

BC Women's Soccer Back to Back National Champions

by Danny Breece

On a cold, wet, Sunday morning, the Women's soccer team stepped on to the sloppy field of Essex Community College with one objective: to restrain Champlain College of Vermont from stealing their National Championship title. The ladies achieved this task behind the foot of Keshia Prescott. With 4 minutes and 28 seconds to go, in the contest, Keshia put an elegant left footed shot passed the bewildered Champlain goal keeper. To go along with their National Championship trophy, many of the ladies received additional awards. Three of the ladies were named to the All-Tournament Team: Kelly Sisley, Wendy Pastor, and Sheila Connelly. Most Valuable Player awards were won by Bridget D'Arata, Joy Nsubuga, and Keisha Prescott who won the Tournament MVP award. Likewise winning an award was Coach Bartlinski for Coach of the Tournament, who was very delighted with the way his team adapted to the rugged conditions the team had to perform under. This was a remarkable season for the ladies winning their second consecutive National Championship. With a great core of returning players, next year should be no exception to the success

New Dean Brings Promise for the Future of Brevard

BC Press Release

Robert A. Bauslaugh, professor and former chairman of classics at Emory University, will join the BC faculty in January 1998 as vice president for academic affairs, dean of faculty, and professor of ancient history and classics.

In announcing the appointment, Brevard College President J. Thomas Bertrand said, "Dr. Bauslaugh has excited our faculty with his agile intelligence, irrepressible vitality, collegial spirit, and keen interest in student and faculty development. He is a first-rate scholar and award-winning teacher who also has uncommon skills in organization and in motivating others. He understands the tremendous potential of this College to make a distinctive mark in higher education. He is equipped to help us refine and consolidate the strong liberal arts core of our curriculum and to extend our international outreach. We look forward to his joining us soon."

After a national search by the College, Bauslaugh was unanimously recommended by the faculty committee advising the president on a replacement for former dean Charles Teague, who left Brevard in July to become president of Spartanburg Methodist College. This semester Dr. Thomas Tait has served as dean of the faculty. Tait now coordinates Brevard College's new four-year program in exercise science.

A specialist in ancient history and the archeology of the Mediterranean world, the 48-year-old Bauslaugh is the author of The Concept of Neutrality in Classical Greece and a book on Greek and Roman coinage, as well as 20 articles and reviews on Greek history and numismatics. He is president of the Atlanta Society of the American School of Classical Studies in Athens, Greece. He has conducted archaeological excavations in the ancient Greek city of Corinth. At Emory, he has taught courses in the Greek and Latin languages, Greek archaeology, ancient cities, Greek and Roman law, and mythology. He has served on a host of key committees in Emory college and chaired the college-wide committee to revise the Freshman Seminar Program. His teaching at Emory has been recognized with teaching awards from the newly elected members of Phi Beta Kappa, by a Sears Faculty Writing Fellowship, and by a Lilly Postdoctoral Teaching Award.

The Brevard community anxiously awaits the arrival of Dr. Robert A. Bauslaugh.
