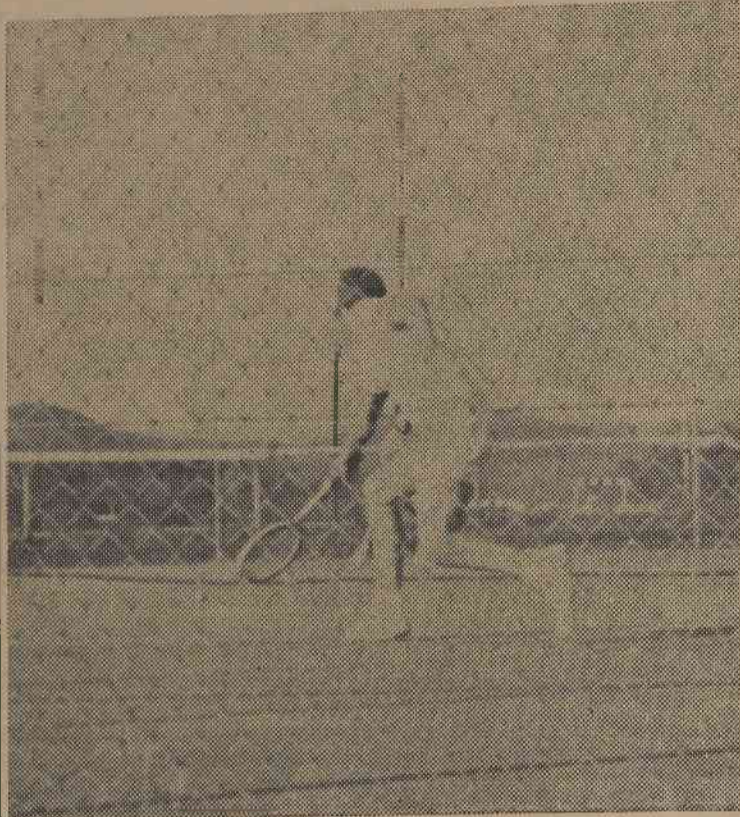

Another freshman that is showing a lot of promise is Jerry Sexton. Jerry has a strong forehand and is capable of becoming a fine player. Steve Huggins, a sophomore, is the sixth player out for the team. Huggins could be a big help to the team if his strokes can become steadier by next spring.

"Roadrunners" Trample Carson-Newman, 15-50

The Brevard Cross Country team handed Carson Newman an overwhelming defeat of 15-50. Coach Talley was well pleased with the team's running. The coach feels that the team is doing much better than last year's team at this time, and an undefeated season is definitely in sight.

Outstanding freshman Bob Gray came in first, setting a new record of 14:44 over last year's Tommy Hodges' record of 15:23. Dave Fussell came in second, also breaking Hodges record mark. Mike Scurto, who is improving every meet placed third, with Ned Jones, Bob Julian, Jim Thames, Charlie Allen, and Mike Poole, finishing in this order.

The team has a good shot at the Nationals in New York, November 11, with runners such as Bob Gray and Dave Fussell.

Team Defeats Wingate

Brevard bounced back from their disappointing loss to Clemson, to shut out Wingate, 3-0, behind the outstanding defense of Bob Johns, and goals by Malcolm Carsten and Randy Ward.

Carsten scored the initial goal in the first period on a rebound from a shot by Dave Mullis. In a game of good defense by both teams, this was the winning goal for all intents and purposes. The rest of the first period was scoreless.

The second period saw no change in the score. Both teams played excellent defense, with Brevard controlling the ball the majority of the time.

The final two periods were featured by excellent scoring plays of Randy Ward. He boot-ed home two goals to add insurance to Brevard's lead.

This was John's first shut-out, and the overall defense of Brevard looked greatly improved. They go into Saturday's Homecoming game, with a 3-2 record, against Tusculum College. They have defeated Tusculum 5-0 earlier this year in Tennessee. Homecoming Day should be a winning one!
