

Campus Life

Spring Production Comes to a Close

Jon Ostendorff
Editor

The Brevard College theater closed its spring production on Saturday April 27. The play, "Night, Mother" by Marsha Norman, was directed by theater Professor Robert A. White. The two female characters were played by Aymi Franklin as Jessie and Emily Holbrook as Mother. The plot of the play is an extremely serious one that deals with two individuals' struggle with life, sickness, and suicide.

The play is centered around the last hours of Jessie's life. Jessie is an epileptic woman who has made a decision to end her life through suicide. In the beginning of the play, she informs her mother of her plans to shoot herself in a couple of hours with her dead father's pistol. Jessie's mother does not believe the threat made by her daughter. The play builds to a climactic ending with Mother pounding on the door of Jessie's room, pleading for her to come out, and then a shot is heard, signaling the end of Jessie's life.

The play was performed with no intermission. The two actresses handled the challenge of remaining on stage and in character for the entire run very well.

Aymi Frankin and Emily Holbrook perform in "Night Mother" (photo by J. Ostendorff)

Even though the audiences were smaller than usual due to a lack of advertisement, the production was a success. The people who did come to see the show left with a realistic insight into the lives of Jessie and her Mother.

New RA'S Announced

The new Resident Hall Assistants for the fall of 1996 have been chosen.

They are:

Beam- Dan McCaffrey, Mari Rondeli, Raly Antoniotti, James Moyers, Sath Sourisak, Cathy McClain, and Anna La Pointe.

Jones- Summer Kershaw, Ashley Tetterton, Claudia Argiro, Christin Dennison, Yurie Matsuzaki, Heidi Rodenbaugh, and Suzette Charles.

Taylor- Chris Stowe, Manabu Okawa, Jeff Stroud.

Green- Nathan Nakikian, Patrick Hersom, Clay Brookins, and Stacy Luckie.

Congratulations! We wish them the best for next year.

Delta Pi Wraps up Busy and Rewarding Year

Rhonda L. Parker
Staff Writer

On Wednesday, March 27, 48 students were inducted into Phi Theta Kappa, the largest number ever to be inducted before an overflowing crowd in the Reserve Dining Room of Myers Dining Hall. Kurt Crowhurst, Associate Dean of Campus Life and Director of Twister Productions, was the guest speaker for the event.

The ceremony was followed by the pledge of new members and an official welcome by Rhuemma Miller, faculty advisor. The new members of PTK are: Andro Abashidze, Shelley Ballard, Natsuko Bansho, Laura Bratton, Betl Bulluck, Kristen Cabe, Summer Calder, Brian Coduto, Jeremy Cox, Brooke Dean, Kim DeWitt, Julie Dover, Drew Downey, Eduardo Espinel, Marjorie Hoppin, Gustavo Keener, Amit Khemani, Yurie Matsuzaki, Edward McCarley, Cathy McClain, Jameson Moyers, Nathan Nahikian, Manabu Okawa, Chie Osumi, Yuka Otani, Jo Lynn Park, Rhonda Parker, Amanda Parris, Donna Pimental, Amanda Pryor, Traci Riggs, Michael Riley, Sarah Rogers, Peter Rutski, Miki Sakai, Nathan Shambo, Vernon Shoaf, Kayne Spencer, Konstantin Stoyanov, Tim Strong, Jeff Stroud, Lisa Talbot, Seth Thompson, Kelly Wayland, Sarah Williams, Jessica Wolf, and Rachel Yu.

Delta Pi also participated in the Carolinas' Regional Convention which was held at Hilton Head Island, S.C. on March 8-10. Members who attended are Kate Crawford and Mark Casson. At the Convention, Delta Pi received three awards. Delta Pi maintained its three-star status; Amy McDonald was inducted into the Carolinas Hall of Honor; and the Fellowship Essay, which was submitted for the Hallmark awards, received Honorable Mention.

On Wednesday, April 24, the last official meeting of the semester was held in order to elect officers for 1996-97. After hearing campaign speeches of those who were running for office, six new officers were elected. They are: President, Cathy McClain; Vice President (Honors Topic), Manabu Okawa; V.P. (Service Topic), Jeff Stroud; V.P. (Communications), Rhonda Parker; V.P. (Finance), Summer Calder; V.P. (Campus Affairs), Shelley Ballard; and V.P. (Membership), Konstantin Stoyanov.

The crowning event of the semester occurred when Andro Abashidze attended the national convention in Washington, DC on April 27 to receive the Phi Theta Kappa Scholarship for full tuition offered by High Point College before the great debate between Sam Donaldson and George Will. Andro, who has a 4.0 GPA, will be attending High Point College in the fall. Congratulations Andro and Delta Pi for your achievements.

Amy McDonald and Kate Crawford proudly display honors won at recent convention. (photo by K. Caswell)