Brevard Alumni Are Pursuing Athletic Careers

DANNY DENTON

Danny Denton, a former baseball and basketball standout here at Brevard College, now has a new goal: to play Atlantic Coast Conference baseball at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Danny, after hitting .280 and .333 respectively during his two-year stay at Brevard, accepted a scholarship offer last summer to continue his career as a slugging shortstop at UNC. He feels as though it will be a real challenge to make the Carolina squad and that tougher pitching will be the biggest obstacle that he will face.

DAVE FUSSELL

Dave Fussell, co-captain of last year's track team and cross country team, is setting the pace for the University of Mississippi runners this year. Dave, based on his performances thus far in the season, is NO. 1 for Ole Miss.

Dave was offered six full grant-in-aids and several partial grants upon graduating from Brevard last spring. Dave has no regrets concerning his choice of schools and seems to have "a running start" toward a good year.

SPORTS ACTION

A Thought At Homecoming

With the annual celebration of Homecoming only a day off, students, and especially the freshmen, may wonder why such emphasis is placed on Homecoming and the two athletic events that are the afternoon's main attraction.

A sense of pride and getting involved in campus activities has a great deal to do with Homecoming. The athletic events, soccer, and cross country, are an integral part of becoming involved and being proud of Brevard College. Through athletic competition, either by participation or support, a student gets to do something for his school. By giving a little extra effort and enthusiasm to the team, the student who otherwise has no great athletic ability can really become a part of his team's march to victory, or its agonizing slide to defeat. Either way, however, the person is a part. He now belongs. Whether he intends to or not he has become one of the countless thousands who now give a little of themselves to make Brevard College a better institution.

With two such fine competitors as our cross country and soccer teams this year, no one should hesitate to risk a little enthusiasm for his school. Give a little of yourself. Brevard College needs you.

Gray, Fussell Do Honors

The cross country team kept its unblemished record October 4 by defeating Wingate 40-18.

Bob Gray again paced the road runners, breaking the course record by posting a time of 14:04. Jim Fussell finished second and also had a very good time with a 14:40 clocking.

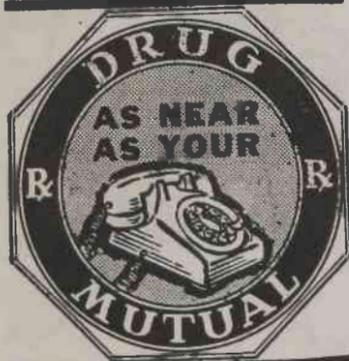

The team hosts Wofford and Milligan here tomorrow for the Homecoming meet.

Tornadoes Bow To Tusculum

The soccer team dropped its first game of the season October 5 with a 7-4 setback at the hands of Tusculum.

Scoring for Brevard was Ed Holder, Jim McCombs, Cedric Guthrie, and a miscue by the opposing team, giving the Tornadoes a goal.

After this setback, the team should be ready to bounce back tomorrow for a good Homecoming match against Wingate.
