

The Clarion

First Edition

Tuesday, September 16, 1980

page 1

Fall Colloquia Begins Today

Mr. Stuart Udall, former Secretary of Interior.

by Sandy Hulbert

Who says Brevard does not have any culture? Starting September 16, Brevard College, along with a grant from the Sperry and Hutchinson Foundation, will sponsor the first annual Fall Colloquia. The event will begin at noon on September 16 and continue all day the 17th. It will consist of countless activities beginning with mountain folk music, folk dancing and many discussions on interesting topics.

This year Brevard is honored with the presence of Mr. Stuart Udall, the former Secretary of Interior under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson. He is also known for the best-seller, "The Energy Balloon," and is now firmly established as one of the country's most requested lecturers on energy/environmental problems. His presentation will be on, "Where Will The Golden Eagle Land In 2000?" Udall surveys the quality of life today and asks, "What happened to the American Dream?" He is not a doomsday forecaster who says it is too late, but he knows the sordid facts cannot be ignored.

Beginning at 9:00 a.m. on the following day, numerous presentations have been scheduled with the help of Miss Nicholson, coordinator of Fall Colloquia. These programs will deal with a variety of eminent topics. There are also many displays and exhibits. Recreational activities have also been planned including various hikes and dorm competition.

"Bread Eating" Record Highlights "Derby Day"

By Vicki Harmon

hard hitting and good defense.

Every year at Brevard College a tradition known as Derby Day, the battle of the dorms, unites both faculty and students in fun filled activities.

On Saturday, August 30th a large and enthusiastic crowd participated in the "Olympic" events. Each dorm was represented by a team wearing t-shirts with the dorm's name. During the morning the Izzy - Dizzy Relay took place Green won it for the men and East Beam for the women. Ross Hall won the volleyball tournament. On Monday, Taylor clinched a victory in softball. The faculty challenged Taylor to a game played September 5th. The teachers defeated them 14-1 using

The overall competition for the men was very close. The winner was Green. The tradition of the dorm that catches the derby generally held true again. East Beam excelled in all their events and were the overall champs for the women.

Quite a bit of attention was placed on the 'Bread Eating Contest'. Over forty people dared to eat as much bread as possible within one minute. The rules stated that nothing could be drunk in that time span. Two men came out in a tie, John Estridge and Zelik Tennenbaum, eating six slices of bread each. This amazing task has been sent to the Guinness Book of World Records.

SEPTEMBER 16, 1980

12:00 - 1:30 PM, MOUNTAIN FOLK MUSIC, A.G. Myers Dining Hall.

4:30 - 7:30 PM, MOUNTAIN FOLK MUSIC AND FOLK DANCING, In Front of A.G. Myers Dining Hall.

8:00 PM, Boshamer Gymnasium, STUART UDALL, Former Secretary of Interior, Where Will The Golden Eagle Land in 2000?

Reception for Mr. Udall and all program participants following the address, Second Floor, Sims Student Union.

SEPTEMBER 17, 1980

9:00 - 9:50 AM
SESSION I

The History of Pisgah National Forest, Dr. Harley Jolley, Professor of History, Mars Hill College, Mars Hill, NC, McLarty-Goodson 226.

Film Making in Appalachia, Herbert E. Smith, Appalshop Films, Whitesburg, KY, McLarty-Goodson 118.

The Socio-Economic Importance of Our Forests, Peg Boland, U.S. Forest Service, Supervisor's Office, Asheville, McLarty-Goodson 222.

Music of Western North Carolina, David Holt, Warren Wilson College, Swannanoa, NC, Game Room, Student Union.

I Have Traveled This Road, Bette Sellers, Author and Chairman Department of Humanities, Young Harris College, Young Harris, GA, McLarty-Goodson 138.

Birds of the Pisgah National Forest, Ben Sanders, U.S. Forest Service, Supervisor's Office, Gainesville, GA, McLarty-Goodson 113.

Fall Mountain Flora Identification, Charles Moore, Blue Ridge Technical Institute, Hendersonville, NC, McLarty-Goodson 102.

Ecological Crisis and Christian Values, Larry Yoder, Chaplain, Lenoir-Rhyne College, Hickory, NC, McLarty-Goodson 216.

The Role of Birds in Art, Tim Murray, Professor of Art, Brevard College, Library.

10:00 - 10:50 AM
SESSION II

Repeat of Session I Presentations.

11:00 - 1:00 PM
Boshamer Gymnasium

PANEL

Where Will The Golden Eagle Land in 2000? - The Role Of the Forest, George Olson - Moderator, Supervisor of National Forests in North Carolina.

PANEL PARTICIPANTS
What is the Role of National Forest Lands As Sources of Petroleum Products?, AMACO Production Company, Washington, D.C.

What is the Role of National Forest Lands For Recreation?, Jerry Coutant, U.S. Forest Service Director of Recreation, Regional Office, Atlanta GA.

What is the Role of National Forest Lands for Wilderness Areas?, Ted Snyder, Past National President Sierra Club.

What is the Status of Wilderness Legislation?, Dr. Garrett Smathers, National Park Service, Representing Congressman Lamar Gudger.

What Are The Uses of Timber From National Forest Lands?, Charles Woodard, President Southern Appalachian Multiple Use Council.

1:00 - 2:00 PM
Picnic Lunch for Students, Mountain Music During Lunch.

2:00 - 5:00 PM
DISPLAYS AND EXHIBITS
Invitational Art Exhibit
Library

MULTIMEDIA PRESENTATION, Ken Chamlee, Brevard College, Slides, music and narration emphasizing the natural beauty and recreational values of the Pisgah National Forest, Library.

HIKES

Golden Eagle Country, Ben Sanders, U.S. Forest Service, Pisgah National Forest.

Forest Ecosystems, Charles Moore, Blue Ridge Technical Institute, King Creek.

TOURS OF PISGAH NATIONAL FOREST, James Reid, District Ranger Pisgah National Forest, Sites illustrating timber, wildlife, land use, recreation, and water management practice will be visited.

RECREATIONAL COMPETITIONS BETWEEN RESIDENCE HALLS
Pole Raising

Tubing

4:30 - 5:30 PM
Dinner for Students

8:00 - 11:00 PM
COFFEE HOUSE
Appalachian Music and Storytelling, David Holt, Warren Wilson College, Second Floor - Student Union.

Music Center Renovation Underway

By Missi Ellison

This first semester of school is going to be a hectic one for the Fine Arts department here at Brevard - most notably for those majoring or interested in music. Thanks to the cooperation of the people at the First United Methodist Church just across campus, music majors tramp to their classes through the nursery and down the steps into Sunday School classrooms.

Music students are not the only persons affected by the much needed renovation of the Dunham

Music Center, however. To quote Dr. Larry Whatley of the music faculty, "My office consists of two brief cases, a rather large box, and a '64 Chevrolet which used to be a green color splashed with rust and is now the other way around." Those interested in contacting Dr. Whatley might profit by checking the office hours posted on his rear fender.

The art department, located - to the rear of the library is just now getting under way with this semester's round of activities. There are quite a number of talented and interesting artists here at Brevard - it's usually worthwhile to drop in and take a look around occasionally.

In drama, tryouts for the production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" have just concluded and rehearsals have begun. We are anticipating yet another fine production by our consistently excellent drama department. Everyone make plans to attend.

People connected with the Fine Arts departments here in Brevard are very excited about the upcoming season; it promises to be not only fulfilling but a lot of fun. Join us.