

THE CLARION

THE VOICE OF BREVARD COLLEGE STUDENTS

EDITION 4

Tuesday, October 30, 1979

VOLUME 47

The new royalty at B.C. Homecoming Queen Carol Werner and Princess Sandy Seagle (left). (Photo by Mary Doyle)

Queen Chosen

By Jana L. Miller

This year's Homecoming proved to be a success. As Alumni and current students reunited, Homecoming became a reality.

The 6-0 victory over Montreat-Anderson Saturday started the opening festivities. The Homecoming court was presented during half-time of the game; Carol Werner and freshmen princess Sandy Seagle were crowned. Members of the sophomore court included Pam Bullock, Kathy Ereth, and Maridee Hawkins. Freshmen members were Tracy Kale, Marty Rothell, and Tish Witlock.

The Homecoming dance, featuring "Time Square" was hosted by the social board. The dance proved to be the highlight of the evening with the girls in their formals and the guys in their suits, adding a touch of class to the occasion.

Pre-Registration Set

By Yvonne Roop

Pre-registration for the Spring Semester will begin November 7, 1979. Each student needs to meet with his advisor prior to the seventh (7th). The advisor will have the mid-term grades and will help organize the classes that you need to take. The pre-registration papers should be signed by your advisor and taken to Mrs. Roy's office. You will need to take these papers by "personally" to clear up any problems that you may have before they are completed.

Comedy On Way

By Donna Hooper

Stephen Sondheim's riotous musical comedy, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" will be staged Nov. 1, 2, 3, 4 and also Nov. 8, 9, 10 in the Barn Theater. All performance times will be at 8:15 p.m. except for the 2:30 p.m. show on Nov. 4.

Directed by Sam Cope, the Ancient Roman setting finds the slave Pseudolus (Loren Mott) scheming to gain freedom. Thus, the entire play revolves around conniving efforts toward Pseudolus' independence.

Amplifying the frolicsome surroundings is a three-man orchestra comprised of piano (Sam Cope), percussion (Eastman Curtis), and Bass (Preston Woodruff).

A cast consisting of twenty-four Brevard College students including the following, complete the remaining characters in the play.

Pseudolus' master, Hero (Marty Nichols), is the son of sinister Senny (Steve Collins) and domineering wife, Domina (Liz Mongiovi). Their slave in chief is the hysterical Hysterium (Jeff Davis). Hero falls in love with Philia (Karen Quick), a courtesan in the house of Marcus Lycus (Tony Bradshaw).

Other courtesans are Donna Mulford, Beverly Gibby, Gaye Dimmick, Melissa Lambert, Barbara Bonitz, Melanie Grefe'. Also Glenda Flinchum, Katy Waters, Fonda Keener, Kathy Jones, Clara Allen, and Tempe White.

Frank Lattimore plays Captain Miles Gloriosus, a famous Roman soldier. While Patrick Michael plays Erronius, an old man searching for his long lost children.

Proteans (a group of characters who assume many roles - soldiers, servants, etc.) are played by Rod Currin, Robert Shepherd, and Don Whitmore.

All costumes are designed by Mrs. Cope while the set was designed by Mr. Cope. The Theater Arts Workshop assisted Mr. Cope in building the set.

Admission to Brevard College students is free but seats must be reserved since a limited number are available. Tickets are $3.00 and must be purchased by the public in advance. Seat and ticket reservations can be made in Beam Administration Building.

"Those who do not come will miss a great show!" Mr. Cope added.

Campus Thefts Rise

By Ronnie Chapman

Members of the Brevard College community have become increasingly alarmed recently over the number of thefts occurring on campus. Several students have reported thefts of either money or valuables (with values often in excess of 100 dollars).

Director of Security, O'Hara, says that the vast majority of thefts are related directly to the negligence of students themselves.

O'Hara added that students should report thefts to their resident tutors immediately, and them to the security office as quickly as possible.

As preventive measures, Director O'Hara advises that students have all valuables registered with security so that identification will be possible. Also, students should refrain from carrying large sums of money, as well as avoiding leaving money or checkbooks lying around in unlocked rooms. O'Hara also suggests that roommates should be more careful in regard to whether or not a room has been left open. This increase in caution by students should result in fewer opportunities for valuables to be stolen.

In conclusion, Director O'Hara said that only 13 students have registered valuables out of over 700 who lives on campus. He stated that this lack of concern until after something has been stolen is the main thing which must be changed to prevent future crimes.

Fall sunlight drenches Brevard College campus. WATCH OUT!! Snow and clouds aren't far away. (Photo by Steve Rabey)