

NEWS BRIEFS

CHORAL WORKSHOP AND CONCERT SET

The Winthrop College Choral of Rock Hill, S.C., will appear in Dunham Auditorium at BC on Friday, March 30, at 8:15 p.m. for a one-hour concert. There is no admission charge. The concert is sponsored by the BC Department of Music.

SCHOLARSHIPS OFFERED BY MATH/SCI FACULTY

The faculty and staff of the Math and Science Division will again be awarding scholarships for math and/or science majors.

Approximately $1,000 will be awarded to sophomores returning for the fall 1990 semester. The number and amount of awards will be dependent on the number of deserving applicants and will not be based solely on academic performance. Freshmen currently following a math and/or science track who wish to be considered for the award should inquire with Mrs. Whitmire in the Math/Science Division Office, 150A Moore Science Building. Applications must be completed by April 6. Recipients will be announced at Honors Day, April 25.

COME BLOW YOUR HORN

Coming up in April will be Neil Simon's comedy, "Come Blow Your Horn," presented by the acting classes of Brevard College and the Fine Arts Division. Simon's first comedy, a classic about growing up in New York, will be presented the last weekend of April on Friday and Saturday nights at 8:15 p.m. and Sunday afternoon at 3 in the Barn Theatre.

BC PERCUSSION ENSEMBLE PERFORMS

The BC Percussion Ensemble performed for the N.C. Percussive Arts Society Festival at East Carolina University on March 24. This is the third consecutive year that the BC ensemble has been invited to perform for this event. The group is led by Diane Daniel and includes LisaMarie Brooks, Mark Cornick, Gary Guthrie and Rachel Welch.

SPRINGFEST PLANS ANNOUNCED

This year's Springfest is scheduled for Saturday, April 28 at BC. Events similar to Derby Day begin at 11 a.m. in front of Jones Dorm, followed by a picnic, then more games continue into the afternoon. The day is capped off by a DJ dance in the gym. In addition, Jeff Battle says Friday events have been added: an Action Adventure Movie Night following a Food Fight (honest) behind the cafeteria. Battle will show three action/adventure movies in the Rutherford Room, 8 p.m.-2 a.m.

SIMS ART CENTER TO HOST SHOW/WORKSHOP

This week, neon artist Jerry Noe of Chapel Hill, N.C. will be on campus for a three-day workshop, March 28-30. Noe, a long-time friend of BC's Tim Murray, is also the father of BC sophomore Jerod Noe.

Also, Sims will host the Annual Juried High School Visual Arts Exhibition.

Then, from April 21-May 4, Sims will be the site of the Third Annual Transylvania Fine Art and Craft Exhibition.

IN MEMORY OF KIM BOYLE

The Brevard College campus community was saddened by the news of the death of Kim Boyle, a Class of 1989 graduate, who was special to many of us. New reports indicate she died last weekend in a tragic auto accident in Florida where she was attending college. Kim will be remembered as a vivacious and positive-spirited basketball player, team manager and Clarion reporter. We will miss her.

Students enjoy Cumberland

by Dorian Storelli
Clarion Reporter

The overall reaction from all the students who went with Jan Gillean and the Browns on the Cumberland Island trip was that the experience was "breath-taking."

For the students who went last year, they also experienced a breath-taking time -- seeing new things as they explored the long empty beaches and hiked the forest trails. Shawn Young, a newcomer on this trip, said, "It was great to run 15 miles and not see another person."

Other students were amazed at the wild animals, how beautiful they were, but Jan and some other students met a resident of the island who was a raccoon hunter. He showed them how to listen for them and wait for their footsteps. He had lots of wires and machines he used.

The group arrived there with great weather and left with the same. They saw a full moon every night, and spent one night on the beach with a bonfire.

The best way to sum up the trip is to say everyone felt they had found a part of themselves they had never found before.

Poets Corner

Hiding

I hide my sadness
through laughter & jokes;
I hide behind pills,
behind liquids & smokes.

I hide from the truth
believing a lie;
I hide from the pain -
too proud to cry.

I hide in my work,
I hide in my play;
I hide in tomorrow
to hide from today.

I hide in the future;
I hide in the past.
I hide behind others
to protect my mask.

But by hiding from you
I've come to see
That all of my life
I've been hiding from me.
