A kick-off dinner meeting to launch the Brevard College 1972-73 Fund Drive was held Monday night, Feb. 12 in the A. G. Myers Cafeteria at the College.

While the meeting was primarily for Transylvania county workers, representatives from other areas attended. Ray Simmons, Vice President of Brevard's First Union National Bank, and Chairman of the Brevard College Development Council presided and stated that the year's Fund Drive would be expanded to include most of Western North Carolina. Dr. Robert A. Davis, President of Brevard College spoke briefly about the College's position in the community, its value in education, its contributions to the local economy, and the need for additional funds with which to help Brevard College meet its current needs.

Art Exhibit Now In Coltrane Bldg.

Presently on display in the gallery of the Coltrane Art Building is an exhibit by Mr. Park's design class. As a project each student invented a cereal product and their problem in design was to carry this product through all stages of its production. First they designed the box that is to contain the cereal, showing its size, weight, volume, and intricate measurements. Then they wrote a detailed paper describing the cost, method, and extent of the production of this cereal product. The next step in their problem was to paint pictures of various advertising media of the product, including newspaper advertising, billboards, and grocery store display. This exhibit is a very unusual one and Mr. Park, being very proud of his design class invites all to come by the Art Building and see this display which will remain until March 15.

Encounter Week To Begin March 5

With the winds of March will come the most interesting week of the spring semester. The honorable Reverend Lawrence McCleskey will be the featured speaker at an informal required convocation on Monday, March 5 at 7:30 p. m. This event will begin Encounter Week 1973.

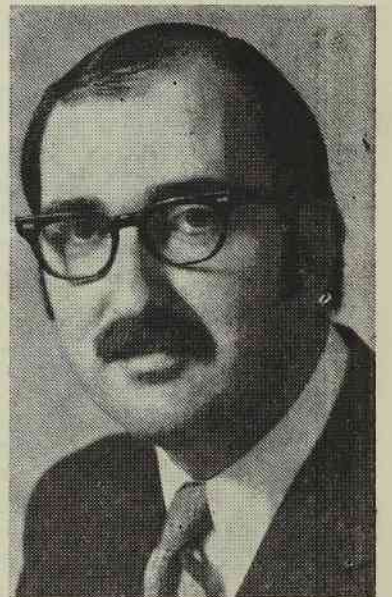

Encounter Week was up until 1971 referred to as "Pyler Religious Emphasis Week." It was named in honor of the late Dr. A. W. Pyler who, prior to his death in 1956, devoted his life to the United Methodist Church in Western North Carolina. As a charter member of the Board of Trustees of the college, he showed great interest in the institution's growth and usefulness to the Church. In 1959, Mrs. Pyler established a fund which annually brings an outstanding speaker to the Brevard College Campus.

The theme for Encounter Week 1973 will be "Closing the Consciousness Gap." Monday evening Dr. McCleskey's speech will be titled "The Way I See It." Following the convocation Dr. McCleskey will meet with any individuals for the discussion of any desired topic. Tuesday evening at 6:30 p. m. there will be an informal lecture in the Student Union. The title of this lecture will be "Without Apology For God." After the lecture, those who attend will divide into groups to discuss certain specific topics. Wednesday morning at 10:00 Dr. McCleskey will hold another lecture in the Student Union. This lecture will concern "How Close Are You to Where You Got In?" Once again, after the lecture those in attendance will divide for discussion. Wednesday evening at 6:30 p. m. the Students of Brevard College will display a program of their own. The program will be presented by Kappa Chi. It will be called Encounter '73. It will close at approximately 9:30 p. m. Following, there will be a communion service. This will conclude Encounter Week 1973.

Encounter Week is held to benefit the students of Brevard College. Mr. McCleskey, in addition to his lectures, will be on campus these three days. His personal office will be at McLarty Goodson #210. His office hours will be Tuesday afternoon from 2:00 - 4:00. Please devote yourself and those around you to this week of activity and to this most capable individual.

Winter And Summer Student Jobs In Europe

Thousands of paying student jobs are again available in Europe for this winter and next summer. Winter jobs are available now in Swiss, German, Austrian, and French ski resorts, restaurants and hotels. Jobs for next summer are available throughout Europe in resorts, restaurants, hotels, hospitals, factories, offices, shops and on farms for those who like outdoor work. Most of the jobs are located in Switzerland, France, Germany and Spain, but selected positions are available in other countries. Standard wages are always paid, and free room and board are provided with most of the jobs.

This simply means that any college student willing to work can earn a trip to Europe. A few weeks work at a paying job in Europe more than pays for the new round-trip winter youth fare to Europe and a few more weeks on the job earns more than enough money for travelling around Europe. The Student Overseas Services (SOS), a Luxembourg student organization, will obtain a job, a work permit, visa, and any other necessary working papers required for any college student who applies early enough.

Any student may obtain application forms, job listings and descriptions, and the SOS Handbook on earning a trip to Europe by sending their name, address, educational institution, and $1 (for addressing, handling and postage) to either Placement Office, Student Overseas Services, 22 Ave. de la Liberte, Luxembourg - Europe, or to SOS, Box 5173, Santa Barbara, California 93108. Applications for winter jobs in Europe should be sent immediately, and all job applications should be sent early enough to allow the SOS Placement Office ample time to process job arrangements and working papers.
