

Jesus March and Rally upcoming April 16 in Columbia, S. C.

A massive Jesus March and Rally has been scheduled for April 16 in Columbia, South Carolina. Sponsor of the program is People For Christ, a group of Christian college students.

Both the South Carolina House and Senate have passed a joint resolution proclaiming April 16 to be SPIRITUAL AWARENESS DAY throughout the state.

The Jesus March begins formulating at approximately 12:30 p. m. on the corner of Richland and Main Streets in Columbia. Thousands of Christians will be on hand with banners and posters which proclaim the Christian message. The marchers will parade in complete silence until the last segment of the route down Main Street.

Dr. Hines resides in Brevard

Brevard is fortunate to have as one of its citizens Dr. E. A. Hines, Jr. Dr. Hines was for many years a member of the staff of the Mayo Clinic, where he pursued work in diseases of the heart and blood vessels. Several new clinic syndromes were recognized by Dr. Hines, as well as the cold presser blood pressure test which is now being used successfully to predict future heart attacks.

In recent conversation with Dr. Hines, the Mayo Clinic was discussed, clearing up many misconceptions. One of the most interesting facets of this type of group medicine is the financial arrangement. Receipts from the general bills of the patients are divided to pay salaries and upkeep on the physical plant. Then the remainder of the fund is used for research and education. Another of the common misconceptions about the Mayo Clinic is that it is impersonal. Dr. Hines refuted this idea by stating that "the patient as an individual is the first consideration." Among the other advantages of group medicine pointed out are "superior care for the individual patient at a lower cost, learning from other specialists, and integrated research facilities."

The Mayo Clinic is of special interest to the Brevard students planning to attend the Phi Theta Kappa Convention in Rochester, Minn. But, after an informative talk with Dr. Hines, this subject is proven relevant to many people.

Then march leaders have plans for unified singing and "Jesus cheers" as the group approaches the State Capitol Building.

A two-hour long Jesus Rally will commence on the steps of the State House. Jack Sparks, former college professor who founded the Christian World Liberation Front on the Berkeley campus of the University of California, is to be the main speaker. Also listed on the program is a former Hell's Angel, Rick Carreno, who was recently featured on the nationally televised Billy Graham Crusade from Chicago.

People For Christ expects thousands of Christians from throughout the state and nation to converge on Columbia for the event. The sponsors invite adult and youth groups from throughout the state to participate in the Jesus March and Rally.

Florida tour ends

By Anne Tuttle

As you are walking around campus, you see little mouse ears moving over the bushes, and around the trees of the Music Building do not become startled. The Rodents haven't come from some of the older dorms, they are merely Glee Club Members back from the Florida Glee Club tour.

You see, the Glee Club went to Disney World and invaded the place for a whole day. Out of the 35,000 people there, one could pick out Brevard College students by bubbling enthusiasm exhibited by little groups in the long lines. They also performed in front of Cinderella's Castle.

Disney World proved the favorite stopping place for most of the group. Favorite places for Glee Club members were the Haunted Mansion, the Hall of Presidents and Small World. Every one seemed to enjoy the rides and upon meeting other members of the Glee Club they would exchange information on what to see and ride.

Upon getting on the bus at 8:00 p.m. the tired, sunburned, and freckled members looked like little mice and ducks. Hats were on almost every head and bags or hats were all over the bus. Tee shirts with mice on them were bought and worn for the rest of the tour.

So nothing unusual is going on at Brevard, it's just a little mousey situation.

"The Bad Seed" plays Sunday

On Sunday, April 9 "The Bad Seed" will be shown in room 125 of the McLarty - Goodson building at 8 p. m. for 55c admission.

"The Bad Seed" advances the idea that a bad woman's evil can be inherited by her daughter, and it is this shocking realization that compels Nancy Kelly, portraying the mother, to act as she does. The ending, which can't be told, has been one of Hollywood's best kept secrets. It was actually filmed behind locked doors.

Piedmont Chamber Orchestra performs for final Lyceum

On Thursday, April 6, the final Lyceum program of the season was presented in Dunham Auditorium at 8:15 p. m. It featured the Piedmont Chamber Orchestra with Nicholas Harsanyi as Music Director and Conductor.

Aided by a Rockefeller Foundation grant, the Piedmont Chamber Orchestra has been touring in the Southeast since 1968, presenting concerts to audiences of all ages. In collaboration with the Moravian Music Foundation, the Orchestra participated last September, with great success, in the inaugural festivities of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington with a performance of works by early American composers.

The 26-member Orchestra has a basic strength of nineteen strings, augmented by solo winds, brass and percussion as needed. Its functions include in-school concerts and demonstrations, formal concerts sponsored by community music organizations and educational institutions, and the performance of contemporary literature including new works by young composers.

Based at the North Carolina School of the Arts, the core of the Orchestra is drawn from the faculty of the School of Music. In addition to the nationally-known Clarion Wind Quintet, which is in residence at the School, other members of the Orchestra include those who have been associated with leading symphony orchestras and chamber music ensembles, many of whom are soloists in their own right.

The Hungarian-born conductor of the Piedmont Chamber Orchestra and Dean of the School of Music of the North Carolina School of the Arts has made distinguished contributions to American musical life. He was the Music Director and Conductor of the Princeton Chamber Orchestra, Trenton, New Jersey Symphony, the Bach Aria Group and served as Music Director of the Interlochen Arts Academy Orchestra until he came to the School of the Arts in June, 1971.

West, Bruce and Laing form new rock sound

(From The Charlotte Observer, By Mike Jahn)

Cream effectively began the concept of heavy rock supergroups. Mountain seemed its logical successor. Now Mountain has disbanded and two of its members, Leslie West and Corky Laing have joined with a former member of Cream, Jack Bruce, in the formation of a new band, West, Bruce, and Laing.

The group was put together in London following a recent European tour by Mountain. New songs are being written and a 30-city American tour is being mapped out. There are no immediate recording plans.

West, Bruce and Laing will feature West on guitar, Bruce on bass, and Laing on drums. West and Bruce will share vocals. Felix Pappalardi, bassist and founding member of Mountain, will concentrate on "writing, and developing other projects," according to a spokesman for West, Bruce and Laing.

Atco Records, meantime has released "Live Cream, Volume II," a live-in-concert LP. Songs include are "Desserted Cities of the Heart," "White Room," "Politician," "Tides of Brave Ulysses," "Sunshine of Your Love," and "Hiway." All are Cream songs except the last, a Freddie King tune.

Jethro Tull's "Thick As A Brick" album, will be released in April by Reprise records. The disc has no banding, no spaces between songs, and the cover is a montage of newspaper headlines.

"Thick As A Brick" is said to be concerned with the plight of the individual in mechanized society; not the most novel idea, but it should be interesting to see what the group does with it.

Phi Theta Kappa taps members

On Thursday evening, April 6, Phi Theta Kappa Honor Fraternity tapped new members. Eligible students included Pam Boyce, Mary Helen Huggins, Leslie Siddaway, John Williams, Louella Whicker, Michael Robinson, Jane Craig, Larry Drayton, Kathy Newton, Tom Livingston, Gail Crenshaw, Jim DeVore, Elaine Henderson, and Gene Hehemann.
