

New Art Instructor Gives Views On Art

Mrs. Lyda Plain, the new Art Instructor, here has her own views about art. A graduate of Brevard College in 1965, Mrs. Plain was a student of Mr. Tim Murray, the present art instructor. She also was graduated from American University in Washington, D. C. According to Mrs. Plain each type of art has its own merits. Whether a picture painted by using chalk, water colors, oil, or decoupage, they are all important. A picture can be very simple and yet still have a very deep meaning. The greatness of a picture comes from the different ways that people interpret it. As for her favorite artist, in Mrs. Plain's opinion, she is her own favorite. Students of Mrs. Plain's admit that she is strict in her course but that she knows her art. Knitting is one of her favorite hobbies. Mrs. Plain is a native of Arlington, Virginia.

Sweetheart Dance Set For Saturday

The Garden of the Sweethearts will be the theme for the annual Nemo - Delphian Sweetheart dance to be held in Dunham Auditorium, tomorrow night from 8-12. The Capris from Columbia, S. C. will furnish the music. The dance, sponsored by the Nemos and Delphians is their major project of the year. Their decorations consists of an entry bridge and fountain. The theme will be carried out with hearts and roses. The highlight of the evening will be the announcement of the Delphian Sweetheart, chosen from the court of three — sophomores and two freshmen. The sophomores are Sally English, a cheerleader, escorted by Phil Bauguess from Winston - Salem; Emily Galloway, escorted by Tony Felt-house, from Western Carolina University; and Linda Dease also a cheerleader, escorted by Ed Holder of Greenville, S. C. The freshmen contestants are Jan Gast, escorted by Walter Schin from Jacksonville, Fla.; and Sally Helms, escorted by George Wilson from Charlotte. The Nemos and Delphians extend an invitation to all.

ward is not a glimmering radiant sphere of perfection, neither is it a completely murky morass of unfair prejudices and unconcerned personnel. If it is not a Utopia worthy of and compatible to intellectuals such as Mr. Rankin, neither is it a "very, very junior college."

something like that.

Anyway, if any girls are interested, I'll be in room 206 Taylor Hall from 6:30 p. m. to 6:30 a. m. tonight. I would really enjoy having some company, but please, just one at a time. You know there are regulations when one is campused.

Sincerely,
Ken Eaton

Parlez-vous Francais?

This semester, the French Department at Brevard College is working on plans to create a French Club.

The purpose of the club, according to Mr. Sinclair, French instructor, will be "to promote cross - cultural understanding of the country and people whose language is being studied, and to develop a camaraderie among Francophile."

The club will have movies, discussions, slides of France, a French styled dinner and studies of the differences of the various regions and customs of France. In short, this club will add to the total learning of the French language.

The club will be opened to all interested students. Details of the first organizational meeting will be published later.
