

Busy weekend planned for Brevard

This weekend will be a busy one on the Brevard campus. This decidedly is not going to be another "weary winter weekend." Friday and Saturday there is to be a track meet in Knoxville, Tennessee, and Friday night a formal recital will be held for Lynn Taylor and Rick Poole. Saturday night there will also be a basketball game in Spartanburg, South Carolina.

Most important of all, though, this is the weekend of hearts and flowers. For many, many years tradition has honored February 14 as Valentine's Day. This year the Nemos and Delphians are jointly sponsoring a Valentine's Dance. It is to be semi-formal and will be held Saturday evening, February 12, from eight p.m. until twelve midnight in Dunham Auditorium. "Truth" will provide music for the occasion. Nemos are decorating and serving refreshments and the Delphians have selected a court from which a queen will be crowned.

Tommy Lippard, Jimmy Copeland, Linda Hartman, Amy Hinson, Adele Dickieson, Ann Reed, and Lou Ellen Young are selling tickets. They are two dollars in advance and two and a half dollars at the door.

Panel discussion

Members of the administration, faculty, and student body will participate in a panel discussion on Feb. 17th at 7:30 P. M. on the second floor of the Student Union. The main topic of discussion will be "The Christian College and Its Role In Our Society."

After the members of the panel have responded to several questions, the floor will be open to members of the audience.

BC to participate in Scholar Lecture program

Brevard College is to participate in the Thomas F. Staley Foundation Distinguished Christian Scholar Lecture Program, according to an announcement made by President Robert A. Davis. A grant has been made by the foundation to present outstanding Christian leaders to speak at Brevard College.

Speakers for this series will be The Rev. Ed Kilbourne from Atlanta Ga., a "minister at large" of the United Methodist Church. He is a most versatile person and a unique individual for many reasons. Mr. Kilbourne has played the guitar for 16 years and speaks the language of music. Through this medium he brings Christian understanding and enjoyment to every generation. The Rev. Kilbourne will speak at Brevard College on February 23.

Our second speaker is Bishop Ole E. Borgan, who will speak at Brevard College on April 5. He is the new Episcopal leader of some 43,000 United Methodists in Northern Europe. This area that he heads includes Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Estonia. Bishop Borgen graduated from Brevard College in 1958, summa cum laude. He also holds de-

The convention will be held April 13 - 15, on the Rochester Junior College campus in Rochester, Minnesota.

Phi Theta Kappa is the national honorary fraternity for junior college students with chapters all over the nation. Brevard's Delta Pi chapter was chosen earlier this year as regional head of the chapters in North and South Carolina.
